CENTRAL GEORGIA GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, INC.
POST OFFICE BOX 2024
WARNER ROBINS, GEORGIA 31099-2024

ORGANIZATION: The CENTRAL GEORGIA GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, INC. was organized in October 1978 by James T. Martin of Warner Robins, Georgia. In February 1981 the Society was incorporated as a non-profit organization under the law of the State of Georgia. The U. S. Internal Revenue Service has determined that the Society is a tax-exempt organization under Section 501©(3), U. S. Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The Society is governed by a Board of Directors consisting of the elected and appointed officers and six elected directors.

AREA: The Society's geographical area of primary interest consists of twenty-seven contiguous counties located in central Georgia. They are: BALDWIN, BIBB, BLECKLEY, CRAWFORD, CRISP, DODGE, DOOLY, HOUSTON, JOHNSON, JONES, LAMAR, LAURENS, MACON, MONROE, MONTGOMERY, PEACH, PIKE, PULASKI, TAYLOR, TELFAIR, TREUTLEN, TWIGGS, UPSON, WASHINGTON, WHEELER, WILCOX and WILKINSON.

PURPOSE: The purposes for which the corporation is organized are:

> To collect, preserve and disseminate knowledge and information with reference to genealogical and related historical, biographical and heraldic data;
> To inculcate and promote interest in research in these fields;
> To stimulate and provide instruction in the use of efficient methods and the adherence to principles of accuracy and thoroughness in research;
> To champion ethical standards and to discourage and oppose incompetent and disreputable practices or researchers;
> To foster careful documentation and otherwise promote scholarly writing;
> To issue publications, and;
> To promote the collection and preservation of local records which are of genealogical or historical value.

MEMBERSHIP: Membership in the Society is open to any person interested in promoting the objectives stated above. Annual dues for 2000 are $20.00 for individual membership or $25.00 for family membership (husband and wife, or two related individuals in the same household).

TRAINING: At least twice each year the Society conducts classes for beginner genealogists. These classes are free for members in good standing.

WORKSHOP: The Society plans to hold an all-day workshop once each year, complete with exhibits, for members and the public. The registration fee will be set to cover the Society's cost and may vary from year to year, depending upon prices charged for food, meeting facilities, speaker fees, etc.

PROJECTS: The Society undertakes special projects for preservation of genealogical and historical information, such as: microfilming old newspapers, abstracting and publishing county court records, federal census records, cemetery records, etc.

PUBLICATIONS: The Society publishes a monthly NEWSLETTER and a QUARTERLY. The QUARTERLY is published four times per year as number 1 thru 4 and is mailed to all members in good standing. The annual volume number represents the years in existence. Many other societies, who are members, receive our QUARTERLY. QUERIES, from members only, are published in the QUARTERLY free of charge. There is no limit as to the number of queries that a member may submit. BOOK REVIEWS are published when a copy of the book has been received by the Society. After review these books are donated to the Genealogical and Historical Room, Washington Memorial Library, Macon, Georgia, whose holdings is one of the largest in the southeast. Members are encouraged to submit ARTICLES FOR PUBLICATION in the QUARTERLY, and extra long articles may be serialized. The QUARTERLY is not copyrighted and anyone is welcome to make proper use of the contents; however, the use of articles quoted from other published sources is prohibited without permission from the copyright holder. Appropriate credit will be appreciated. The QUARTERLY is not sold by subscription. Current and back issues may be purchased from the Society when available. The Society welcomes the opportunity to publish FAMILY PEDIGREE CHARTS for members. Minimum coverage of four generations is required. Our computer-designed charts provide for as much information on the fifth generation as the second, third and fourth – most charts provide much less. Give us as much complete information as possible on available forms and separate paper.

MEETINGS: The Society holds regular monthly meetings with planned programs. These meetings are currently held at the Flint Electric Building, 1600 Elberta Road, Warner Robins, Georgia at 7.00 P.M. on the third Thursday of each month. In addition to the program, time permitting, a question and answer session is usually conducted for the benefit of members who have a problem with their research, or who have found a better way for accomplishing their work. Visitors and guests are always welcome to attend regular meetings of the Society. Our current membership covers many states and we invite you to join our Society. For a membership application write to the Corresponding Secretary or call (912) 953-3114.

I apologized in our last issue for publishing the "Minutes of the Baldwin County Ordinary Court" without identifying the author, who as it turns out, was Cheryl Aultman. Sorry Cheryl, but thanks very much for contributing the information for our readers. Ken Thomas, who writes a genealogy column for the Atlanta Journal & Constitution, found some information in Cheryl's data that he had been seeking for two years. He called Cheryl to thank her and got additional information from her.

Thanks also for the other contributors of the information in this issue. I would like to say a special thanks to a couple of people. First, thanks to Linda Ward Meadows for her interesting article on the recent pardon of David Boyd, a revolutionary soldier, and one of her ancestors. Linda is a history teacher and lives in [redacted]. Linda, thanks so much for contributing to our Quarterly. I would like to encourage other members, especially those not in the Warner Robins area, to contribute information about their ancestors for publication.

Second, I would like to say a BIG thanks to Helen Hudson for her efforts in providing the surname index for the four Quarterlies for 1999. That is a BIG job and Helen volunteers for the job every year. Thanks, Helen!

Census time is almost upon us. We will all be receiving our census forms within the next few weeks. In about 70 years our descendants will be looking for us in these census records, so fill them out correctly and thoroughly, but above all else, fill them out and return them to the Census Bureau!

Have a Happy New Millennium!

1999 Pardon for Revolutionary Soldier Balances Scales of Justice

Family history research often uncovers interesting tidbits about one's ancestors. Revolutionary Soldier, David Boyd, is a case in point. Boyd supported the patriot cause as a soldier from SC & VA. He initially fought as part of a VA unit and later helped the Americans under several officers in strategic areas of fighting in SC and GA. He served under Col. Pinckney in the First Regiment and was transferred to Col. Clarke and sent to Augusta. During 1779, he was a footman with Capt. Hugh Whiteside and a horseman under captains Mills and Knox. Prior to the fall of Charleston, Boyd saw duty under the command of Col. Leroy Hammond. His subsequent assignments were with General Sumter in 1780, and captains George Cooper and Hugh Knox in 1781 (Pension #R1085).

After the Revolution, David Boyd settled in Old Washington County, GA. His property was later cut into Montgomery and Tattnall counties. This veteran's unusual story begins in 1791, and concerns an argument with a neighbor. The History of Old Montgomery County, GA to 1918 by Robert S. Davis, Jr. mentions a January 1792 court case in which Boyd was tried for "cattle stealing." The cow in question belonged to John Moses, one of David Boyd's neighbors.

According to the court records mentioned in Davis's compilation of Montgomery County records, Boyd and Moses had the same livestock brand and had an argument some time prior to the theft charge. In January 1792, a jury of his peers found David Boyd guilty of having the cow in his herd, but asked the judge for mercy during the sentencing phase of the trial. Jury members included: William Cooksey, Reuben Dickson, Isaac Brown, Richard Bassett, Alexander Tenner, David Glenn (foreman), David Fluker, Simon Salter, John Evans, William Collens, John Campbell, and William W. Murrey.

The exact verdict read: "We find the Prisoner guilty but we heartily recommend him to mercy."

Instead of showing mercy, the judge, whose name is not listed anywhere on the court documents housed in the Telamon Cuyler Collection at the University of GA, sentenced David Boyd to serve almost a month in jail, as well as other punishments. Those other measures of punishment included 2 hours in the stocks and pillory at the end of the jail time and a beating on the back with 39 lashes before returning to jail for this procedure to be repeated over 2 successive days for a total of 117 lashes and 6 hours in the stocks. The judge ruled that Boyd should also be branded on the shoulder with an R, for "rustler." Following these indignities, David Boyd was to pay a fine and be released.

David Boyd requested a pardon from Governor Edward Telfair, firmly maintaining his innocence and his desire to prevent such public humiliation for his family and himself. Forty-eight men, who knew him well, attested to David Boyd's innocence in this criminal activity as they compiled a separate petition requesting a pardon. The Robert S. Davis, Jr. book about Montgomery County erroneously excludes several names of petitioners. The Telamon Cuyler Collection at UGA does have the complete list of 48 petitioners, who asked Governor Edward Telfair for mercy in David Boyd's case in 1792.

One of the 1792 petitioners who signed on behalf of Boyd was Jared Irwin, who 4 years later would serve the first of his two terms as Gov. of GA. Although Jared Irwin did later bestow land grants upon David Boyd, there is no known record of any pardon that either Irwin or Telfair ever gave to David Boyd.

When Boyd descendants learned of this ordeal endured by their ancestor, they sought to right an injustice of over 200 years ago. After compiling documentation to augment their claims, they petitioned the GA Board of Pardons and Paroles for a pardon for their ancestor.

Modern-day petitioners maintained that David Boyd's 8th Amendment protections against cruel and unusual punishment and excessive fines had been denied him by the judge's sentencing. The Bill of Rights went into effect in GA on 15 December 1791 and Article VI, Section 2 of the US Constitution bound states to enforce Constitutional law. While one could argue that news of the ratification of the Bill of Rights probably traveled slowly in 1792, the expectations of the individual protections secured in these first ten Amendments had been long-awaited. Georgians knew that there would be an amendment protecting against cruel and unusual punishment. The judge in this case should have sentenced David Boyd within Constitutional limits.

The State Board of Pardons and Paroles members reviewed evidence submitted to them and after 2 years granted a posthumous pardon to David Boyd. This is only the 4th such pardon granted by the Board in its 56-year existence, and the only pardon ever granted by it for a criminal conviction in the 1700s (GA State Board of Pardons and Paroles).

It was the Board's belief that in the "best interest of justice," this Pardon should be granted. State Pardon and Paroles Board members did not address the issue of violation of 8th Amendment freedoms, nor was David Boyd's innocence or guilt examined. The Pardon states that:

> "While the determination and definition of cruel and unusual rests with the climate of the times, it could be argued that the sentence set forth to be inflicted upon David Boyd was indeed cruel and unusual punishment. It is fact that records pertaining to the final disposition of this case were destroyed by fire in Sandersville, Georgia by General William Tecumseh Sherman in 1864 and no record exists as to whether or not the aforementioned sentence was indeed carried out."

On 25 June 1999, David Boyd received a "full and unconditional pardon" from the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. This action was "in compliance with the Constitutional and statuary authority" of the Board. Board members who signed this historic document included Chairman Walter S. Ray and members Bobby K. Whitworth, Garfield Hammonds, Jr., Dr. Betty Ann Cook, and Dr. Eugene P. Walker (Pardon).

Although the 4th great grandson who initiated this pardon effort now feels that he can eat steak without feelings of guilt, the road to achieving a pardon for his ancestor was a rocky one. Friends and relatives had a field day teasing this descendant about his "cattle thief." Jesting by friends included their renting cows and having cheese mailed to the descendant. Gift of a black and white large plywood milk cow also initiated a request for a bill of sale from the descendant. True irony lies in the fact that the descendant's name is Russell.

As for David Boyd, whether punishment was administered, or not, he lived in what became Montgomery, then Tattnall county until his death in the early 1820s. On 20 December 1793 appearing before Montgomery County Justice of the Peace, Owen Fort, David gave a sworn affidavit stating that he saw Francis Spiva deliver to Spiva's son-in-law, Sands Stanley, a slave girl named Lucey. Apparently David's sworn word still carried some merit.

This transaction and the registration of David Boyd's brand on 2 Nov 1795, are on file in an early GA brand book located at the GA Historical Society in Savannah, GA. David Boyd registered his brand as a "Swallowfork & under (word is unclear) in the left ear; and a Swallowfork in the right ear." Boyd apparently realized the value of having a registered brand that was uniquely his (GA brand book).

An affidavit by Dyer C. Sykes sworn on 18 May 1856, before Tattnall County's justice of the peace, Council Anderson, stated that David Boyd and his wife, Sarah Cauthorn Boyd, had been well-known to him. Sykes made this statement to corroborate the pension claims of David Boyd's two surviving children, Aden Boyd and Blansett Jones, who sought a pension as orphans of a deceased Revolutionary Soldier. Their pension application was denied since they were both adults with families of their own at the time of said application. Dyer Sykes affirmed that David Boyd and his wife Sarah had died in Tattnall County within a few weeks of each other in 1823 or 1824 (#R1085). The 1820 Federal Census includes the last documented census entry for David Boyd's household in Tattnall County, GA (Tattnall County, GA US Census Index).

While this Revolutionary Soldier's story is unique, one might ask why a Pardon was even sought for a conviction of so long ago. The answer is simple. Petitioners made efforts to obtain a Pardon for David Boyd because they believed that no stone should be left unturned in securing a good name. To ignore this travesty of justice was not even an option. Finally, a Revolutionary Soldier's good name has been vindicated and the scales of justice are once again balanced after 207 years. Now, they pray that David Boyd may rest in peace. He is gone, but his story will never be forgotten.

ANDERSONVILLE PRISON

Contributed by William A. Mills

In 1992, while doing genealogical research via microfilm of old 1874 local newspapers, I came across an extensive newspaper article written by L. M. Park, a 15 year old guard who was stationed at Andersonville almost from the first establishment of the prison. The end of this article says "L. M. Park in SOUTHERN MAGAZINE". I transcribed this article from the 16 May 1874 edition of the HOUSTON HOME JOURNAL from Perry, Georgia. This article is entitled:

THE REBEL PRISON PEN AT ANDERSONVILLE, GEORGIA

It is the duty of every lover of justice, when he sees a gross and injurious calumny put into circulation which he is able to refute from direct knowledge, to challenge it at once, and more especially if it is aimed at his own people, and meant to be used to their injury. It is true that in those regions for which calumnies are prepared, they are too generally prepared to the truth, even when the truth is offered; but the duty of affirming the truth is no less stringent on those who are able to affirm it. It is with this view that the following paper is written to correct certain statements which recently appeared in Appleton's Journal, professing to relate facts gleaned during a trip to Andersonville, GA, concerning the Confederate military prison there and the treatment of Federal prisoners. Instead of reviewing the article in detail, I will merely take up, one by one, the principal false statements.

THE WATER THE PRISONERS DRANK: It was my fortune to be stationed at Andersonville almost from the first establishment of the prison until the removal to Millen, GA, or Camp Lawton, and I unhesitatingly pronounce the statement that "the prisoners had to drink the water that conveyed the offal of three camps and two large bakeries off before it reached them" utterly false. The guards drank of the same water that quenched the prisoners' thirst, cooked their food with the same water, the same large stream or creek flowing through the encampment of guards and stockade, or "prison pen" as the Northern writers sneeringly call it. The camps of the guards all faced the stream, while their sinks were far off in the rear, and orders were most strict not to muddy the stream, much less defile it in any way. As to the offal of the bakeries, these being presided over by prisoners on parole, and who did the cooking for the entire prison, I do not believe they would pollute the water their brother prisoners had to drink. As rapidly as they could, the prisoners dug wells; in all some two hundred were dug, and purer, sweeter, cold water I never drank. Being on the staff of Captain Wirz, I had free access to the prison at all times day or night, and whenever I wished to quench my thirst, I went inside the prison and drank from one of these wells.

THAT PROVIDENTIAL SPRING SO-CALLED: That "Providential Spring" is an impious myth. I have been in the prison a thousand times and never before heard it so called, except on reading the Herald's account of the anniversary of the Fulton Street Prayer Meeting, when some pharisaically pious old brother recited a long rigmarole about this same "Providential Spring", and said it was planted there in direct answer to prayer. The gist of this spring tale is that when prisoners' sickness and suffering from thirst was at its greatest, all at once this spring burst forth in direct answer to prayer. Was there ever such blasphemy? If such was the case, why does the spring still exist after it has answered its purpose? Do those rocks of Horeb struck by Moses to slake the children of Israel's thirst still exist, and at this late day the water rush forth? It is all a cock-and-bull story, and unlike Sternes, one of the poorest I ever heard.

TWO FEDERAL AND THREE REBEL PROVIDENTIAL SPRINGS: If my recollection serves me right, there was yet another of these same "Providential Springs" inside the stockade, and that Providence who sends the rain alike on the just and the unjust gave unto the wicked and ungodly Rebels three of these

"Providential Springs" and I am sure he did not plant ours in answer to prayer, for we had just as leave drank the branch water.

WHY THERE WERE NO BARRACKS: The Confederate Government has always been harshly assailed for its want of humanity in not having barracks to house the prisoners from the sun and rains. A more senseless hue and cry was never heard. How was it possible to saw timber into planks without saw-mills? There were two water-power mills distant three and six miles respectively, but such rude primitive affairs undeserving the name. The nearest steam saw-mill was twenty-three miles distant (near Smithville), the next at Reynolds, about fifty miles distant; but the great bulk of lumber used, fully two-thirds, was brought from Gordon, a distance of eighty miles. Even if these mills had had the capacity to supply the necessary amount of lumber, it would still have been impossible to have provided barracks for the prisoners, as all the available engines of all the railroads in the Confederacy were taxed to their utmost capacity in transporting supplies for the army in the field and to the prisons. But few even of the officers of the guard had shanties, these few were built of slabs and sheeting, which every one knows is the refuse of the mills. And even though there was no lack of lumber, when we remember that there was but one solitary manufactory of cut nails in the limits of the Confederacy, certainly no blame could be attached to the authorities for not furnishing more comfortable quarters for them. Nearly every building in the encampment was built of rough logs and covered with clap-boards split from the tree and held to their places by poles. The force of these statements is readily appreciated by every intelligent and unprejudiced mind. Besides, is it customary for any nation in time of war to treat their prisoners in a more humane manner than their own soldiers in the field? The inquiry becomes pertinent when we reflect that during the last two years of the war, there was not a tent of any description to be found in any of the armies of the Confederacy save such as were captured from the Federals.

HOW THE STOCKADE WAS BUILT: The stockade was built by the negroes belonging to the neighboring farms, either hired or pressed into sevice by the Confederate authorities to cut down the immense pine trees growing on the ground intended for the stockade; and these same trees were then cut into proper lengths and hewn on the spot, then planted in a ditch dug four feet deep to receive them. In this manner was the stockade made. Before it was completed the prisoners were forwarded in great numbers, and it being impossible to keep them in the cars, we had to put them in the completed end of the stockade and double the guard, our whole force kept ever ready day and night for the slightest alarm; for at first we only had the shattered remnants of two regiments, the 26th of Alabama and the 55th of Georgia, numbering in all, some three hundred and fifty men. This constituted the guard. In about ten days thereafter my regiment, 1st Georgia Reserves, composed of young boys and old men, (I was not sixteen) just organized, were sent to take the place of the 26th Alabama and 55th Georgia, so they could be sent to the front for duty. In a few days after our arrival the 2d, 3d and 4th Georgia Reserves, all composed of lads and hoary-headed men, for we were reduced to the strait of "robbing the cradle and the grave for men to make soldiers", joined us rapidly as they could be organized. The author of "Jaunt in the South" says: "When the stockade was occupied in 1864, there was not a tree nor a blade of grass within it. Its reddish sand was entirely barren, and not the smallest particle of green showed itself. But now the surface is covered completely with underbrush; a rich growth of bushes, trees and plants has covered the entire area, and where before there was a dreary desert, there is now a wild and luxurious garden." I have before said the ground was covered with a pine forest, and the trees were utilized to build the stockade. Any one who has traveled south of Macon, GA, knows the pine is abundant, and in fact, almost the only tree. In these forests the ground is covered with wire grass and other grass peculiar to them.

WHY ANDERSONVILLE WAS SELECTED: The main reasons for locating the prison at Andersonville after its first being thought the most secure place in the Confederacy from the Yankee cavalry raids, was the abundance of water and timber, wherewith to construct the prison rapidly, and its being the very heart of the grain growing section of the South, which would make it less inconvenient to supply with provisions such a vast multitude.

MALICIOUS EXHIBITION IN OHIO STATE CAPITOL: In the summer of 1867 I set out for New York, being resolved to live no longer in the South where negroes were being placed over us by Yankee bayonets, and in their vernacular, "de bottom rail was agittin' on de top er de fence." I travelled very leisurely and stopped in every city of any note on my route, and kept eyes and ears wide open to drink in everything. I visited the Ohio State Capitol at Columbus, and in the museum of curiosities were some small paper boxes carefully preserved in a glass case, containing what purported to be the exact quality and quatity of ration issued per diem at Andersonville. In one box was about a pint of coarse unbolted meal, and in another about one table-spoonful of rice, and still another box with about two table-spoons of black peas; and in a tiny little box was about one-eighth of a tea-spoonful of salt. Underneath it is all explained, and says among other things: "When rice was given the peas were withheld, but when they had no rice this kind of peas were given instead." It is needless to say how my blood boiled at this atrocious, malicious and damnably false exhibition. No wonder the hatred of the North is kept alive, and the bloody chasm continually widened by such wicked and uncharitable displays as this in one of the largest and most enlightened States in the Union.

RATIONS TO GUARDS AND PRISONERS THE SAME: I was for three months a clerk in the commissary department at Andersonville, and it was my business to weigh out rations to the guards and prisoners alike, and I solemnly assert that the prisoners got ounce for ounce and pound for pound of just the same quantity and quality of food as did the guards. The State authorities of Ohio ought to blush at thus traducing and slandering a fallen foe, and never in the first instance to have placed on exhibition for preservation as truth this fabrication of partisan hate. No Andersonville prisoner, unless he were lost to all sense of honor and shame, could make such a statement as that the rations were no more than the specimens shown.

WHY THE PRISONERS WERE FED ON CORN BREAD: It has been charged as a crying shame upon the Confederacy by ignorant humanitarians that the South might at least have given the prisoners wheat bread occasionally; that they rarely ate corn bread in their own land, and that the bread we issued was made of meal so coarse and unsifted that it caused dysentery, thereby largely increasing the mortality. It is well known now that the South depends very largely, and with shame I confess it, on the West for her bread and bacon, and the cotton belt proper makes but little pretensions of raising wheat, for the climate is said is unsuited; so that the region round about Andersonville, being in the very heart of the cotton-growing section of Georgia, such a thing as feeding prisoners on flour was impossible, and the little flour that was obtained as tithes (one-tenth of all the crops raised was required by our Government) was devoted entirely to the use of the hospital. Not only was this true of the territory immediately surrounding Andersonville, but of the whole South. Our armies were unsupplied with flour, and perhaps not one family in fifty throughout the whole land enjoyed that luxury. The guards ate the same bread, or rather meal; the bread eaten by the prisoners being baked by the regular bakers (prisoners detailed for that purpose), while the guards did their own cooking. The meal, however, was the same, and both were unsifted and in truth very coarse. I ate the unsifted meal always.

THE DEAD LINE: Another cry of holy horror is raised every time the "Dead Line" is mentioned, as if this dead-line was prima facie evidence that the Southerners were as barbarous and cruel a race as ever blotted the face of the earth. The civilized North, however, had the same barbarous dead-line in their prisons, and in fact originated the device. It was a necessity with us, for we never had at one time more than 1200 to 1500 guards in the four regiments fit for duty, and we had the keeping at one time of nearly 40,000 prisoners. By a concerted plan of onslaught, they could at any time have scaled the walls, captured the guards, and with the weapons of their keepers overrun the entire country, which, all south of Dalton, GA, (100 miles north of Atlanta), was left wholly unprotected save by gray-haired old men and young boys; and the women, children and negroes, who were the only hope for the making of crops for our armies, would have been helplessly at their mercy. This dead line was clearly defined and consisted of stakes driven into the ground twenty feet from the walls of the stockade, and on these stakes was a three-inch strip of plant nailed all around the inside of the prison. They were all notified that a step beyond this line was not prudent, and they were not so unwise as to venture beyond that limit.

BURIAL OF DEAD PRISONERS: Speaking of the number and burial of the dead, the writer of the aforesaid "Jaunt" says: "The authorities at the stockade who had charge of the interment of the Federal dead, did their work rudely, digging pits and burying them in", then he goes on: "It is hard to comprehend the true value of the number 14,000; its magnitude eludes you. Fourteen thousand men form a great mob, or a great army, or a great town. Here you have 14,000 men lying silently in a few acres. Within these bounds men have suffered as greatly as have any since the world began." In reply to this I would merely say, the burial was the work of prisoners paroled especially for the purpose, both the hauling of the bodies to the ground, the digging of the graves and even the records of the names were all done by paroled prisoners. Books and a tent were provided soley for the latter purpose. Owing to the weakness of the guard, paroled prisoners were employed for this duty, as we could spare no men for the purpose; and if the work was rudely or carelessly done, the blame rests with them. As compensation they were given double rations and almost entire freedom. As to the number of dead we admit that it is great, but statistics show that more Southern soldiers died in Northern prisons than Northern soldiers in Southern prisons. In vain have Northern writers tried to disprove this fact.

MORTALITY NO GREATER AMONG PRISONERS THAN GUARD: Great as was the mortality among the prisoners, it was no greater in proportion to the number than that of the guards, which is fully attested by the reports of the surgeon in charge. Besides, it is well-known to every soul that can or does read, that the Confederacy, through their agent, Judge Ould, made frequent and tireless efforts to get the United States Government, through their agent, General Butler, to exchange. But no, the Federal authorities would not hear to it; but acting on the avowed and promulgated idea that the South, being blockaded, could not recruit her armies from foreign lands, while to the North the whole of Europe was opened, they cruelly determined not to exchange, so as to detain our soldiers from again fighting them, well knowing even then we had made our last conscription (17 to 50 years) and when those we had were killed up or in prison, we could of course be overpowered. This was their cold-blooded, brutal policy; and closely did they stick to it even till were almost literally wiped out, while the men they had fighting us were in the most part hired substitutes, drafted men and foreign hirelings.

PRINCIPAL CAUSE OF MORTALITY: Farther, as to the mortality among the prisoners, let it be remembered that a majority of the deaths caused in our prisons was want of proper medicines, which we did not have and could not get, except by blockade-running. Had the Federal Government any of the milk of human kindness in its omposition, it would have acceded to our earnest request to take cotton in exchange for drugs to administer their own dying soldiers. Their immense manufactories were lying idle for the want of cotton, while we had it but could not use it. But as these self-same drugs and medicines would also be applied to the relief of our own sick soldiers, they determined it would be to their advantage to let all die alike, knowing that the South could get no more men to supply the places of the sick and dying, and these they had imprisoned, and so refused all overtures. After using every effort and exhausting every argument to get an exchange, we proposed as we had no medicines and could get none, except what we accidentally ran in through the blockade from Europe, (they being declared contraband and always confiscated whenever captured by the blockade fleet) we proposed to turn over to them all their sick, without requiring man for man, but giving them absolutely up, if the United States would only send vessels for transporting them. This was done at Camp Lawton (Millen, GA), after the prison was removed from Andersonville for greater security.

EXTRACTS FROM AN OFFICER'S DIARY: From the private journal of a Confederate officer high in command, both at Andersonville and other Southern prisons, I glean the annexed facts, the first bearing directly upon the foregoing:

"At one time an order came to Camp Lawton to prepare 2000 men for exchange. The order from Richmond was to select first the wounded, next the oldest prisoners and sickly, filling up with healthy men according to date. This partly went first to Savannah, as arranged, but by some mistake the ships were at Charleston, and the poor wretches had to be taken there; and every one who knew the Southern railroads in those days, and the difficulty or rather impossibility to procure food for such a crowd along the road, will know what those poor fellows suffered. At Charleston they were refused, the commissioner declaring that he was not going to exchange able-bodied men for such specimens of humanity. (The term used was more brutal.) Finding him obdurate, Colonel Ord requested him to take them without exchange. This he refused with a sneering laugh, and the crowd was ordered back. Never did the writer of this witness such woe-begone countenances, in which misery and hopelessness were more strongly painted, than shown by these poor fellows on their return. And the curses leveled against the rulers who thus treated the defenders of their country were fearful, although certainly well deserved. As the stockade gate closed upon them the surgeon in charge said to the writer: "Poor fellows! the world has closed upon more than half of them; their disappointment will be their death-knell." His words proved true. Who murdered these men? Let history answer the question.

CLOTHING FOR PRISONERS: Again I extract from the aforesaid journal: The Northerners talk much of the cruelty of the South to Federal prisoners. At one time the unfortunate prisoners were almost without clothing, indeed some hardly had as much as common decency required. The South could not provide them, not being able to clothe their own men. An application was made to Seward. The reply was that "the Federal Government did not supply clothing to prisoners of war." Luckily for the poor fellows, a society in New York took the matter in hand, and several bales of clothing and cases of shoes were forwarded to Richmond, and divided in proportion to numbers, among the prisoners.

CRUELTY TO PRISONERS: A great deal has been said of the cruelty to the prisoners inside the stockade. This so-called cruelty was inflicted by their own men. In every prison a police and a chief, all from the prisoners, was appointed to keep order, see to the enforcement of the regulations, and inquire into all offenses, reporting through their chief to the Commandant. The punishment, such as were used in the Federal army, were ordered inflicted by these men, and some were of such a barbarous nature that they were prohibited with disgust by Confederate officers, who substituted milder and more humane ones; and yet the former were in common practice in the Federal armies, as testified by all the prisoners.

BLOOD-HOUNDS: Among the numerous lies invented by Northerners, and actually still believed by some parties to this day, was the story that the Confederates used to hunt and worry prisoners with bloodhounds. Now it is well-known that the breed of bloodhounds is nearly extinct in the South, and the large packs of those dogs alluded to by writers on the subject existed only in their imaginations, the prolific brains of penny-a-liners, whose vile and lying compositions now abound in any so-called respectable New York papers; no public man is safe from their ferocious attacks. Among the various specimens of this dog alluded to by the above named gentry, was the famous bloodhound of the Libby Prison. The writer has often seen this formidable animal, which certainly in his youth must have been as fine a specimen of the kind as could be met anywhere, but unfortunately for the thrilling portion of the accounts of his doings at the time of the war, the poor beast, worn out with old age with hardly a tooth in his head, wandered about a harmless, inoffensive creature. He was the property of the Commandant of Libby, who kept him because he was a pet dog of his father's, and there the brute lived a pensioner in his old age. As to his worrying men, he could not, had he even tried, have worried a child. The other prisons had none, not even as pensioners. Among the records history gives us of using those dogs to hunt men, it is stated that during the Florida war a number of bloodhounds were imported by the Federal Government from Cuba to hunt the Indians out of the Everglades, and that numbers of the natives were worried to death by the ferocious beasts. The writer does not deny that when a prisoner got out of the stockade trying to escape, if no clue could be obtained of his whereabouts, a few mongrel or half-breed fox hounds were used to track him, but the worrying was all done in the correspondent's own brain. However, it suited the times and made the article sell. The only complaint made is that this vile and malicious lie is still, if not believed, repeated by some who use it for party purposes, and thus help to keep up the bad feeling between the North and the South.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE GREAT MORTALITY: So never shake your gory locks or point your guilty finger at the South for the dead who died in Southern prisons. History, with impartial pen will place the guilt and censure of the damning deed at the door of the insulter of defenseless women, the plunder of New Orleans, and the murder of Mrs. Surratt, or as he is admiringly called by his worshippers, "the great Secretary", Edwin M. Stanton and their backers, the members of the United States Congress. History will also declare Captain Wirz to have been as foully and wilfully murdered as Mrs. Surratt. Though a rude profane man, he was never guilty of heartless cruelty while I was under him, a period of over three months, until the prisoners removal to Camp Lawton. The day will come when his memory will be fully vindicated; now the attemp is vain.I will add that this article has not been written either for fame or money. It has been prepared amid the pressure of business engagements and at necessarily detached intervals, and is prompted soley by a sense of duty to vindicate the cause of truth and the claims of an outraged people.

A brief explanation of some of the entries may help with your researach. The page number is penciled in the upper right hand corner of the page. If there was a half page with the carbon of a whole page behind it, it will be noted as page A or B of the same number. Many of the names appear more than once. Sometimes it was because the page filled and they just skipped over to another page. Some of these multiple entries were carbons of the origional but I did not want to take the ledger apart and reassemble it. Some of the writing was quite fancy therefore difficult to read. If you had a family member in the area for this time frame, check all possible spellings. Notes will give information on their place of residence where given. Other names appeared in some of the entries, they could be extended family members or people who were working for the account holder.

HOUSTON COUNTY, GEORGIA, GUARDIANS BOND ABSTRACTS
1858-1860

Compiled byWilliam A. Mills

[redacted]

The following abstracts are a portion of the publication entitled: HOUSTON COUNTY, GEORGIA, ADMINISTRATORS & GUARDIANS BOND ABSTRACTS 1852-1870. Copyright 1998 by William A. Mills.

The Houston County, Georgia, Court of Ordinary (Probate Court) would appoint guardians to care for minor children (usually orphans) or incompetent adults. In some cases, a parent was appointed as the guardian for his own child. In most cases, the court required the guardian to post a bond to ensure that he would properly complete his duties, and provide for the minor's needs. The bond required the guardian to pay a fee to the court if he failed to adequately care and provide for the minor. One or more persons were required to co-sign the bond as sureties or securities. These individuals were often members of the family or closely associated with the family.

CENTRAL GEORGIA GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, INC.
WARNER ROBINS, GEORGIA 31099-2024

ORGANIZATION: The CENTRAL GEORGIA GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, INC. was organized in October 1978 by James T. Martin of Warner Robins, Georgia. In February 1981 the Society was incorporated as a non-profit organization under the law of the State of Georgia. The U. S. Internal Revenue Service has determined that the Society is a tax-exempt organization under Section 501©(3), U. S. Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The Society is governed by a Board of Directors consisting of the elected and appointed officers and six elected directors.

AREA: The Society's geographical area of primary interest consists of twenty-seven contiguous counties located in central Georgia. They are: BALDWIN, BIBB, BLECKLEY, CRAWFORD, CRISP, DODGE, DOOLY, HOUSTON, JOHNSON, JONES, LAMAR, LAURENS, MACON, MONROE, MONTGOMERY, PEACH, PIKE, PULASKI, TAYLOR, TELFAIR, TREUTLEN, TWIGGS, UPSON, WASHINGTON, WHEELER, WILCOX and WILKINSON.

PURPOSE: The purposes for which the corporation is organized are:

To collect, preserve and disseminate knowledge and information with reference to genealogical and related historical, biographical and heraldic data;

To inculcate and promote interest in research in these fields;

To stimulate and provide instruction in the use of efficient methods and the adherence to principles of accuracy and thoroughness in research;

To champion ethical standards and to discourage and oppose incompetent and disreputable practices or researchers;

To foster careful documentation and otherwise promote scholarly writing;

To issue publications, and;

To promote the collection and preservation of local records which are of genealogical or historical value.

MEMBERSHIP: Membership in the Society is open to any person interested in promoting the objectives stated above. Annual dues for 2000 are $20.00 for individual membership or $25.00 for family membership (husband and wife, or two related individuals in the same household).

TRAINING: At least twice each year the Society conducts classes for beginner genealogists. These classes are free for members in good standing.

WORKSHOP: The Society plans to hold an all-day workshop once each year, complete with exhibits, for members and the public. The registration fee will be set to cover the Society's cost and may vary from year to year, depending upon prices charged for food, meeting facilities, speaker fees, etc.

PROJECTS: The Society undertakes special projects for preservation of genealogical and historical information, such as: microfilming old newspapers, abstracting and publishing county court records, federal census records, cemetery records, etc.

PUBLICATIONS: The Society publishes a monthly NEWSLETTER and a QUARTERLY. The QUARTERLY is published four times per year as number 1 thru 4 and is mailed to all members in good standing. The annual volume number represents the years in existence. Many other societies, who are members, receive our QUARTERLY. QUERIES, from members only, are published in the QUARTERLY free of charge. There is no limit as to the number of queries that a member may submit. BOOK REVIEWS are published when a copy of the book has been received by the Society. After review these books are donated to the Genealogical and Historical Room, Washington Memorial Library, Macon, Georgia, whose holdings is one of the largest in the southeast. Members are encouraged to submit ARTICLES FOR PUBLICATION in the QUARTERLY, and extra long articles may be serialized. The QUARTERLY is not copyrighted and anyone is welcome to make proper use of the contents; however, the use of articles quoted from other published sources is prohibited without permission from the copyright holder. Appropriate credit will be appreciated. The QUARTERLY is not sold by subscription. Current and back issues may be purchased from the Society when available. The Society welcomes the opportunity to publish FAMILY PEDIGREE CHARTS for members. Minimum coverage of four generations is required. Our computer-designed charts provide for as much information on the fifth generation as the second, third and fourth – most charts provide much less. Give us as much complete information as possible on available forms and separate paper.

MEETINGS: The Society holds regular monthly meetings with planned programs. These meetings are currently held at the Flint Electric Building, 1600 Elberta Road, Warner Robins, Georgia at 7.00 P.M. on the third Thursday of each month. In addition to the program, time permitting, a question and answer session is usually conducted for the benefit of members who have a problem with their research, or who have found a better way for accomplishing their work. Visitors and guests are always welcome to attend regular meetings of the Society. Our current membership covers many states and we invite you to join our Society. For a membership application write to the Corresponding Secretary or call (912) 953-3114.

EDITOR'S PAGE

As many of you know, my mother-in-law had open-heart surgery during mid-April and I have spent most of my time since then at the hospital in Macon or at her home in McRae. She had a bad time of it but about the first of June she developed an appetite and has gotten stronger with each passing day. She was dismissed by her surgeon late last week. We are grateful for your prayers! I am also grateful for the tremendous support provided by some of our members for this Quarterly! Millard Simmons and Helen S. Hudson went beyond the call of duty, and I thank them very much! Please continue to support your Quarterly by submitting articles for publication.

I would also like to thank Ann M. Carswell, one of my distant cousins and a fellow researcher of my McLeod and Willcox lines. She is a professor at Valdosta State College and has helped me with numerous questions concerning our mutual family lines. Last year she prepared the enclosed paper on General Mark Lea Willcox's letters to the governor of Georgia, and presented it at the 1999 Willcox Reunion at Little Ocmulgee State Park near McRae, GA. Ann, thanks a million for allowing us to provide this information to hundreds (if not thousands) of Willcox descendants in this area.

General Mark Lea Willcox was born in Chatham County, NC, on May 3, 1799, the eldest son of pioneers John and Mary (Lea) Willcox, and he died on April 25, 1852, in Telfair County. He moved with his parents to Georgia in the early 1800's, settling first in Wilkinson (now Pulaski) County and later moving into the Temperance community of Telfair County. He married Sarah Ann Elizabeth Coffee, daughter of General John E. Coffee (who cut the Coffee Road from Telfair County to present-day Tallahassee, FL), on February 23, 1828, in Telfair County. Sarah Ann Elizabeth has the distinction of being the only woman in Georgia, and probably the United States, who has a county named after both her husband and her father. Mark and Sarah Ann Willcox are buried at the "Old Willcox Burying Ground", a part of his original plantation near the Copeland community of Telfair (now Dodge) County.

I recently attended family reunions for the Willcox and Dennis families and had a wonderful time! I wish I had always been this interested in "family" because I attended many reunions when I was young. As most young boys I spent all of my time playing, eating and exploring. Oh, to be given a second chance to talk to my elders about "family"! I vow to try to teach my six grandsons about their family and leave them a written record to refer to if they ever get interested! I challenge each of you to do the same.

Selma Apl 4, 1945 1944 [written in blue in different handwriting off to the side] Darling Daught:

An admission that I have gotten to be about the worst letter writer anywhere. I have alibis, yes, but they are not good Excuses.

As the war goes into its beginning of the End freight movements have increased beyond any one's Expectations and has taxed the power and rolling stock of all railroads. If I could accept a few for placing Empties for anxious shippers I could grow rich. The Equipment is not all that is carrying its peak, but the men who work on railroads are also giving all they have in efforts- So I go home in the morning limp & Exhausted, fit only for the bed and in no mood to write letters.

Two years of this 7 nights a week has taken its toll of an old man and I am giving it up May first to accept day work in Savannah where I go to take charge of the Transfer and warehouse of the Mordeaai [?] Transfer Co. owned by Charles Mordeaai [?] (Babys husband]. Darling Daught:

An admission that I have gotten to be about the worst letter writer anywhere. I have alibis, yes, but they are not good Excuses.

As the war goes into its beginning of the End freight movements have increased beyond any one's Expectation and has taxed the power and rolling stock of all railroads. If I could accept a fee for placing Empties for anxious Shippers I could grow rich. The Equipment is not all that is carrying its peak, but the men who work on railroads are also giving all they have in Effort - so I go home in the morning limp & Exhausted, fit only for the bed and in no mood to write letters.

Two years of this 7 nights a week has taken its toll of an old man and I am giving it up May first to accept day work in Savannah. where I go to take charge of the Transfer and Warehouse of The Mordecai Transfer Co owned by Charles Mordecai (Babys husband). He has been importuning me by letter telephone & telegraph for 2 months to come to Savannah. The work is to be from 9 am to 5 p Saturday & Sundays off and will net me as much as I earn here & good as long as I live. All living Expense is provided us as well as a salary. Will see all of you Enroute to Savannah.

Emily did you receive money order I sent you for Callies dress?

Love to all of you Papa

EXCERPTS FROM "TRANSACTIONS OF THE SOUTHERN CENTRAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY" Published 1852

Contributed by Helen S. Hudson

Only the names of people mentioned in this publication and where the people lived if available are listed in this excerpt. If a county, city or state was not listed for an entry, it is noted as (No location). Another entry for that person may contain this information. Names listed with prefixes were published in that form. If a person appeared in the same catagory, on the same page, twice, I did not record their name again. Please note that this was an event to exhibit SOUTHERN products, not necessarily Georgia products and this was mentioned many times. Anything manufactured or originating in a northern state may have been entered but there was not a prize awarded for it.

I was struck by the similarity of entries and prizes found at the 1851 Fair and the fairs of today as I read through the pages of this book and amused by some of the entries that would never be found at a fair today.

Good luck in finding one of your ancestors at the Fair!

To His Excellency John Forsyth, Milledgeville, Georgia:

Headquarters
Jacksonville, July 3rd 1828

Sir

In obedience to your orders I have to inform Your Excellency that the orders for the General review was not received until the 21st April (nor issued until the 18th).
Consequently there was not time sufficient for the issuing of orders and the proper officers to receive them in time to meet the appointments of the Major General. I however issued the order immediately and urged the officers to try and have their respective commands at the place on time appointed for the General's review. I attended at the several courthouses on the days appointed and the excuse of all the officers I saw was that they did not receive this order in due time--which was the fact.
From the immense size of the 2d Brigate of the 6th Division and the irregularity of the mails through this Brigade, it is necessary the orders should (be) issued according to law.

I am very Respectfully
Your obediant M. Willcox Brg Insp

Hawkinsville June the 11th 1836

Governor Schley

Sir

There has been an unnecessary state of excitement produced amongst the Hawkinsville troop towards me from false reports made by my political enemies for the purpose of injuring me. I have just had an interview with all the officers except the Captain who are perfectly satisfied that the reports are false. I know that your Excellency would be willing any thing should be done that would give satisfaction and advance the best interest of the country from what has been the feelings of this Company. I have thought it best to order them on to Headquarters at Columbus as from the state of feelings lest I am unwilling to Command them. I have become as chagrined and mortified at the course of this company and from my bad health since I left Columbus that I ask your Excellency to be pleased to receive this as my resignation of the command confered on me while at Columbus. In the meantime I will repair to the place or trail usually passed by the Indian, and exercise all the powers confered on me by my commission as Brigar. Genl. To intercept their escape to Florida--I shall await your communication at Thomasville Thomas County which I hope you will make with as little delay as possible -

I am Dr. Sir very Respectfully

Hawkinsville 12th June 1836

Governor Schley

Dr Sir

I hastily addressed you a few lines yesterday under highly excited feelings in regard to the course the Pulaski Troop of Cavalry has pursued toward me. The true statements of the facts as far as I have been able to learn from the officers are these, they had been at considerable trouble and expense to equip themselves and wish to make a show of their company in Columbus, then they would have been attached to my command and taken any direction that would have most advanced the public interest and under all the circumstances I cannot consent them under my command. I hope the course I have pursued will meet your approbation and that my resignation will of the office confered me at Columbus will be received. For the several reasons I will detail to you. In the first place, I have all unpopularity of the Florida campaign to contend with, the scarcity of subsistence and forage, and the almost impossibility of drawing out the drafted men and arming them in that section where the people are in daily expectation of an attack from the Seminoles or Creek Indians. The near approach of the sickly season is another almost insurmountable obstacle to my carrying into effect your wishes. I will await your communication at Thomasville Thomas County. In the meantime I shall make every effort in my power to carry into effect the wishes of your excellency.

Telfair Co July 10th 1836

To His Excellency William Schley
Dr. Sir.

Since I have parted with Col Thos. Bell at the Chichasahatchie swamp I have deeemed it proper to give you a correct account or report of my course and conduct while at the swamp. I arrived at the swamp on the morning of the 5th July. At the request of both officers & men I took the command of the independent volunteers all from my Brigade except a few of the Baker Co Cavalry--amounting in all to 88 mounted men (all badly armed). I dismounted my command and detailed 12 men to guard our hourses, commenced the pursuit with the remaining 76 men arrived at the Battle ground and found that the Indians had returned since the Battle and buried their dead, after their manner. I arranged my small force in the best possible manner and commenced pursuing the trail from the Battle ground through almost an impenetrable thicket of undergrowth, mud and water. We had not pursued the track far before the right wing or one third of my small force in passing a pond got separated from me and did not again succeed in joining us until we reached our horse. I however determined to pursue on with the remaining 50 after 6 ½ hours laborious marching we came to their camp or place of resort. Since the Battle my advance guard head them going off through the water. I saw 3 or 4 myself running off at this place and during our pursuit through the hammocks we had taken some 20 or 25 head of horses and Indian ponies--Here from the late hour of the day, the number of horses we had captured, the unknown distance we had to retrace, and a wish to join our friends, I determined to return to our horses which we effected after several hours hard marching through the mud and swamps. Here permit me to say that both officers and men done their duty as good soliders--I was call(ed) on to know what disposition should be made with the horses & ponies as we had nothing to feed them with the whole of us relying on our own resources. I ordered the Indian ponies to be sold and the amount arising from the sale to be equally divided amongst the men engaged in capturing them. The horses to be kept that they might be identified by their proper owners. Col Bell seemed not to be satisfied with this order and thought I should have held them all subject to his order. I differed with him in regard to the Indian property. His men were extremely fortunate in identifying the horses taken from the Indians so much so that I had a horse brought forward belonging to one of my men which was proven without any difficulty to have been stolen by the Indians when in fact the Indians had never seen him. I am fearful the right owners will hardly ever get their horses. My men hold onto the Indian ponies and intend to do (so) until they are convinced they are not entitled to them, upon which subject I should like to hear from you as soon as possible. We considered it a free fight. We were all independent of Col Bell and not subject to his command. We were volunteers not in the U. S. Service but while there relying entirely on our resources.

I think I have some grounds to complain. I accepted the command below with the distinct understanding that I should have the command of all the forces sent in that direction. I am not disposed however to throw any obstacles in the way of our friends. I understood Genl Scott issued an order to take any public arms or stores the agent at Hawkinsville might have delivered to me or my orders. Please let me know if such is the fact. I believe you are aware that it was utterly impossible for me to raise any force from this exposed and highly excited section lying between the Creek & Seminoles Indians, and through a country where the Florida Troop had passed, taken and gave their receipts for whatever they wanted. I have now in my possession a number of them for collection. I have done the best I could for the protection of the country and to prevent them escape to Florida.

I am with the highest considerations yours & c

NB I have understood that Col Bell or some of his officers highly offended with me for going into the swamp without orders from Headquarters and may possibly give it an improper coloring.

His Excellency William Schley, Milledgeville, GA

Governor Schley
Dr. Sir

I have just returned with a scouting party of thirty men. We were out 10 or 12 days on the head waters of the Suwanne near the lines of the Counties of Irwin, Lowndes & Thomas. We found a considerable number of trails all leading in the direction of Florida. It appears after they get to the Allapaha they call a halt, for what purpose I am unable to conjecture unless it is to gain sufficient strength (to) get the necessary information in regard to the few forts and settlements not yet abandoned and then at one slam to desolate the whole country from there to the Seminoles. It is almost an every night occurrence for them to plunder some of the deserted houses and in several instances they have plundered the outhouses and farms without disturbing the family who were at home.

I have presumed to anticipate the wish of your Excellency and have ordered out from the counties of Irwin, Telfair & Appling one hundred & fifty men for twenty days for the purpose of protecting this exposed section. I have made the necessary arrangements in regard to subsistence, ammunition, etc. We are in great need of arms. The citizens are unwilling to spare their rifles when they think there is any probability of an attack from the Indians. I received information the other day entitled to credit that there was a large body seen near the Okefenoke swamp in Ware County. I am now of opinion there are a great many on their way to the Seminoles through this section of the State, the whole of my Brigade lie between the Creeks & Seminoles except the counties I have ordered the men from. I should have endeavored to have raised mounted men. If I had them at this season it would be impossible to support them near where the Indians pass. I hope to hear from your Excellency on the subject.

I am Dr. Sir most respectfully your obt. Servt.
Mark Willcox.

NB The want of arms have almost been insurmountable barrier in way of raising troops in this section.

Excuse my letter. Am severely attacked with measles and unable to sit up to write. I am unable to accompny the troops. M. W.

CENTRAL GEORGIA GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, INC.
WARNER ROBINS, GEORGIA 31099-2024

ORGANIZATION: The CENTRAL GEORGIA GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, INC. was organized in October 1978 by James T. Martin of Warner Robins, Georgia. In February 1981 the Society was incorporated as a non-profit organization under the law of the State of Georgia. The U. S. Internal Revenue Service has determined that the Society is a tax-exempt organization under Section 501©(3), U. S. Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The Society is governed by a Board of Directors consisting of the elected and appointed officers and six elected directors.

AREA: The Society's geographical area of primary interest consists of twenty-seven contiguous counties located in central Georgia. They are: BALDWIN, BIBB, BLECKLEY, CRAWFORD, CRISP, DODGE, DOOLY, HOUSTON, JOHNSON, JONES, LAMAR, LAURENS, MACON, MONROE, MONTGOMERY, PEACH, PIKE, PULASKI, TAYLOR, TELFAIR, TREUTLEN, TWIGGS, UPSON, WASHINGTON, WHEELER, WILCOX and WILKINSON.

PURPOSE: The purposes for which the corporation is organized are:

> To collect, preserve and disseminate knowledge and information with reference to genealogical and related historical, biographical and heraldic data;
> To inculcate and promote interest in research in these fields;
> To stimulate and provide instruction in the use of efficient methods and the adherence to principles of accuracy and thoroughness in research;
> To champion ethical standards and to discourage and oppose incompetent and disreputable practices or researchers;
> To foster careful documentation and otherwise promote scholarly writing;
> To issue publications, and;
> To promote the collection and preservation of local records which are of genealogical or historical value.

MEMBERSHIP: Membership in the Society is open to any person interested in promoting the objectives stated above. Annual dues for 2000 are $20.00 for individual membership or $25.00 for family membership (husband and wife, or two related individuals in the same household).

TRAINING: At least twice each year the Society conducts classes for beginner genealogists. These classes are free for members in good standing.

WORKSHOP: The Society plans to hold an all-day workshop once each year, complete with exhibits, for members and the public. The registration fee will be set to cover the Society's cost and may vary from year to year, depending upon prices charged for food, meeting facilities, speaker fees, etc.

PROJECTS: The Society undertakes special projects for preservation of genealogical and historical information, such as: microfilming old newspapers, abstracting and publishing county court records, federal census records, cemetery records, etc.

PUBLICATIONS: The Society publishes a monthly NEWSLETTER and a QUARTERLY. The QUARTERLY is published four times per year as number 1 thru 4 and is mailed to all members in good standing. The annual volume number represents the years in existence. Many other societies, who are members, receive our QUARTERLY. QUERIES, from members only, are published in the QUARTERLY free of charge. There is no limit as to the number of queries that a member may submit. BOOK REVIEWS are published when a copy of the book has been received by the Society. After review these books are donated to the Genealogical and Historical Room, Washington Memorial Library, Macon, Georgia, whose holdings is one of the largest in the southeast. Members are encouraged to submit ARTICLES FOR PUBLICATION in the QUARTERLY, and extra long articles may be serialized. The QUARTERLY is not copyrighted and anyone is welcome to make proper use of the contents; however, the use of articles quoted from other published sources is prohibited without permission from the copyright holder. Appropriate credit will be appreciated. The QUARTERLY is not sold by subscription. Current and back issues may be purchased from the Society when available. The Society welcomes the opportunity to publish FAMILY PEDIGREE CHARTS for members. Minimum coverage of four generations is required. Our computer-designed charts provide for as much information on the fifth generation as the second, third and fourth -- most charts provide much less. Give us as much complete information as possible on available forms and separate paper.

MEETINGS: The Society holds regular monthly meetings with planned programs. These meetings are currently held at the Flint Electric Building, 1600 Elberta Road, Warner Robins, Georgia at 7.00 P.M. on the third Thursday of each month. In addition to the program, time permitting, a question and answer session is usually conducted for the benefit of members who have a problem with their research, or who have found a better way for accomplishing their work. Visitors and guests are always welcome to attend regular meetings of the Society. Our current membership covers many states and we invite you to join our Society. For a membership application write to the Corresponding Secretary or call (912) 953-3114.

EDITOR'S PAGE

I would like to say a special thanks to everyone who contributed to this Quarterly. We have a number of new contributors who have done a great job of researching and reporting on their subjects. As I have said before, this is your Quarterly and I would like every one of you to send me an article now and again. Thanks so much for your support!

Prior to his death, Bobby Stokes gave the information on the 1832 Tax Digest of Crawford County, GA, to one of our members so we could publish it in our Quarterly. Although I did not know him, many of our members have told me about the outstanding genealogical works he has completed over the years. I am honored to publish one of his projects! This is the first of three installments on this subject.

Linda Ward Meadows of [redacted], continues to provide us with interesting articles about her family. I think you will enjoy the four articles she has provided for this Quarterly. Also A. Stephen Johnson of [redacted], provided some information he found on a middle-Georgia family while doing family research in North Carolina. I hope it helps someone out there! Many thanks to both of you.

In spite of bad health, our organization's founder, Mr. Jim Martin, continues to contribute to the Society by providing articles for our Quarterly. He also provides his considerable expertise at our board and general membership meetings. Thanks for your article, Jim!

Also, Helen Hudson and Addie Howell continue to provide much information for the Quarterly. They also do many other things for the Society. I do not know how they find time for the Quarterly when they are so busy. I guess it proves the adage that if you want to get a job done, give it to the busiest person you know. It certainly applies in their case. Thanks to both of you for all you do for our Society!

A Souvenir of our School

Let fate do her worst, there are moments of joy,
Bright dreams of the past, which she cannot destroy;
Which come in the night time of sorrow and care,
And bring back the features that joy used to wear.

Computing Book Selling Price

James T. Martin

When you have compiled and published the genealogy of your family you will need to compute a selling price for your book. The selling price is your cost plus a mark-up. The mark-up is also known as the profit. For a genealogy of your family, to be sold to your relatives, a mark-up of 20% is recommended to compute the selling price. Don't expect to make a large profit from sales to your relatives. A 20% mark-up may keep you out of the red. Remember; the Library of Congress needs two copies for the copyright, and the local libraries would appreciate some gift copies for their shelves, and there will be other hidden costs such as shipping, postage, etc.

The following example will take you through the steps in computing the selling price per book, using a 20% mark-up.

- Assume it cost you $26.50 to get the book published.
- You wish a mark-up of 20% over cost.
- What is the selling price ??
- 100% minus 20% = 80%
- Cost of $26.50 X 100 = $2,650.00
- $2,650.00 divided by 80 = $33.125 or $33.50 round numbers.

Don't be mislead into thinking you can take 20% of $26.50 and add it to the cost price to get the selling price. It is not the same, e.g., 20% of $26.50 = $5.30
$26.50 + $5.30 = $31.80 or $32.00 round numbers.
$33.125 minus $31.80 = a difference of $1.325 in selling price.
And this difference becomes larger as the price increases.

BOOKSTORE SALES:

Assume you have compiled a genealogy and have had two or three hundred copies printed and bound. You plan to sell these (and more), through book stores. You are your own sales-force and you need to compute a selling price which will allow the bookstore to make a 40% profit (mark-up) on his cost. If you are a well known author you may expect to receive a 60% mark-up on your cost. Otherwise, take a smaller mark-up, e.g., 30% mark-up on your cost. This is a two step operation.

Step 1: Compute your selling price to the dealer:
Assuming your cost is $26.50 and you would like a 30% mark-up.
100% minus 30% = 70%
Cost of $26.50 x 100 = $2650.00
$2650.00 divided by 70 = $37.857 your price to the bookstore.

Step 2: Compute dealer's selling price using a 40% mark-up.
The dealer's cost is $37.857 and he adds a 40% mark-up to get his selling price.
100% minus 40% = 60%
$37.857 x 100 = $3785,70
$3785.70 divided by 60 = $63.095 or $63.25 round numbers.

$63.095 minus $37.857 = $25.238 for dealers profit, and $37.857 minus $26.50 = $11.357 for your profit.

NOTE: It is customary to work on a 40-60 basis when selling through a bookstore. However, if you are not a well known author you might consider taking less until you become established.

If a publishing company has offered to buy your manuscript, they will do all the pricing and other required details.

Thought you might enjoy these receipes
Lard
Take it from the hog to a tub of clean water; wash it, and put it into a barrel of salt water, to extract the blood. Boil it as usual. Strain into jars, and add a table spoonful of fine salt to ever three gallons of lard.

Peach Cordial
Select ripe and juicy snow peaches, wash and pare them. To a pound of fruit weigh out three quarters of a pound of loaf sugar, add a pint of water and melt it; strain the syrup and put in the fruit and a little mace. Let it boil about one minute. Take them off and add brandy to suit the taste to the boiling syrup. Set it away to cool, then take out the peaches and bottle the cordial.

I typed this exactly the way it appeared. Bet someone enjoyed the "left over" peaches.

Julius Jackson
Of
Washington County, Georgia

Contributed by A. Stephen Johnson

Mr. Johnson is a CGGS member residing in [redacted]. He recently ran across this item while researching in the North Carolina State Library in Raleigh. Since Washington County is a "burned county" he thought it might be of interest to our readers. I wholeheartedly agree! These records come from "Franklin County, NC, Loose Estate Papers, Volume I, 1777-1810".

16 Sep 1803: Washington County, GA. A letter from Julius Jackson to his brother William Jackson in Franklin County. He wrote he had not heard from his said brother since Henry Harris was in Georgia, that Joel Amos and Thompson Curry and himself had no land, although he had purchased the lands of Benjamin Kendrick, deceased, where Mr. Linquefield lived last year, that John Babb had lost his youngest boy, that they have another "girl child". Encourage Matthew Hall to come; inform Reuben Stalling that Wesley and William Stallings are well; tell Majr. Brickell his brother may buy my land on installments; instruction to sell Damascus; "Remember me to Majr Ferrell." He also mentioned Majr. William Ferrell, John and Josiah. A postscript said that Joel Jones wished to be remembered to all his friends; that he (Julius) had received a letter from Cullen Jones.

9 Feb 1804: Washington County, GA. A letter from Julius Jackson to his brother William Jackson in Franklin County per Cullen Jones. He wrote that he had looked for said brother and Josiah "the Last of Instant," that Abraham might be sold, that Lotzey (female) has a cancer; he mentions Cullen, Bird Ferrell, Jack Pills (Mills?), Rueben Ransom; he requested 655 acres to be advertised in the Halifax and Raleigh papers; he had written Majr. Wm. Brickell that he might have Joel's place.

15 Jun 1807: Washington County, GA. A letter from Julius Jackson to his brother William Jackson in Franklin County. He mentioned Thomas Floyd (who brought a letter) and who was teaching school. He indicated a message to Mr. Brickell "to be ready for me." He said he would pay $100 for his said brother to come to Georgia. A postscript indicated he had sent a letter to Matthew Hall.

October Court, 1808: The complaint of Benjamin Brickell. He stated that William Jackson (Miller) was the agent for his brother Julius Jackson, that he offered for sale three tracts of 440 acres called Jacksons Cross Roads on Cypress Creek, and 215 acres called Joels or Mosely's tract; Said Brickell had agreed in 1806 to purchase the said lands. He stated that the said William Jackson, Lotsey Jackson, and Lunsford, Montford, Julius, Littleberry A. and Elizabeth (these last minors) should convey a deed to said property.

Spring Court, 1809: William Jackson answers the complaint of Benjamin Brickell. Said Jackson states that sometime in the spring of 1800, his brother Julius Jackson moved himself and family to Georgia, giving said William power of attorney, that by letter he instructed him to advertise to sell his lands in Franklin County; that the complainant purchased the land but has received no deed because he expected his brother to come. The court ruling ordered that William Jackson convey the title along with the heirs Lunsford, Montford, Julius, Little B. A. and Elizabeth Jackson.

8 Sep 1811: Orren Jackson, with Joshua Jones, Wm. Jackson and Leroy Jackson securities, appointed guardian to his child Elizabeth Jackson.

December Court, 1814: Account 1808-1814 of Julius Jackson deceased by Thomas Floyd, executor. Noted were expenses for going to Georgia. Named: Benja Brickell, Martha Gay, Joshua Johnson, Thos. King. Account 1809-1814 of said deceased by Josiah Jackson, executor.

1828: Summons to Orren Jackson, Joshua Jones and Leroy Jackson to answer the justices of the county for the use of Elizabeth, alias Polly Jackson for debt.

8 Dec 1828: Account for Elizabeth Jackson by Orren Jackson, her guardian.

The Lessel and Joyner Families' Contributions to the War Effort

Many GA families made great sacrifices during the War for Southern Independence. Such was the case for the Lessel and Joyner families of Crawford County. Rachel Lessel Joyner was the daughter of Edom and Mary Lessel. Her husband, Ebenezer C. Joyner, and she both grew up in Orangeburg District, S.C. Ebenezer was born Sunday, 8 Apr 1792, and Rachel was born in 1793.

The Lessels and Joyners moved to GA in the early 1800s, finally settling in what became Crawford County, GA. Rachel's father, Edom Lessel, received a passport from the Governor of GA signed Saturday, 8 Dec 1810, to travel into the Creek Nation from Sumter District, S.C.

Edom Lessell had a large family by today's standards, but average-sized for his time. There were 8 Lessel children. Edom Lessel's children included Mary, Aaron, Lenora, John Louis, Elizabeth, Rachel, and 2 others whose names are unknown. Lenora and her husband, Thomas Watson, settled in Houston County, GA. John Louis, had a son named David Jamison Lessel, who served with Co B 1st Miss Light Artillery and another son, John Edom, who died at Charlottesville, VA 20 Aug 1861.

Edom Lessell and his wife never lived to see that war that tore this country apart and ended the Southern States' rights movement, as well as slavery. Edom died Thursday, 8 Mar 1832 in Crawford County, and his wife died Thursday, 2 Oct 1855. They never knew the anguish of seeing their sons and grandsons fighting and dying during the War Between the States.

On the other hand, Rachel Lessel Joyner and her husband Ebenezer would see sons, grandsons, and nephews involved in combat during the 1860s. Ebenezer and Rachel married on Thursday, 9 Apr 1812. Their first son, James Richard Joyner, was born early the next year on Tuesday, 12 January 1813. Those were tough times for the United States, because of involvement in the Second War for American Independence from Britain. The Joyners' four boys and one girl were a great help on the family farm. And, even though none fought in the War of 1812, such was not the case during the War Between the States.

Ebenezer and Rachel Joyner's two youngest sons, John H. and Osborn R., both served. John H. had already married Elizabeth Rushing and moved to Mississippi. When the Crawford County group with Co. F, Regt. 57, GA Volunteers got to Jackson, Mississippi, he joined them. Like so many others from Crawford Co., John H. was captured at Vicksburg, Mississippi on Saturday, July 4, 1863 and was paroled on Tuesday, July 7. He was furloughed at Enterprise, Mississippi on Wednesday, 22 July 1863. On 25 October 1863, John H. was hospitalized at Savannah, GA, but was back with his unit by 31 Dec 1863. John was near High Pt., N.C. at the war's end and received his final parole at Greensboro, N.C. 1 May 1865. He was a Confederate survivor who lived to tell his tales of fighting Yankee invaders. According to his tombstone inscription in Line Co., Miss., John H. Joyner died 25 Oct 1916.

Rachel and Ebenezer Joyner's son, Osborn R., was not so lucky. He was part of the Confederate defense during the Vicksburg Campaign, which began in January 1863. Osborn R. was captured at Champion's Hill, Mississippi 16 May 1863, and was held as a Prisoner of War at Ft. Delaware from 9 June 1863, until he was exchanged on 4 July 1863. He died from diarrhea in North Carolina Hospital at Petersburg, VA Tuesday, 21 July 1863, and, like so many others, Osborn R. was buried in an unmarked grave. He had made the rank of 5th Sgt.

It seemed as if only a short time had passed since Rachel and Ebenezer had rocked their new-born son Osborne in his cradle at their home in Crawford County at the time of his birth in 1831. Thirty-two years old was too young to be dying, but Osborne left behind the legacy of his children. He had been 24 years old when he married Lenora "Linnett" Sullivan on 6 May 1855.

Linnett and her five young children went to live with Ebenezer and Rachel for a while after Osborn died. It was some consolation for the Joyners to have 4 granddaughters and a grandson close at hand when Osborn died in VA.

The Joyners' two oldest sons did not fight in that dreadful war. James Richard "Jimmy" and Ebenezer Wesley were too old to serve in the Confederate Army. Jimmy married Jane Renfro Thursday, 19 Feb 1835. Jane was the daughter of Enoch Renfroe, a veteran of the War of 1812, and Mary Mannard. Ebenezer Joyner performed the marriage ceremony as a Crawford County Justice of the Peace. In fact, Ebenezer performed the marriages of Jimmy, John H., and Osborn R., giving his sons his blessings in more ways than one.

Rachel Joyner's brother, Aaron Lessel, performed the marriage ceremony when her son, Ebenezer Wesley, married Mary Ann Sullivan(t) 21 Feb 1836. Ebenezer Wesley and Mary had six children. Although both Jimmy and Ebenezer Wesley Joyner were too old to serve the Confederacy, their sons fought for the South. Jimmy had three sons to serve: John Randolph was born in 1836, and married Annis Scoffil 5 Feb 1857 in Crawford County; Aaron R. was born 14 Oct 1837, in Crawford County; and, James Harrison was born Saturday, 24 Aug 1839, in Crawford County.

John Randolph Joyner volunteered 3 May 1862, serving as a private with Co F, 57th Regt, GA Volunteers. He was captured at Vicksburg 4 July 1863 and was paroled 3 days later. He was furloughed at Enterprise, Miss 22 July 1863, and died at home in Crawford County on Monday, 20 Sept 1863. Jimmy Joyner died the following year on Tuesday, 13 Sept 1864. One can only speculate how much effect the death of Jimmy's oldest son, John Randolph Joyner, had in bringing on his own death at the age of 52.

Ebenezer and Rachel Joyner's grandson, Aaron R. Joyner, did things a little differently than the other boys. He was born in Crawford County on 14 Oct 1837. In 1860, he married Nancy M. Hartley, who was born in 1842. Aaron enlisted as Pvt. with Co. F, 2nd Regt, 1st Brigade GA State Troops 14 Oct 1861, but mustered out in 1862. He went back into the service and was appointed 4th Sgt. of Co. F, 57th Regt., GA Infantry 3 May 1862. He was likewise captured at Vicksburg on 4th July that awful summer of 1863, and was exchanged shortly thereafter. Pension records show that Aaron R. Joyner's final discharge came at Macon, GA in April 1865.

James Harrison Joyner also served with Co. F, 57th GA Volunteers, enlisting May 1862, at Savannah, GA. He was captured and paroled at Vicksburg in July 1863. His final parole was at Greensboro, N.C. 1 May 1865. In 1860, he married Elizabeth Aultman, daughter of William and Mary "Polly" Rowland Aultman. Seven of James Harrison Joyner's eight children were born after the war was over. William Roy, Anna Cora, Charles, Osborne, John, and Lula were all post-war babies. Only James Randolph, his 11 1/2 months-old son, was left behind with Elizabeth when Harrison enlisted with 1st Lt. John Blackstone Fowler's 57th GA Volunteers, Bragg Rifles, in 1862.

One might agree that Jimmy Joyner's sons did their share to help the South. Such was also the case with Ebenezer Wesley Joyner's children, William Thomas and Ebenezer Charles Joyner. Ebenezer Charles guarded prisoners at Andersonville Prison in GA. William Thomas Joyner enlisted as a private on 3 May 1862, and was captured and paroled in at Vicksburg. He was in the hospital at Augusta, GA at the close of the war. He was born in Crawford County 26 Sept 1837. William Thomas received a Confederate Soldiers Pension. He died at Ft. Valley, GA 12 Mar 1912.

It takes no giant brain power for the observer to understand why Vicksburg, Miss. and the Fourth of July brought no fond memories for the Joyner family. They had no cause to celebrate as Union forces secured control of the Mississippi River that summer of 1863, laying siege and starving the Confederates into surrender.

It was probably Rachel Lessel Joyner's deep faith in the Lord that enabled her to endure the agonies that women at home face while their men fight battles. Rachel was a member of the Shiloh Society Church in the Ft. Valley Methodist Church Conference. Her mother, Mary Lessel, had also been a member, and her son Jimmy was the Charge Leader, appointed by the pastor and nominating committee to serve in absence of the pastor. Jimmy did everything but the regular preaching for the church. Many of Ebenezer and Rachel Joyner's grandsons and great grandsons became ministers.

The Lessels and Joyners grew up during a time of great change in this country. The abolitionist movement was in full swing in the early 1800s. While Ebenezer Joyner did not own any slaves, Rachel's father, Edom Lessel, did own 4 slaves, 2 of whom were brought with the Lessel family to GA from S.C. in 1810.

Ebenezer Joyner would have been proud to know that many of his descendants gathered to celebrate the 200th anniversary of his birth in 1992. His descendants told stories of the man who was the patriarch of their family. "Mr. Eb" died in 1874 and is buried at Society Hill Church Cemetery in Crawford County. Ebenezer Joyner was a shoemaker, farmer, justice of the peace, and a postmaster at Pine Level in Crawford County during the mid-1830s. He was proud of the land that he owned. He was always buying and selling land. In fact, records indicate that in 1818, he paid $.38 tax on property that he owned in Twiggs County, GA. Rachel proudly called him husband during the 62 years the couple lived together as man and wife.

Ebenezer Joyner died in 1874 and Rachel followed three years later. Times were about to change for the South with Rutherford B. Hayes chosen President by an Electoral Commission. Some people said that Hayes cheated Samuel J. Tilden out of the presidency after the disputed election of 1876, but Hayes promised to end Reconstruction. The slow process of binding the wounds of war was about to begin. The Lessels and Joyners returned to their various methods of livelihood among the rolling hills of Middle GA, ever remembering the price their families paid during the dark days of war.

57th GA Regiment
A Defense of Valor

The 57th GA Regiment was organized between May-June 1862 and soon thereafter went to Chattanooga, Tennessee, serving with the Department of East Tennessee. Early in 1863, the unit was reassigned to the Department of Mississippi and East Louisiana and in the Army of Vicksburg, Mississippi. After their parole and exchange following the fall of Vicksburg, the 57th joined the Department of South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. By the spring of 1864, they were assigned to the Army of Tennessee, where they remained for the duration of the war.

Colonel William Barkuloo was the 57th Regiment's first commander. Governor Joseph E. Brown authorized Secretary of War, G.W. Randolph, to accept Barkuloo's GA State troops as full members of the Confederate States Army on 6 May 1862, asking also that all State troops be given "perfect equality with regiments which originally entered the Confederate service." Randolph notified General E. Kirby Smith in Knoxville, Tennessee on 2 July 1862 that he had ordered Colonel Barkuloo's troops from Dalton, Georgia to Chattanooga, Tennessee along with several other military units. All units were unarmed, but Randolph promised a 6000 stand of arms to General Kirby, instructing him to advise the reinforcements of where to receive their arms.

The men of the 57th were involved in several notable battles during the War Between the States. Among some of those were the battles of: Cumberland Gap, June 17-18, 1862; Kentucky Campaign, August-October 1862; Vicksburg Campaign and Siege May-July 1863; Champion Hill (Baker's Creek, Mississippi), May 16, 1863; Whitemarsh Island, February 22, 1864; Atlanta Campaign, May-September 1864; Kennesaw Mt., June 27, 1864; Atlanta, July 22-September 1864; Jonesboro, August 31-September 1, 1864; Franklin and Nashville, Tennessee, November and December 1864; Carolinas Campaign February-April 1865; and Bentonville, North Carolina, March 19-21, 1865.

The Official Records have correspondence that tells of the trials and tribulations facing this regiment, especially after their defeat at Vicksburg, Mississippi in July 1863. Commanding Brigadier General Alfred Cumming of the 3rd Brigade, to which the 57th GA Regiment was assigned, wrote on 22 July 1863, saying that the 3rd Brigade, Major General Carter L. Stevenson's Division, crossed Baker's Creek at the bridge over this stream in Mississippi on 15 May 1863. Shortly after sunup on 16 May 1863, they backtracked and were brought into position to fight on a succession of ridges overlooking a clear field. The actions of Colonel William Barkuloo and the 57th Regiment during this campaign were praised.

The 3rd Brigade went into this campaign's action with 2500 men. Writing from Enterprise, Alabama on 22 July 1863, Brigadier General Cummings reported that the brigade's total of 995 casualties included 142 killed, 314 wounded, and 539 missing. Of the missing, he estimated that about 200 were actually killed or wounded. The 3rd Brigade then entered Vicksburg on Sunday, 17 May and on the morning of 18 May moved into trenches, where they remained without relief for 47 days until the surrender on 4 July. The enemy's "rifle-pits in times were so extended as to almost entirely envelope the brigade front, and were generally about 150 yards distant."

Report No. 77 from Division Commander Major General Carter L. Stevenson noted the hardships faced by the Confederate garrisons during the Vicksburg Siege.

Stevenson mentioned in his report that when his troops attacked, they did so with "spirit and success." He described a particular night attack conducted by Lieutenant Colonel C.S. Guyton and a portion of the 57th GA Regiment under the command of Brigadier General Cummings, which was accompanied by men from Reynold's Brigade in the 43rd Tennessee Regiment. "The enemy had entrenched themselves at three different points on and to the left of the Hall's Ferry road. The command sallied out, charged their works with admirable gallantry, and took them, with considerable loss to the enemy, who were in greatly superior forces."

In further comments, Major General Stevenson wrote of his respect for his men during the Vicksburg Siege. "I cannot find words sufficiently strong to express the pride and gratification afforded me by the dauntless spirit with which officers and men encountered all the dangers, and by the unmurmuring endurance with which they bore up for the forty-seven sleepless nights and days, under all the hardships incident to their position. Confined, without a moment's relief from the very day of their entrance into the fortifications to that of the capitulation of the city, to the narrow trenches; exposed without shelter to the broiling sun and drenching rain; subsisting on rations barely sufficient for the support of life; engaged from the earliest dawn till dark, and often during the night, in one ceaseless conflict with the enemy, they neither faltered nor complained, but, ever looking forward with confidence to relief, bore up bravely under every privation--saw their ranks decimated by disease and the missiles of the enemy--with the fortitude that adorns the soldier and the spirit that becomes the patriot who battles in a holy cause (O.R.--Series I--Volume XXIV/2 [S# 37]."

Regardless of the bravery of the Confederate forces, they were overtaken. The 57th was assigned to Parole Camp at Demopolis, Alabama. The Agent of Exchange, R.O. Ould, wrote Brigadier General S.A. Meredith at the CSA War Department, stating that an exchange would take place on 12 September 1863. After their release, members of the 57th GA were sent to serve in the Department of GA. By command of the Secretary of War in Special Order No. 232, 30 Sept 1863, "The Fifty-seventh GA Regiment, Stevenson's Division, will repair to Savannah, GA and report for duty to Brigadier General Mercer."

The 57th Regiment was then placed under the command of Brigadier General R.E. Colston in the District of GA on 20 Oct 1863. To say that the 57th was a happy regiment following Vicksburg would have been an outright lie. Brigadier General Hugh W. Mercer, commanding at Savannah, telegraphed that 200 of the 57th had arrived in Savannah on 14 Jan 1864. There was much contention among the 57th in their Savannah camp over the conditions of their recent parole and exchange. The 57th was placed under the command of Captain J.W. Anderson and assigned to duty on Rose Dew Island located at the mouth of the Little Ogeechee River. Like many other Southern men, members of the 57th found it difficult to continue fighting after taking an oath to lay down their arms against the US Federal Government.

Major General, and second in command, J.F. Gilmer, detailed evidence of such discontent in his report to Brigadier General Thomas Jordan, Chief of Staff, Charleston, SC. Gilmer suggested: "The 57th GA Regiment should be sent on duty in presence of the enemy, say at Charleston or some other point, and another regiment sent here to replace it. The men of this regiment complain that they were not properly exchanged after their capture at Vicksburg." Was their concern over the parole and exchange, per se, or the fact that the exchange process took until 12 September, a little over 2 months from the date of their capture and parole?

Commanding officers in Savannah were afraid of the overall morale of many regiments along the GA coast, including that of the 54th, 57th, and 63rd. A plot was discovered, which discontented Confederates planned to carry out on 12-13 January 1864. Confederate officers in Savannah feared that the 57th Regiment would join, even though they were not among the organizers. By refusing to bear arms, soldiers hoped to end the war. To nip this plot in the bud, Brigadier General R.E. Colston took action by ordering the arrest of a leader of the resistance movement, a man identified as Private Coleman, who was a soldier with Co. F, 54th GA Regiment. Coleman was confined to barracks in Savannah.

The Roster of Confederate Soldiers from GA, Volume 5 lists two privates with the surname Coleman. Both Andrew J. Coleman and William T. Coleman enlisted as privates 6 May 1862, with Co. C, 54th Regiment, Bartow Infantry. Both men were transferred to Company F, 54th Regiment, Savannah Cadets on 1 Jan 1863. The Private Coleman in question apparently remained in service following the foiled plot to resist fighting. Andrew J. Coleman was captured at Salisbury, North Carolina 12 April 1865, and released at Camp Chase, Ohio on 13 June 1865. William T. Coleman was captured at Marietta, Georgia 18 June 1864, paroled at Camp Morton, Indiana, and forwarded to Point Lookout, Maryland for exchange 10 March 1865. William was received at Cox's Wharves, James River, Virginia, 23 March 1863. He died of dysentery at Richmond, Virginia shortly thereafter and was buried at sea (Roster, Vol. V, 649). Regardless of the action taken against the alleged perpetrator of resistance from Co. F, 54th GA Regiment, apparently he continued military service after his incarceration in the Savannah barracks.

As further assurance of ending the proposed plot, Brigadier General Colston also requested that the 57th GA Regiment be transferred either to the Army of the Tennessee, or of VA. He noted that the "spirit of this regiment is bad," stating that, "The troops say that they have never been properly exchanged, and the impression prevails, probably with good reason, that they will not fight if brought before the enemy. They are demoralized by the influence of home, to which they are too near, their friends and relatives persuading them that they have not been properly exchanged and ought to be at home. Their presence here may have a bad effect upon the other troops and their spirit and tone may be improved by removal to more distant points."

It should be reiterated at this point that the solemn parole oath made by members of the 57th stated: "That I shall not take up arms again against the United States, nor serve in any military, police, or constabulary force in any Fort, Garrison, or field work, held by the Confederate States of America, against the United States of America, nor as guard of prisons, depots or stores, nor discharge any duties usually performed by Officers or soldiers against the United States of America, until duly exchanged by the proper authorities (Paroles of Pvt. Labon L. Bryant and Pvt. James Harrison Joyner, Co. F, 57th GA Regiment, Vicksburg, Mississippi, 7 July 1863, signed by Captain J.O. Pullens, 20th Regiment, Illinois Volunteers)."

Brigadier General Colston's concerns proved valid. A portion of Co. F, 57th GA stationed on Rose Dew Island under the command of Captain J.W. Anderson was said to be "behaving badly." In a message dated 26 Feb 1864, Brigadier General Thomas Jordan wrote to Brigadier General Mercer telling of one company of the 57th GA Regiment's retreating during combat on Gibbon's Island in spite of the captain's commands and efforts. Although he did not state the specific company of the 57th which concerned him, Chief of Staff Jordan did recognize the need for action.

On 22 April 1864, Major General Sam Jones, Commander, wrote to General S. Cooper, Adjutant and Inspector General, Richmond, VA stating that Special Order, No. 89, War Department, CS ordered that the 1st, 53rd, and 57th Regiments GA Volunteers should proceed to Dalton, GA to relieve the 5th, 47th, and 55th GA Regiments. Specifically, the 57th was ordered, to relieve the 5th GA Regiment, in guarding prisoners at Andersonville, although that stint of duty was short-lived.

Guarding prisoners was still in violation of the terms of parole and exchange as perceived by members of the 57th GA Regiment. Nonetheless, correspondence from Major General J.F. Gilmer to Major Giles B. Cooke, Assistant Adjutant-General, Charleston, SC, dated at Savannah on 30 April 1864, noted that the 57th GA had left Savannah by rail for service with the Army of Tennessee. Even the President of the Confederacy was kept informed of the movements of the 57th. A missive dated 21 May 1864, written near Allatoona Pass in North GA by General J.E. Johnston to President Jefferson Davis noted that "the Fifty-seventh GA has arrived."

From May-September 1864, the 57th was with Major General William H.T. Walker's Division, Brigadier General Hugh W. Mercer's Brigade. The 57th was under the immediate command of Lieutenant Colonel Cincinnatus S. Guyton. In Report No. 622, Lt. Colonel Guyton noted the actions involved in the Atlanta Campaign. Guyton stated that Colonel William Barkuloo of the 57th GA assumed command as division leader on 24 July 1864, following the death of Major General Walker. The 57th was fighting 2 1/2 miles from Atlanta, southwest of the Fair Ground Road.

On 22 Sept 1864, Colonel Barkuloo wrote about the operations of July 22-August 2 and noted that he had been replaced by Colonel Charles H. Olmstead. After the fall of Atlanta and the death of Major General Walker, Walker's old division was breaking up. The 57th fell in with Major General Patrick R. Cleburne's Division, Mercer's Brigade, under Colonel Charles H. Olmstead. The 57th was still under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Guyton from 1 May-30 Sept 1864.

The 57th was involved in campaigns in Northern Alabama and Middle Tennessee from 14 Nov 1864-23 Jan 1865, as part of the Army of Tennessee, Cleburne's Division, now with Brigadier General James A. Smith. Colonel Charles H. Olmstead was the commander, but Captain Lucius C. Bryan was now in charge of the 57th GA Regiment. Smith's brigade report dated 3 Jan 1865, told of the strengths of his brigade. He reported a total of 636 effective men, 65 of whom were from the 57th GA's total of 120 present. The 57th Regiment's aggregate present was 138, including 3 servants. The remainder of the 200 members of the 57th Regiment sent from Vicksburg to the Georgia coast in the fall of 1863 proved themselves to be survivors.

Reorganization of troops and commanders occurred throughout the war. Cleburne's Division saw such changes in leadership during the latter month's of the war from 4 Mar-30 June 1865. Cleburne and Brigadier General Smith remained in command and were joined by Captain J.R. Bonner. Lieutenant A. Youngblood was now in charge of the 57th GA Regiment. When the 57th surrendered at Bentonville, NC on 26 April 1865, survivors returned home to rebuild lives put on hold when duty called.

In retrospect, the 57th GA Regiment's reluctance to fight was not evidence of cowardice after the Battle of Vicksburg and the confusion over parole and exchanges. The men of the 57th had given a sworn oath not to fight against the Federal forces until an exchange was finalized. This was done in an age when a man's word meant something. The sterling efforts of this fighting unit during the latter year and a half of the war are indicative of courage and dedication in the face of insurmountable odds. That courage enabled these men to survive the hardships of fighting on distant battlefields far from their Middle GA homes. When the fighting ceased, men of the 57th GA Regiment returned to their families and farms and courageously assumed the task of rebuilding the state that they loved.

Beyond the Letter Home

Analysis of an old letter written by a Confederate ancestor caused the writer to wonder what happened to all of the people mentioned in the letter written by her Great Great Grandmother's brother. Edward Gamble's words led to an historical search that told more than what his fading brown script revealed.

Goldsboro, N.C. April 20th 1862

Edward I Gamble

Edward I. Gamble was the brother of Elizabeth Gamble Lewis, and George Gamble, mentioned in the above letter. On page 270, entry #613 of the Dooly County, GA census of 1850, Elizabeth Gamble, aged 33, George Gamble, aged 16, and Edward Gamble, aged 10, are listed in the household of their parents, James and Mary Gamble. Other siblings in this listing include Mary A., James E., Frances A., David, and William. Another sister, Sarah Ann Gamble Ward, was married to David T. Ward, also living in Dooly County, as listed on page 279, entry #738 of the same census.

References to above-mentioned soldiers are found in Volume IV, Roster of Confederate Soldiers of Georgia 1861-1865, as entries on the Muster Roll of Company C, 45th Regiment GA Volunteer Infantry, Army of Northern Virginia. Allen Barton enlisted as a Private 4 March 1862. He died of disease 28 October 1864. Joseph H. Bullock also enlisted as a private 4 March 1862. He was admitted to Richmond, Virginia's Chimborazo Hospital suffering from pneumonia 2 May 1863. Bullock was transferred to Macon, GA 11 May 1863. No further record of him is listed in the Roster.

Michael Dooling, another of Edward Gamble's friends from home who enlisted as a private on 4 March 1862, earned an appointment as 3d Sergeant in 1862. Dooling was wounded at Wilderness, VA 6 May 1864. He retired by virtue of General Order #34 on 2 November 1864.

According to Volume III of the Roster, the George that Edward mentioned to his sister was their brother, who served with CO F, 31st Regt., GA Vol. Infantry, Pulaski County. He attained the rank of 5th Sergeant October 27, 1861, and was appointed 1st Sergeant May 13, 1862. George was wounded at Fredericksburg, VA Dec. 13, 1862. Within a few short months, he faced the Boys in Blue on the bloody battleground hallowed at Gettysburg, PA where he was killed July 1, 1863.

Edward Gamble, the author of the letter to his sister, Elizabeth Gamble Lewis, enlisted as a Private with his friends on 4 March 1862. His days of service numbered little more than a month when he wrote Elizabeth that he expected them to be able to "drub the Yankees out And come home." Such was not the case. He may have visited home at some point, but he did not get to stay. He died of smallpox at Camp Gregg, VA. The date of Edward's death was not listed in the Roster.

Just one month after Edward wrote to his sister, their brother, David Gamble, enlisted as a private on 19 May 1862, also serving with the Dooly Volunteers. On that same day, David was appointed 4th Corporal. In a subsequent battle, he was wounded in the head, but served until the Confederate surrender at Appomattox, VA on 9 April 1865. David's military service records show that he was born in Screven County, GA on 28 September 1828, and died in Dooly County, GA in 1910.

Edward Gamble's letter found its way into the hands of this distant relative who now knows more about the price that her kinsman and his friends paid on lonely battlefields far from home. Beyond the pain, hunger, suffering, and loneliness, this letter reveals an undaunted spirit that was loyal to the Southern cause. Edward Gamble and his friends are remembered because of his words written on a folded sheet of old paper. Though these brave GA boys are gone, they are not forgotten.

H.T. GILBERT, DEALER IN DRY GOODS, HATS, CLOTHING, ETC. CONTINUED

Compiled by Helen S. Hudson [redacted]

H.T. Gilbert's store was one of the main "dry goods" stores in the Perry/Houston County area. His ads in the Houston Home Journal feature many items such as shoes, hats and sewing materials. It appears that some of his accounts were barter accounts.

Ladufsia Pound Bullock

Ladufsia Pound Bullock was like so many other women who faced the hardships of life during the uncertain days of the nineteenth century. Her roots were firmly planted in the rich, red clay of Middle Georgia. Perhaps that was what enabled Ladufsia to endure the trials and heartaches which came to her family during the latter months of 1853 and the years following.

Ladufsia Pound was born to Merryman and Clarissa Herndon Pound on 4 April 1800, probably in Washington or Hancock County, GA. Her father was a veteran of the Indian Wars and the War of 1812. Her mother was descended from the landed aristocratic Digges and Herndon families of Virginia. Her brothers and sisters numbered more than a dozen. Their descendants are scattered all over the United States.

Ladufsia was reared in Putnam County, where her father was a successful land owner on the banks of Murder Creek in the Devil's Half Acre District. On 29 August 1816, she married Irwin Bullock, who was the son of Daniel and Mary Whitehurst Bullock.

Surely the children from the union forged between Ladufsia and Irwin Bullock would have patriotic pride instilled within them. After all, both Great Grandfather Reuben Pound and Grandfather Daniel Bullock had paid a fair share during the American Revolution. Grandfather Merryman Pound had fought Indians on the rugged Georgia frontier, and was a veteran of the War of 1812. And, what stories Irwin Bullock must have told his children on a dark night as he regaled them with his experiences as a soldier in the War of 1812.

As Ladufsia and the children sat nearby, he probably recounted tales of his service under Captain William Varner, from Putnam County, in the Regiment of Colonel Alexander. He would tell how he had substituted in the place of Stephen Hall from 20 August 1813, until his discharge 28 January 1814, at Fort Hawkins. Irwin would share with his children experiences during his second enlistment under Captain William Harvey, from Baldwin County, in the Regiment of Colonel Ezekiel Wimberly. Therein he had served as a substitute for their uncle, Frederick Sims, at Camp Hope from 20 December 1814, until discharged at Darien, on 8 March 1815. He would tell his children of his loyal service to his country and of the pay of $8 a month.

Irwin would want his children to remember how the Americans stood up to the British and gained worldwide respect in this Second War for American Independence. He would express to them his love for their mother Ladufsia, whom he married only seventeen months after his final discharge.

Together, Ladufsia and Irwin Bullock would move their family to Dooly County, GA and prosper on land that was the essence of red GA clay. By 1850 the fifty-year-old Ladufsia would have only eight of her thirteen children living at home. Charles I., George C., Daniel Merryman, James R., Florida L., Victoria F., Joseph A., and Uriah B. must have been a great help on the family farm located in the 24th District of Dooly County.

Close family ties were obviously maintained with the four married daughters who lived nearby with families of their own. Mary J. had married Allen Waters. Eleanor C. was married to William Blackstone Johnston. Emsuetta was the wife of Isaac J. Newberry, and Sarah A. was wed to William B.F. Oliver. Another daughter, Virginia C., lived in a distant part of the county with her husband, John G. Waller, and their two children. All of these daughters and their spouses were later mentioned in Irwin Bullock's Last Will and Testament.

The Bullock family's prosperity was apparent from the property claims stated in the GA Agricultural Census of September 1850. Irwin's farm valued at $2000 included 300 acres of improved land, with another 300 unimproved. His livestock was valued at $815, and consisted primarily of swine. The previous year, the Bullock farm produced 1000 bushels of Indian corn. The farm yielded the necessities for a comfortable way of life. The milch cows, slaughtered animals, peas, beans, and sweet potatoes all contributed to the family's daily diet.

Little did they know that within three short years their lives would be forever changed through tragedy. According to the Macon Messenger, Irwin and Ladufsia faced three heartbreaking deaths in 1853. Their granddaughter, Martha C. Newberry, died 13 September, at the age of seven. Their son, George C. Bullock, died 14 November, at the age of 23. Finally, their son, Uriah B. Bullock, died of congestion of the brain 28 December, at the age of 12 years and 7 months. Their agony must have been lessened only by their deep faith in a Power higher than any here on earth.

Perhaps Irwin dealt with the agony of loss by turning to farm work. By 1860, he had cleared another 50 acres of his growing 1215 acre farm. He had purchased additional horses and mules. His ownership of 27 sheep also reflects a diversity among his livestock, now valued at $1595. Forty-four pounds of wool were produced on the Bullock farm the previous year. Indian corn production had now reached 1500 bushels. Depicting the growing importance of the value of Southern cotton, Irwin produced 24 bales of ginned cotton weighing 400 pounds per bale. The $560 value of slaughtered animals probably represents those used to feed both family and slaves.

But winds of war were churning and times were about to change. Certainly their deep faith again helped the Bullocks to endure when their son Joseph enlisted with the Dooly Volunteers 4 March 1862. There were times when Ladufsia and Irwin must have lain awake at night worrying about their son's safety as he fought with the Army of Northern Virginia, and later when he was admitted to Richmond, Virginia's Chimborazo Hospital suffering from pneumonia 2 May 1863. His subsequent transfer to Macon, GA 11 May 1863, meant that he was close enough for his parents to visit.

Ladufsia faced the death of children, grandchildren, fears of war, and finally the loss of her husband of 48 years. Irwin left her a home and 100 acres of land on lot #144 in the 7th District of Dooly County in his Last Will and Testament dated 24 September 1864. He attempted to provide for Ladufsia during her widowhood with slaves Henry, Biddy, and Ella, all of whom would shortly be freed by the Thirteenth Amendment at the close of the War Between the States. Other properties were bequeathed to children and grandchildren. The crops, livestock, buggy, and personal properties left to Ladufsia all endowed her with a measure of security. Nevertheless, Irwin's LWT also notes that another child, Mary J. Waters, had died by 1864.

In looking at a portrait of Ladufsia made late in her life, one notices the lines on her face. Although they don't reveal all of the trials and tribulations she had endured in the nineteenth century, they do reflect a degree of sadness. But, when one knows Ladufsia Pound Bullock's story, one can read integrity and strength in the sad countenance of this Middle GA pioneer settler. Hers is a chronicle of endurance and faith nurtured by her love of God and the red GA clay that gave her a bedrock foundation from which to withstand the storms of life.

Bibliography: GA Archives military records for War of 1812 and WBTS; Herndon and Pound Family records; Historical and Genealogical Collections of Dooly County, GA, Volumes I, II, and III, by Watts and Nora Powell; National Archives Revolutionary War Records; Putnam County, GA marriage records; and sources cited herein.

*Linda Ward Meadows is a 3rd Great Granddaughter of Irwin and Ladufsia Pound Bullock and 2nd great Granddaughter of William B. and Eleanor C. Bullock Johnston.

EDITOR'S PAGE

I have enjoyed being your Quarterly editor for the past three years but I have resigned to pursue other interests. I have learned much about publishing such a publication and have especially enjoyed working with the contributors to the Quarterly. You have impressed me with your knowledge of genealogy, and I (along with our readers) have enjoyed the articles immensely. At the moment I do not know who will replace me but I encourage you to give them the same support you have given me. I hope to continue to contribute articles and I hope you will as well.

I believe the key to a successful Quarterly is to have multiple contributors, with varied interests, throughout our 27 county area! Please take the time to periodically prepare an article for the Quarterly. You do not have to live in Bibb or Houston Counties to contribute. Many of our contributors even live outside our area but they have ancestors that lived here at some point in time.

I would especially encourage our readers to send queries to Addie Howell. We all have those areas where we have hit a dead-end and need help. The query section of the Quarterly is an excellent way to get over some of those brick walls. You need not even type them because Addie types them before she submits them to the editor. If you cannot send several, just send one!

In this issue, I have included the second installment of the late Bobby Stoke's 1832 Crawford County tax digest. If you had ancestors in Crawford County, take a close look at this excellent work. The third installment will be in our next Quarterly.

Thanks again to those who have been so helpful, especially, Helen Hudson, Addie Howell, Joyce Green, Jim Martin, Linda Ward Meadows, Georgette Lipford and others too numerous to mention.

FAIR OF 1849--CIRCULAR

Following is the circular as it is printed, complete with strange punctuation and spelling.

The Fourth Annual Meeting of the Southern Central Agricultural Association will commence at the Stone Mountain, on Wednesday, 15th of August, and continue from day to day until such time as the Executive Committee may determine.

As the objective of this Association is to encourage and illustrate all useful and ornamental pursuits connected with the Agriculture not only of Georgia, but of the adjoining States, and to bring together, at a leisure season of the year, the producer and consumer, the merchant and mechanic, with their various products and commodities; that while they encourage the best practices and stimulate the best results, they may, at the same time, open a better market for all supplies or exchangeable articles, premiums will, as heretofore, be awarded on products and specimens in these various pursuits.

The Merchant is invited to exhibit specimens of his peculiar stock in trade: the Artizan of his skill; the Manufacturer of his products, embracing Clothes of all kinds, Agricultural and Horticultural Implements. All tills of the soil, and growers of domestic animals, are invited to show us their products, and explain to us their practices. The ladies especially are invited to show us all their useful and tasteful contrivances, the products of their gardens, Fruits, Vegetables and Flowers, Needle-work and Painting; and the funds, and the best taste and judgment of the Association, shall be devoted to the encouragement of their efforts.

To particularize in a notice like this,

the various articles which will receive premiums, is impossible. It is intended to give to the action of the Association the very widest scope, embracing every thing that is ingenious or useful in every branch of business or art.

The Association, at its last meeting, awarded more than twenty Silver Cups of the value of five dollars, besides an equal amount in smaller premiums of from one to three dollars. The Society has now a fund on hand which will enable it to distribute fifty cups, besides a large number of small premiums. The location is accessible by rail-road--is picturesque and has good water--a fine summer temperature and atmosphere: and the citizens of the town and surrounding country have already given the Association every assurance that the most ample and satisfactory accommodations will be made for the safe keeping and protection of all articles, of every size, kind and description; and the efforts of the citizens to accommodate the great mass of visitors at the last meeting. Is a sufficient guarantee that in the absence of political conventions, they will, at the next meeting, have better success, and accommodate as many as may come.

We hope that our friends from Carolina, Tennessee and Alabama, will come, and bring their products, and mingle socially with us for one or two weeks--see what we are doing, and show us what they are doing--see what we have for sale, and learn what we want to purchase; and while we are improving our plans and our practices in our various pursuits, and putting our trade on a better knowledge of resources and wants of the different sections that interchange commodities, at the same time improve our social and fraternal relations.

The Railroad carried visitors to the last Fair at half-price, and all articles for exhibition FREE. The Society will apply to them for similar facilities this year, and if the terms are in any way altered, due advertisement will be made.

It is important that all articles intended for exhibition should be on the ground by 12 o'clock, M. (Midnight? HSH), Tuesday, the 14th of August, in order that they may be registered, classed and arranged for examination by the committees, and for the Fair. Persons sending articles for the Fair without accompanying them, will label them to the undersigned, who, with the Executive Committee, will be on the ground Tuesday morning.

On the second day of the Fair, Live Stock will be examined by the Committees, and the Premiums awarded on the third day. All articles, except Live Stock, will remain during the Fair. Addresses will be made on each day of the Fair and individuals who have devoted particular attention to any of the various subjects which may be supposed to occupy the attention of the Association, are requested to come prepared to give their views.

It is desirable to make the Annual Fair at the Stone Mountain a great Southern Agricultural Exchange. Would it not be well for individuals, who have a surplus of any good articles, whether it be Live Stock or Manufactures, of choice Seeds, or Machines, to advertise that they will have at the Fair such articles for sale or exchange? A young lady from Floyd county exhibited, at the last Fair, a jar of Preserves, for which she received a Silver Cup, and then sold them for fifteen dollars.

The late frosts have made such a destruction of the wheat crops, as to made Seed Wheat in great demand--some choice, raised on Col. Pickens' farm, in South Caroline, sold at the last Fair for five dollars per bushel. These facts illustrate our objects, and let every good citizen consider them well. The cups awarded at the last Fair, will be ready for delivery during the approaching Fair.

There must be an accurate and minutely written account accompanying each article sent in for exhibition. If an Animal, his pedigree or stock; if a Machine, its powers and uses, and cost; if Butter or Bread, or other eatables, the process of making, ingredients, &c. This requisition will be required in relation to all articles, in order that any information of value thus obtained, may be published, with the transactions of the Association.

The County Societies, heretofore auxiliary to the State Convention, will send their Delegates, and make their reports to the Central Agricultural Association, as the Convention at its last meeting resolved to hold it next meeting in connection with the Association at Stone Mountain, in August next, when the two organizations will be merged into one.

On the first of August, a member of the Executive Committee will visit the Stone Mountain, to examine if the arrangements are sufficient for the purposes of the Fair. If not sufficient, notice will then be given for holding the Fair at such place as the Committee may direct, under the provisions of a resolution passed at the last meeting.

Very Respectfully,
Thos. Stocks, of Greene, Pres't
Mark A. Cooper, of Cass, Vice Pres't
J.A. Whitesides, of Tenn. Vice Pres't

Circular

The Southern Central Agricultural Society of Georgia, taking into consideration the great advantages which may reasonably be expected to flow from periodical meeting of persons representing the planting interests of the slaveholding States, invite the cultivators of the soil in every section and district of the same, to send delegates to Macon on the 20th day of October next, for the purpose of adopting measures preliminary to the assembling of an AGRICULTURAL CONGRESS of the Slaveholding States at such time and place as may be deemed most acceptable to the States to be represented in it.

Following this introduction is a lengthy letter which is signed by Wm. C. Daniel, Chairman with J.V. Jones, Sec'y.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Georgia, in General Assembly met:

Requesting an appropriation of $10,000 to make a geographical and agricultural survey of the state.

It does not appear that a great deal has changed in the Agricultural Fairs through the years. The animals are still on exhibit, the hand crafts are still there to be enjoyed, the various crops are shown, home preserved items are proudly exhibited and of course the "commercial" exhibitors are there with their wares.

Notations were made of the ages of very young or older exhibitors.

I hope that these listings were as interesting to you as they were to me.

H.T. GILBERT, DEALER IN DRY GOODS, HATS, CLOTHING, ETC. CONTINUED

Compiled by Helen S. Hudson [redacted]

(I grew up in Perry and have lived most of my adult years here also. Some of these names are familiar as being old "folks" when I was just a child. At the same time many of these surnames are familiar only through my research in Houston County and some were completely new to me. I hope that this may help you locate a strayed family member.)

QUARTERLY STAFF

Editor – Georgette Lipford Queries – Addie Howell Index – Helen Hudson

The Central Georgia Genealogical Society Quarterly is published in March, June, September, and December. It is distributed free to society members, second class postage paid at Warner Robins, Georgia.

BACK ISSUES of the quarterly are available from 1978 at the rate of $2.50 each for members and $4.00 each for nonmembers. Some issues are sold out.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES: CGGS encourages articles for the quarterly from members and nonmembers of unpublished primary source documents of Georgia county/state records, military records, tax lists, church and cemetery records, family letters or diaries, photographs and queries. Every effort is made to publish material of interest to Georgia researchers, especially the central Georgia counties. Material should be submitted typed, single spaced and camera ready if possible. CGGS does not assume responsibility for errors on the part of the contributor. Correction of proven errors will appear in future issues. Lengthy articles may be serialized. When submitting Bible records please include a transcription of all entries along with photocopies of the Bible title page and all entry pages if possible. Submit material for publication to the editor:

Georgette Lipford
[redacted]

QUERIES: There is no limit to the number of queries members may submit. Queries should be concise, specific, typed or printed and separated from other correspondence to the Society. Please include membership number, complete address and e-mail address if desired. Queries should be limited to about 50 words.

NOTIFICATION OF CHANGE OF ADDRESS is requested of members as close as possible to the effective date. CGGS is required to pay for undeliverable quarterlies and for remailing to a new address.

CORRESPONDENCE (except articles for the quarterly) should be addressed to: Central Georgia Genealogical Society, Post Office Box 2024, Warner Robins, Ga. 31099-2024. A membership application can be found on the last page of this quarterly.

CGGS WEB SITE: Visit our web site at: www.cggs.org for more information on the society, our publications, upcoming programs and web site queries.

Editor's Note

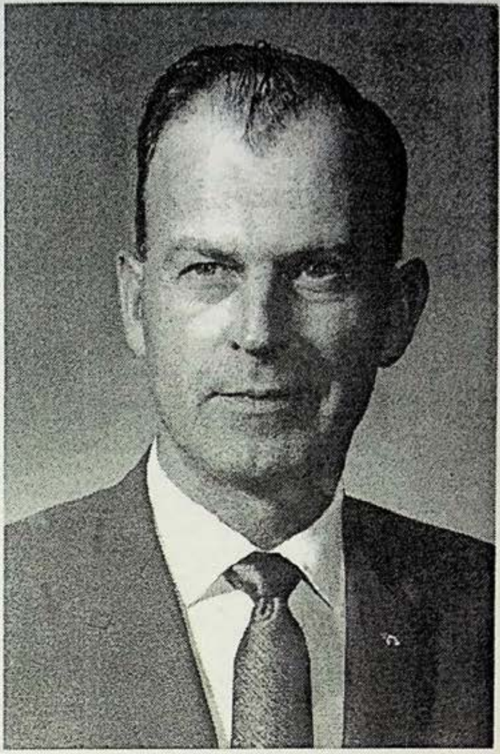
In recent years our society has been privileged to have talented and capable quarterly editors such as Bill Henry, Victor Myrick and Rudy Dennis. Under their guidance, CGGS members looked forward to each issue for abstracts of country records, family data and original articles on central Georgia history and research. Late last year Rudy decided it was time to pursue other interests. On behalf of the society, I would like to thank Rudy Dennis for three years of dedicated service. He more than maintained the fine example set by Bill Henry and Victor Myrick. As the new quarterly Editor, I will work hard to continue this standard. I would also like to take this opportunity to urge and encourage all CGGS members to submit articles for publication. It is only through the efforts of volunteers that we will continue to have the variety and number of articles we have enjoyed in the past.

The final installment of the 1832 Crawford Co. Tax Digest by Bobby Stokes appears in this issue. Bobby passed away last year and the genealogy community lost a friend and a tireless researcher. Parts 1 and 2 of this series appeared in Volume 22 (#3 and #4).

If you are researching Jefferson Co. ancestors you should find Hunt Sanders' checklist in this issue very helpful. The list was prepared from the LDS catalog on CD. Hunt spent hours transferring the information into a more user friendly format. LDS microfilm can be ordered at either the Family History Centers in Macon and Perry or through the Washington Memorial Library Genealogy Room in Macon (see Muriel). The identification number needed to order the microfilm is in the second column on the list. Even if you don't order microfilm from LDS, this list is a handy reference for use at other research facilities.

This first issue of Volume 23 may reach you a little late. The fault lies with its "novice" editor. I hope you enjoy it despite the wait. My sincere thanks to each and every contributor.

Georgette Lipford



IN MEMORY OF JAMES T. MARTIN
1917 – 2001

The Society would like to dedicate this issue in memory James T. Martin, founder and first President of CGGS. In the spring of 1978, Mr. Martin surveyed patrons of local libraries to determine an interest in forming a genealogical group. Within a few months several organizational meetings had been held and by the end of 1978 the society had 47 charter members. Mr. Martin's dedication to and paternal concern for CGGS never wavered from those early days. In addition to two terms as President and other elected offices, Mr. Martin also served as Director of Publications. At monthly meetings he frequently lectured on a variety of genealogical topics.

After his retirement from Robins Air Force Base in 1970, Mr. Martin turned his hobby of genealogy into a part time business. As Martin Genealogical Services, he did genealogical research for clients, compiled genealogies and designed record keeping forms.

Mr. Martin will be greatly missed by CGGS and other members of the genealogical community of middle Georgia. His knowledge and judgement on all aspects of the society, from business to publications was irreplaceable.

C.G.G.S. QUARTERLY SURNAME INDEX VOL. 22, FOR THE YEAR 2000

Note: This surname index covers Quarterlies No. 1 through 4 for the year 2000. Pages 1-60 are in No. 1, Pages 61-136 are in No. 2, Pages 137-204 are in No. 3, and Pages 205-252 are in No. 4. A dash between page numbers means that the name also appears on each page between such numbers. For example, 70-74 means that the name appears on 70,71,72,73, and 74. Check very carefully for a name may appear more than one time per designated page. Surnames are spelled in many forms. Look for all possible (and some improbable) spellings. In fact, it would be a good idea to check all surnames starting with the first letter of the name that you are searching for. The name may have been spelled differently by the original recorder or the transcriber. Your ancestor may have used a different spelling from the one that your family uses today.

Eliza Ann Floyd Franklin

(The Central Georgian, Thursday Mar 1, 1855, p2, col 5)

Died in the county on the 15th inst., after a protracted illness of several weeks, Mrs. Eliza Franklin consort of Col. Samuel O. Franklin in the forty-first year of her age. Death in his onward march of ruthless tyrany, never so fills the mind with awe and consternation, as when, with unerring tread he enters the happy family circle, and claims for his own the devoted wife and tender mother. Oh! If aught could have arrested his relentless march, surely the groans of an anguished husband, and the wail of the new orphaned children, would have bid him pause, ere he smote so loved and so cherished a victim.

But alas, what are all our sighs, our groans,
What are life's pomps, its pleasures, and thrones!
Death! the tyrant king! Frowns with brow of gloom,
And all our joys, must perish in the tomb!

Mrs. Franklin united herself with the Methodist Church in early life, and exhibited amid all the vicissitudes of after years, the deep anxieties incident to the cares of a large family, and the many and prolonged sufferings of her last illness; true Christian forbearance, fortitude, patience and humility; and now that she has fallen asleep these virtues will linger in bright though saddened memory above her grave. In addition to an aged father and mother and a large family connexion (connection) the deceased has left a kind and devoted husband and nine interesting children to mourn their irretrievable loss. The writer can never forget the mournful scene that witnessed the consignment of this affectionate wife and fond mother to her final resting place. There stood the weeping father and widowed husband surrounded by a group of sorrow stricken and motherless children mingling their unavailing tears with the cold damp sod, that was ere long to hide her mortal remains from their view forever. Amid this mournful group was little Stella Irene, infant daughter of the deceased, gazing all unconscious upon the sorrowful scene, little dreaming that she had sustained her greatest loss in this solemn event. May God spare the beautiful babe, and send the happified spirit of its mother to fulfill the pleasing mission of its guardian angel. And, Oh, may this afflictive dispensation be fraught with the power to win those deeply grieved hearts to God, and endless bliss—And then my dear departed Aunt,

"Thy grave shall be a blessed shrine,
Adorned with Nature's brightest wreath,
Each glowing season shall combine,
Its incense there to breathe;
and oft, upon the midnight air,
Shall viewless harps be murmuring there."

GRIFFIN - ELLINGTON

Looking for information on my G-Grandfather, Dr John L. GRIFFIN. I think he was in Macon, Ga sometime between 1859 and 1862. He married Rachel Penelope ELLINGTON in 1858. They were divorced in 1859, both marriage and divorce was in Laurens Co, Ga. After the divorce he left town and I was told by a elderly aunt that he set up practice in Macon. He was a surgeon in the confederate army, but the Library of Congress could not give much information. I received a sheet that had his name on it , another one where he signed for one month's pay and two more where drawn drugs from the supply. He signed one John L. Editor's Note

The quest for family raises a multitude of questions: where did great-grandfather live, who were his neighbors, did he have a will, where is he buried, what other sources might reveal his secrets and is there ANYBODY else out there looking for him! Often it seems we have more questions than answers. Maybe one of your long sought answers can be found here.

This issue of the quarterly features a variety of genealogy sources, including wills, deeds, a country store ledger and a forgotten grave. My sincere thanks to each of the CGGS members who have submitted material.

Rudy Dennis and Joyce Green each have deed abstracts here that are continued from the last quarterly. Joyce has begun on the Bibb Co. wills and the first installment of that series appears in this issue. The final part of Helen Hudson's abstraction of the H.T. Gilbert journal is here. Part one of the journal entries can be found in Volume 21, #3. Other installments are in Volumes 22 and 23.

Hunt Sanders has prepared a checklist of material available for Washington Co., Ga. The list was extracted from the LDS catalog on CD and features microfilm and books available from LDS. The identification number needed to order the microfilm is in the column to the right of each entry. LDS microfilm can be ordered at either the Family History Centers in Macon and Perry or though the Genealogy Room at Washington Memorial Library. Some of the sources on the checklist are also available at the Library.

Eddy Clark has put together information on copyright law that should be helpful whether researching in the library or on the internet. Copyright status has been a hot topic at CGGS Board meetings over the last two years as we have explored various materials for the CD projects.

Finally, I would urge all members to take advantage of the query section in each quarterly. There have been fewer submissions of queries lately but it's a great way to find that "ANYBODY" out there researching your family. Don't forget that a query has a long life on the library shelves of those that receive our quarterly. Currently, the CGGS quarterly is mailed to 20 libraries, including the DAR Library in Washington D.C., the Allen Co. Library in Ft. Wayne, Indiana, the Clayton Library in Houston, Texas and the Family History Library in Salt Lake City, Utah. Each of these are major research facilities and can provide a large audience for your query. (Queries can also be posted on the CGGS website) Thanks very much to Addie for her hard work on the queries in addition to her multitude of other duties.

Old Photographs Searching for New Home

Mrs. Laura Simpson

A small collection of old photographs was found in the attic of a home in Tifton, Ga. several years ago. "Laura Simpson" is written on the reverse of two of the photos and "Sam (?) F. Simpson, Tifton, Ga." on the reverse of one. A small photo of three men is labeled "Easterwood, Kemp and McNabb, Sunday, March 1925, Kemp – deceased". Most of the photos appear to date from the late 1800s. In addition to the eight photos, this collection also includes a commencement announcement for Morgan Co. High School class of 1921 and a memorial card for "T. L. Simpson". The card, which is in poor condition, appears to read: "Born, Oct. 10, 1841, Died, May 10, 1909, Age 68 years, 5 months".

I would very much like to return this collection to descendants of the Simpson family.

The Essentials of United States Copyright Law

By Eddy Clark

What is a copyright and what does it mean to me? Some of you may have asked this question after diving into genealogy and encountering the term in your reading and research.

The simple answer to the question is that a copyright is the lawful protection of "intellectual property". If you were to write a song or novel, newspaper or magazine article, then the United States government (and other governments around the world) would protect your work for a given period of years. You would make the decisions about how your work is used or accessed by the public. You could decide to publish it, place it on the Internet or hide it under a mattress. You could even give up your rights and place the material in the "public domain". However, as long as the copyright is maintained, no one else can copy the work or profit from it, or have any control over it until the copyright ends.

Copyright law is important because it affects your access to and use of genealogical publications. Many newspaper and magazine articles, books, photographs, maps and other materials exist to which the copyright has expired. Currently, hundreds of volunteers around the country are taking material once copyrighted, and indexing or transcribing it for use in other formats such as CDs or the Internet. Large databases are being written that make material available without the geographical hindrances genealogists have worked under until now.

An understanding of copyright law can help a genealogist know which resources can be copied, indexed or transcribed without any cost or legal penalty. How can a researcher determine which material is copyrighted and which material has moved over to the "public domain"? (The term, "public domain" refers to material no longer under copyright protection. Such material can be freely copied, duplicated or sold.) The answer to this question is available from the experts, the U.S. Copyright Office, which falls under the Library of Congress. Check their Internet site at http:/lcweb.loc.gov/copyright to find the latest and most authoritative information about copyright laws in the U.S. Always, prior to taking any actions that might cause a legal recourse, consult a lawyer who specializes in copyright cases rather than blindly accepting the advice in this article or others of a similar nature.

Following are a few guidelines to help determine whether a document is still in the copyright domain or has moved over to into the public domain:

1. Any work published or copyrighted before January 1, 1923 is currently in the public domain. There are no exceptions to this rule. The copyright laws at the time protected these works for up to 56 years. The U.S. copyright laws were altered effective January 1, 1978.
2. Any material published or copyrighted between January 1, 1923 and December 31, 1963 in which the copyright owner did not apply in writing for an extension during the 28th calendar year after the original copyright was first granted, is now in the public domain. The law at the time protected a work for only 28 years, plus an additional 28 years provided the extension was applied for and received at the Copyright Office during the 28th year of the original period.

3. For the time period mentioned the #2 above, publications for which an extension was applied were given an additional 28 years of protection. However, because of recent changes in the Copyright laws, these publications are still protected and are scheduled to fall into the public domain between January 1, 2019 and December 31, 2058.
4. Any work published or copyrighted between January 1, 1964 and December 31, 1977 is provided with 95 years of copyright protection. These publications will enter the public domain between January 1, 2060 and December 31, 2072.
5. If material was copyrighted or published on or after January 1, 1978, don't worry about when it will be in the public domain. Everyone reading this article today will be long gone before that happens.

The first two guidelines above should be of particular interest to genealogists. Think of all the books, newspapers, magazines, photographs, etc. published before December 31, 1963. Now imagine all of those publications being available online or on CD with a single database that can be searched in a few moments! Such treasure troves are part of the future of genealogy.

To determine if publications in #2 above were extended, contact a lawyer specializing in copyrights. Another approach would be to search the Copyright Office's Catalog of Copyrighted Entries (CCE), available at some libraries and in the Copyright Office itself. The Office is located in the Library of Congress James Madison Building, 101 Independence Ave., S. E., Washington, D. C., 20559-6000. The Copyright Office staff will conduct a search of the catalog for a fee of $65 per hour. Results are not guaranteed. If the copyright extension being sought cannot be located, the Office will not go on record as stating that the extension was not submitted. For further information on this process or other copyright issues, the Copyright Office can be contacted through their website: www.loc.gov/copyright, or by phone: (202) 707-3000.

Need help with your research?

Submit queries to this quarterly. You might hear from someone who has just the piece of the puzzle you need!!

A Soldier Remembered

While searching for Hancock Co. obituaries the following two articles were noted in the Sparta Ishmaelite newspaper. They are the sort of "find" most of us hope for when the graves of our ancestors are unknown.

From the Sparta Ishmaelite, 12 April 1907:

"Disinterred"

" Mr. Jas. H. Rogers, of Sparta, had the task this week of removing the body of a Confederate Soldier from the burying grounds of Wiley Arnold near the residence of R. M. Arnold of Devereux, to the Cemetery in Sparta.

The name of the soldier seems to be in doubt, although some say his name was Henry C. Lanier. However the commander, of his company, Capt. Hugh Henry, of the 6th Kentucky Cavalry C.S.A. has been written for authentic data.

This soldier was killed by a squad of Yankee Cavalry near Devereux during Sherman's March. He stood up, refusing to surrender, in the face of a large body of the enemy until he was shot down. Repeatedly his comrades urged him to retreat and the enemy begged him to surrender, but to no avail.

The bullet was found beside his bones which were in an almost perfect state of preservation after being under ground for 44 years!

These incidents referred to happened (sic) on Dec. 14, 1864. The maneuvers of the little squad of men is what saved Sparta from being pillaged and burned by that old arch fiend, Sherman, who evidently thought, by the number of men scouting around, that a large body of men was located in Sparta.

The Ladies Memorial Association have had the body of this brave Kentuckian removed to the side of many of his fallen comrades, where his sleep will be as undisturbed as it has been hitherto and he will rest more securely in the Memory of the thriving inhabitants of our little city, which he once so valiantly defended."

From the Sparta Ishmaelite, 19 April 1907:

"Correct Name"

"Editor Ishmaelilte:

Last week's Ishmaelite contained an account of the removal of the remains of the Confederate Soldier who was killed near Devereux. He belonged to a company commanded by my brother-in-law Capt. Hugh Henry of Louisville, Ky. Capt. Henry while on a visit to me, many years ago gave me a detailed account of the murder of this soldier but I had forgotten the name so I wrote asking the name and particulars and have just received his reply. He writes that the soldier's name was Charles H. Menhier (pronounced Manier). He entered the Confederate service Sept. 13th, 1861 in the Fourth Ky. Infantry which was afterwards changed to Mounted Infantry. He fought in the battles of Shiloh, Vicksburg, Baton Rouge, Jackson, Miss., Murfreesboro, Chickamauga, Missionary Ridge and the Campaign from Dalton to Atlanta. In these engagements he was wounded four times. He was captured near Devereux and brutally murdered Nov. 24th, 1864 after he had surrendered by a Lieut. of a Michigan Calvary Regt. Capt Henry says he was a splendid soldier with a brilliant record. Surely this gallant Kentucky boy, far away from home and loved ones, fighting for what he believed was right, richly deserves every honor that the noble women of Hancock can bestow on his memory.

S. D. Rogers"

Warren Co., Georgia Census Error

A CGGS member reports an apparent error in the microfilmed 1840 Warren Co. federal census: District 156 was not included on the microfilm. This district does appear in Warren Co. on the 1830 federal census and the 1845 Georgia State census. Our member's ancestor, who is shown residing in District 156 on the 1830 federal census and the 1845 state census, is absent from the 1840 federal census. H.T. GILBERT, DEALERS IN DRY GOODS, HATS, CLOTHING, ETC. CONTINUED

Compiled by Helen S. Hudson [redacted]

This is the last of the entries in the H.T. Gilbert Journal. Many of the surnames found in these entries are still found in the Middle Georgia area. It should be remembered that these sales were made during the "hard times" of WW1. Money was scarce. Some items were paid for by barter.

PERRY GEORGIA

This store journal tells a story of an early time in Houston County when people did not rely on "store bought" goods. Many of the entries were for supplies that were used to make clothing: thread, cloth, lace, ribbon, etc. There were also entries for shoes and hats, items that were not made at home. Some of the customers were able to buy ready made clothing but this was not the norm. Though the prices were, to us today, extremely low, you must remember that the wages were also low.

The Journal was found in the sub-basement of the Houston County Courthouse by Billy Mills and me. We took it to the office of Probate Judge Spires since it wasn't a county record . She suggested that we try to contact some of the heirs. After several phone calls, I spoke to a direct heir who lived in Macon and told her of our find and asked her if the family would be agreeable to depositing it in the Perry Library. They agreed that it would be a good place to keep it and that is where it "lives" now. Helen

A few weeks ago a notice was posted on the CGGS website encouraging researchers to submit material to the quarterly. The response has been positive and two articles in this issue result from that notice. I'd like to extend the request to all members of CGGS and readers of this quarterly. Help us to produce a quality publication by sharing your research. My goal this year has been to provide as much variety and content as possible and I need your input and contributions to accomplish that goal. Take a moment to send me an email [redacted] or send a note to my home address: [redacted]) and tell me what you would like to see in the CGGS quarterly. Are we covering the counties that interest you? Would you like to know more about the various genealogical libraries in our area? Or, what aspects of research and history would you like to see articles on in this quarterly?

In this issue is an article by William "Bill" Henry. Mr. Henry was the editor of the CGGS quarterly for a number of years and edited many of the fine books published by this society. He worked long hours to ensure the quality of the publications that carried the CGGS name and he has been missed by us all since his death in 1996. At the time of his death he was working on the Superior Court Minutes of Crawford Co., Ga. Bill's widow, Marion, has kindly agreed for portions of that manuscript to be run in the CGGS quarterly and Helen Hudson has prepared several installments from Bill's material. Thank you very much Marion and Helen.

I would also like to thank sincerely each contributor in this issue. They have prepared for you items on wills, deeds, a cemetery, an old school in Macon, court minutes, Bibles and queries. Happy hunting!

Note: Although it is not known by this author if the following legal definition strictly applied in Georgia courts in the early 1800s, it is offered here for the enlightenment of the reader.
"Rule nisi" – A rule which will become imperative and final unless cause be shown against it…commands the party to show cause why he should not be compelled to do the act required, or why the object of the rule should not be enforced.

Bellevue School of Macon, Ga.

by Nancy Douglass, [redacted]

Bellevue School was located on Lake Street at the turn of the twentieth century. In about 1918 a new brick school was built on Napier Avenue. My Grandfather, Robert Lee Merritt who lived with his family around the corner on Ayers Road, provided at least part of the land for the School to the Bibb County School system. My mother and her siblings went to school in one or both of these buildings. In my collection are several class pictures with the names of the students written on the back.

My Aunt Nancy Merritt Banks also shared some memories of her schooldays at Bellevue:

> The Lake Street building was pine clapboard construction consisting of five large rooms with high windows for light and ventilation. There was no electricity. Heat was provided by a big, round, iron, wood and coal burning stove in the center hall. Transoms over the doors also provided ventilation. Four teachers had two or three classes in each room. The principal's office was on one side. The building was set on rock pillars with no underpinning.
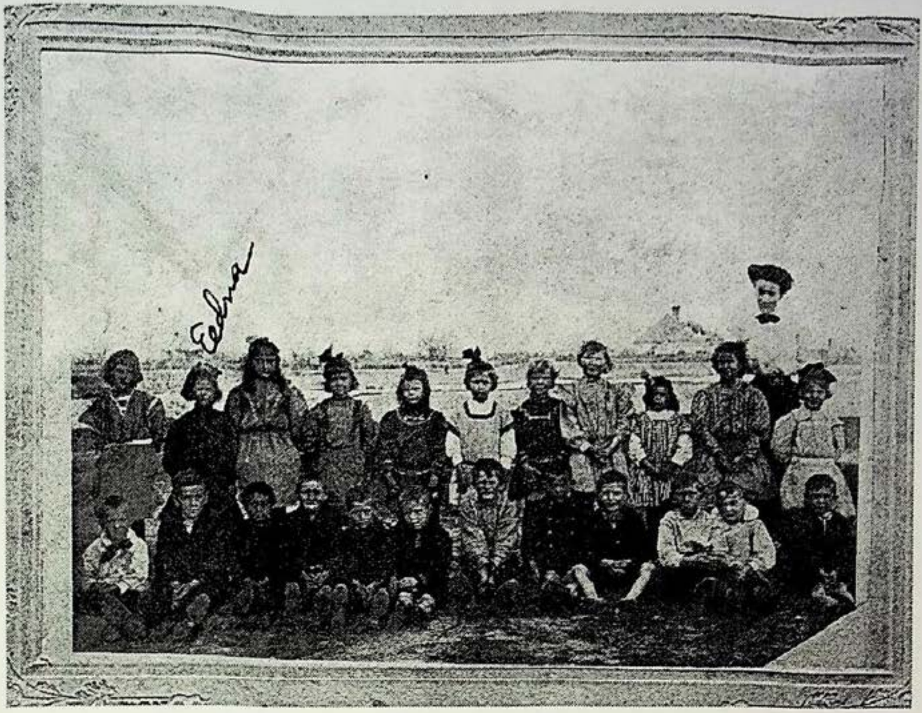
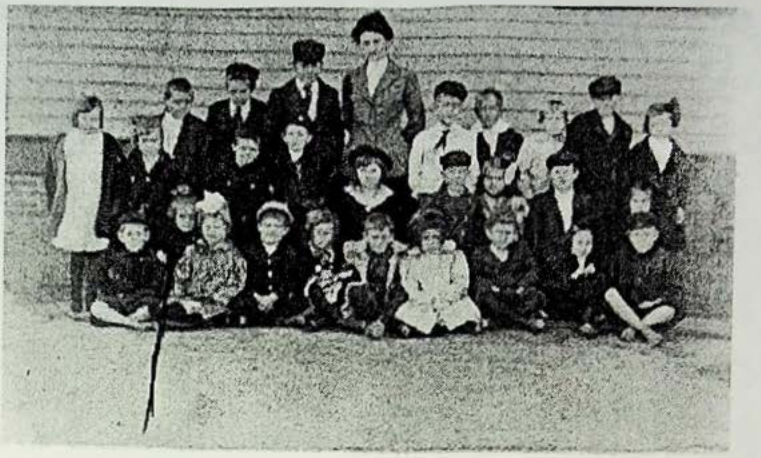
> In 1916 or 17 Army tents were placed on land adjacent to the school and at recess the children could watch them out of the side windows. One day a great commotion occurred when a small airplane flew over. Few had ever seen one before and the students could not be restrained from looking out the windows.



The earliest Bellevue school class picture I have is a first grade class from 1908/09. The school was on Lake Road in Macon, GA then. Miss Nannie Gibson was the teacher and the students names as listed on the back were: Laura Cook, Edna Merritt, Juanita Harrill, Arelia Morris, Jessie Palmer, Sally Calhoun, Mary Hill, Julia Silas, Jenet Tharpe, Alberta Berkner, Margaret White, Will Alley Dix, Elmo Patton, Shelby Scott, Riley Haden, Karl Parmenter, Willie Perkins, Henry Minor, Bonnie Cass, Ira Priauy, Salvador Luchichi, Julius McCallum, and William Brooker.



This picture shows the 1910/11 first grade class at Bellevue School on Lake Road. Some of the students are named on the back of the picture: Clara Greene, George Bowers, Charles, David Bowers, Mrs. Douglas, Billie Brooks, Harriet McCallum, Eugene Howard, Shelby Scott, Pauline Bronson, William Tucker, Daisy Merritt and Mildred Williams.

Bellevue School

This is the seventh grade class in 1924. Some of the students in the picture are teacher and principal Miss Edmonson, Nancy Banks, Rex & Roy Harrison (twins), Rosemond Bryant (with the long curls), Charles Harris, Bessie Harrison, Martha Allen, and Louise Thomas.

ALFRED NELSON CEMETERY

Contributed by Sherrie Mixon Nelson

[redacted]

The Alfred Nelson Cemetery is a small family cemetery in Houston County, Georgia. It is located on Hwy 41 about 1.5 miles north of Perry, directly across from Rehoboth Baptist Church. There are two very old cedar trees on the ditch bank that somewhat mark its existence. There are also two Highway right-of-way markers that mark its North-South boundaries, parallel to Hwy 41. At this time, we do not know the Western boundaries.

There are a few markers--no names have yet been discovered. The markers are in very poor condition. Through probing, we believe there are 9-15, possibly more, graves. We also believe some of the markers have sunk several inches below ground surface. If we can uncover these, names might be discovered.

When I began researching the Nelson family, I quickly found several death notices that referred to the Nelson family burying ground, the Nelson cemetery 3 ½ miles north of Perry, or the Nelson cemetery on the Gaddy place. Collecting clues from these notices, I then began researching the Nelson family deeds. I was sure it would be a simple process to pin down the exact location of the cemetery. However, Alfred's family was large (at least eleven children), and the deeds were many. I soon realized that this was not going to be as easy as I had first hoped. My husband and I visited several older distant cousins, hoping that they could tell us more about the location of the cemetery. Finally, we visited Mrs. Tommie Hunt of Perry, Georgia. She was in her eighties but still very sharp. She told us that the cemetery was on the West side of the highway that there were two very old cedar trees marking the whereabouts of this cemetery. Concluding our visit, we anxiously got in our car and traveled north on Hwy 41 from Perry. The cedar trees were easy to spot. At last, we had discovered the Nelson family burying ground. Since that time, I have found that the cemetery was omitted from deeds beginning in the early 1900s. However, one particular deed described some highway improvements being made by the State of Georgia. I checked the Georgia Highway maps and found one that clearly stated "Nelson Cemetery – 7 Graves" complete with its approximate location.

Lesson Learned: When trying to locate an old family cemetery, use a wide variety of resources and above all, NEVER GIVE UP!

Simmons Bible and Family Record

The Bible record on the following pages of William Cleveland Simmons was contributed by Joyce Morgan Klein. Ms. Klein has given this additional history on the Simmons family prior to those generations covered in the Bible:

"William Simmons was born in Virginia in 1745. He came to Georgia by the time of the American Revolution, during which he rendered active service. He participated in the Battle of Kettle Creek, was given a certificate of service signed by Col. Elijah Clarke, and given land in Franklin Co., Ga. in a Bounty Land Warrant (on file at Georgia Dept. of Archives and History).

William Simmons was married twice, first in 1768 to Mary King (1750-1790) and second to Anne King (1759-1810), sister to his first wife. By his first marriage to Mary King, he had 2 sons, William (b. 1769) and John King (b. 1771). By his second marriage to Anne King, there was one son, Allen G. Simmons (1795-1859). By the early 1800s, the family had moved to Jasper Co., Ga., where William Simmons died in 1828. Allen G. Simmons married Mary (Polly) Cleveland and by at least 1827, if not before, they moved to Crawford Co., Ga."

THE FAMILY BIBLE OF WILLIAM CLEVELAND SIMMONS

The following bible information is provided by Mrs Joyce Morgan Klein of [redacted] [redacted]. She invites anyone who is doing research on this family to contact her. The bible has managed to stay in her family through the years. William C. Simmons's youngest daughter, Ella Jane Simmons Steindorff left it to her daughter Verna Steindorff who kept it until her passing in 1990. Now Joyce's sister Jean Morgan Weinbrecht of [redacted] has the duty of the keeper. Joyce has also added some historical information on her family giving some background information on where the family was and in what time frame.

William Cleveland Simmons was born in (?)Jasper or (?)Crawford, County, Georgia, November 29, 1824. His parents were Allen G. Simmons and Mary (Polly) Cleveland. He was probably named after Mary's Father, William Cleveland. According to Census Records and Abstracts from the Georgia Journal Newspaper, and Court Records the family was in Jasper County as late as January, 1824 and in Crawford County by at least 1827, if not before. On November 19, 1846, William C. Simmons married Penelope Matthews. In the 1850 Census, they are listed in Hickory Grove, Crawford County along with two children, James Allen and David Cromwell. William C. Simmons attended Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, PA. In 1857, he received a certificate in Midwifery & Diseases of Women & Children. In November 1859 he received a certificate in Practical Anatomy.

William and Penelope had eleven children, one died as an infant and three died in early childhood, according to the Family Bible Records. The parents of William C. Simmons remained in Crawford County, Georgia until their deaths. Allen G. died January 4, 1859, and Mary died April 16, 1859. By 1860, William and his family had moved to Coffee County, Alabama. They are listed in the 1860 Census there and probably lived there thru the Civil War. James Allen, the oldest son, enlisted in the State Militia in Elba, Coffee County, in September, 1864. After the war at some time, the family moved to Butler County, Alabama where Penelope Simmons died June 7, 1868. According to relatives in Butler County, she is buried in Shiloh Cemetery there. Later that year on September 13, 1868, Dr. Simmons married Mary Alice Brazeale and they had three children. The 1870 Census lists the family still in Butler County where they remained for the remainder of their lives. One of their sons, Thomas J. Simmons, born June 25, 1837, studied law, served in the Civil War, and later became Chief Justice for the Supreme Court of the State of Georgia.

Besides being a Physician, William was also an Elder and preacher of Shiloh Baptist Church. He, Mary Alice, and several other family members are buried in Shiloh Cemetery.

We the grand Jurors ...his honor Judge STRONG ...and appreciate the attentions of the Solicitor General R. L. SIMMS toward this body. We the grand jury present MICHAEL WELCH for the offense of retailing spirituous liquors in said county without license on the second day of September 1830——GEORGE MOORE. We allow the tax collector for 1830 the sum of forty-one dollars and thirty-three cents on the state tax and twenty-four dollars and eighty and three-fourths cents on the county tax. We also allow him seven dollars and thirty-seven cents on the state tax, and four dollars and forty-two cents on the county tax as an error committed by the receiver. We... find them correct with the exception of two hundred dollars paid to HENRY CREW, which was paid without any order of court. We...find a balance of one hundred thirty-seven dollars and thirty-three and three-fourths cents. We recommend the Inferior Court of this county appoint a committee to examine the actings and doings of all former Treasurers...We present as a public grievance the letting and building of the Court House in the county aforesaid as it does not appear of record...or public notice given. Using Court Writs in Genealogical Research

By Georgette Lipford

In the quest for information on our ancestors court writs should not be overlooked. The minutes from Superior and Inferior Court cases will provide the names of the parties involved, the date and the outcome of a suit or court action. Yet, the writs if available, will contain the details of the case, for the writ is actually the lawyer's "presentment" (or pleadings) to the court.

In these pleadings can be found many details of genealogical interest, including proof of relationships. For example, the Superior Court Minutes of Warren Co. Ga. for 15 April 1857 show, "Job and William Hunter by William G. Wilcher, Guardian et al vs Green H. Hunter, admr" in an Equity suit. However, the Superior Court Writs corresponding to the case show that Job and William Hunter are suing for their share of their grandfather's estate, that their grandfather is Job Hunter and that their father is Bryant J. Hunter who died in 1843. Also named are their sisters Rebecca Scarborough and Eliza Milborn. In addition to the death dates of their grandfather and grandmother, the names of their uncles are also sworn to in the writs. Many of these details on this family are not found in any other record.

In divorce cases, the court minutes only show that one spouse is suing the other for divorce, "Libel for divorce". If one is lucky enough to find this action in the court writs, the details of the sins of the offending spouse are frequently recorded. So sometimes writs are not only informative but entertaining as well.

Unfortunately, writs are not as accessible as other county records. For many Georgia counties, the writs (if they have survived), have not been microfilmed. A survey of the LDS Library catalog on CD reveals writs available on microfilm only for three of the 27 counties covered by CGGS. Seven other counties that have writs on microfilm have been added to this list:

Chatham Co.	Writs 1861-1868
Clarke Co.	Superior Ct. Writs 1802-1904, Inferior Ct. Writs 1801-1852
Hancock Co.	Superior Ct. Writs 1807-1901, Inferior Ct. Writs 1800-1876
Monroe Co.	Superior Ct. Writs 1831-1893
Montgomery Co.	Superior Ct. Writs 1869-1906
Richmond Co.	Superior Ct. Writs 1802-1839, Inferior Ct. Writs 1799-1857
Taliaferro Co.	Superior Ct. Writs 1826-1904, Inferior Ct. Writs 1826-1839
Upson Co.	Superior Ct. Writs 1828-1902, Inferior Ct. Writs 1824-1866
Warren Co.	Superior Ct. Writs 1818-1906, Inferior Ct. Writs 1843-1858
Wilkes Co.	Superior Ct. Writs 1799-1909, Inferior Ct. Writs 1803-1865

These microfilm records can be ordered through an LDS Family History Center (Macon and Perry) or at the Genealogical Room of the Washington

Memorial Library in Macon. (Or they may be available at other research facilities) The LDS catalog can be searched online at www.familysearch.com.

The following transcription of a Superior Court Writ from Warren Co., Ga. illustrates details of life in another time. In this case a merchant from Augusta is suing to recover money due him on the account of Narcissa C. Battle. In preparing for her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Battle purchased material, thread, lace, etc. for the wedding clothes. A detailed list of that merchandise is included as part of the case.

A Letter Between Sisters

Contributed by Sue Bassett Folawn

The following letter was written by Harriet Bassett Pattishall to her sister, Mary Bassett Clark in 1863. Both women were the daughters of Stephen and Jane (Morris) Bassett, who settled near Byron, Ga. in 1828. The family arrived in Jones Co., Ga. from Barnwell, S.C. about 1820 and remained in the area for the rest of their lives. Stephen and Jane Bassett, the Clarks and the Pattishalls are all buried in Shiloh Methodist Churchyard near Byron. Siblings of Mary and Harriet, including William F. Bassett, Stephen Elisha Bassett and Georgia Bassett (Melvin) settled around Powersville and Fort Valley, Ga. There are still Bassett descendents in the area.

Harriett was married to Jackson Pattishall. They were the parents of 13 children, one of whom died in the Civil War. Mary and her husband, Wiley Clark had 9 children. She and her family lived just east of Powersville. Mary lost 2 sons and her husband during the war. When it was all over, Mary homesteaded their farm and raised her 3 children that remained at home. She outlived all but one of her siblings and died at age 86 in Monroe Co., Ga.

At home Aug 9th 1863

Author's note: There are early Houston County records referring to the Buzzard's Roost Ferry on the Ocmulgee River in the 11th land district of the county. It may have been near the present day town of Kathleen Ga.

Grandmother Grant's father was Elias Wright born in 1800. His daughter Mary E. married Isaiah Grant. William Grant (Isaiah Grant's father) married Martha McGee in 1850– both were 25 years old.

(Editorial Note–Stonewall Jackson was a Corps Commander who died of wounds received at Chancellorsville, Va., May, 1863. The 45th Georgia Infantry was part of Gen. J.R. Anderson's brigade, Gen. A.P. Hill's Division when the brigade was formed in 1862. After the seven days battles around Richmond, Va., Gen. Anderson resigned and the command went to Gen. E. L. Thomas with whom the 45th would serve until the end. It was in every major battle the Army of Northern Virginia participated in from 1862 through 1865 with the exception of Antietam when the regiment remained at Harper's Ferry to guard captured supplies and prisoners.)

Oglethorpe Co. Ga. Records on Microfilm

Oglethorpe County was created in 1793 from Wilkes County. Between 1794 and 1842 its boundaries shifted several times and Oglethorpe gained or lost land to Greene, Madison, Clarke and Taliaferro counties. As evidenced by the list below, Oglethorpe is rich in records. This list was compiled from the LDS Family History Library catalog CD and is meant to serve as a checklist for research. The LDS microfilm reel numbers are listed beside each record. The asterisk in the "WML" column denotes microfilm also housed at the Genealogy Room at Washington Memorial Library in Macon, Ga. Microfilm on this list can be ordered from an LDS Family History Center or at Washington Memorial Library.

C.G.G.S. QUARTERLY SURNAME INDEX VOL. 23, FOR THE YEAR 2001

Note: This surname index covers Quarterlies No. 1 through No. 4 for the year 2001. Pages 1-66 are in No. 1, Pages 67-116 are in No. 2, Pages 117-175 are in No. 3, and Pages 176-234 are in No. 4. A dash between page numbers means that the name also appears on each page between such numbers. For example, 5-10 means that the name appears on pages 5,6,7,8,9,and 10. Check very carefully for a name may appear more than one time on the designated page. Surnames are spelled in many forms. Look for all possible (and improbable) spellings. Ziegler has been spelled many ways including one that begins with a S. At times documents contain more than one spelling for the same surname. The surname may have been spelled the way the original recorder heard it and be very different from the spelling that your family uses today.

Crawford Superior Court, February Term 1831. The Grand Jurors, chosen, selected, and sworn for the County of Crawford in the discharge of their duties are happy to congratulate our fellow citizens on the peace, health, and prosperity existing among us. There are no serious violations or refractions of the Statutory Laws of our county that have come to our knowledge worthy of presentment nor but few bills of indictment. We are happy to find that litigation in our court is so much diminished as to enable his Honor to dismiss us at the early period. We have examined our county books and find that some balances are still due the county - and in these our presentments we notify the officers that they use more vigilance and — industry in the discharge of their duties. We have examined our public buildings, and the Jail we find in a bad order and recommend that the debtor's room be repaired immediately. In these our presentments we would notify our court that we will be glad to see our court house completed and all the old standing debts against the county discharged as soon as possible and convenient. We recommend our road commissioners, generally to be more vigilant in the discharge of their duties as there are some vacancies where there are no overseers, particularly on the road from Colladinsville to CALHOUN's Ferry or a part of it.

We present our Town Commissioners for neglect of duty on the street in the Town of Knoxville. We allow the Tax Collector of our county as an insolvent list, thirty-two dollars and sixty-two & a half cent. The Solicitor also has our thanks. February 20, 1831.

Crawford Superior Court August Term 1831
The grand jurors ...Jail of our county as being in an unfit siuation to receive prisoners... We recommend the Commissioners of Knoxville to have the corporate limits kept in good order, — square be in Knoxville & by-laws be observed. We recommend the Inferior Court appoint Road Commissioners for the Knoxville district. We allow the tax collector of said county, an insolvent list of sixty-eight dollars and ninety-two and a half cents being the principal part of the insolvents and we have just reasons to believe that there is one hundred dollars of the poor school fund ... in one of the Trustees hands. We recommend earnestly that the Trustees of the Inferior Court would see the matter properly attended to ...

MANN FAMILY BIBLE

Contributed by Sherry Nelson

Lionel H. Brown of Stone Mountain, Georgia provided a copy of this bible record to Sherrie Mixon Nelson in January 2002. The original bible record is in the possession of Mr. Robert Baldwin of [redacted].

The Mann family bible contains the names of all thirteen children of Joel Wyatt Mann and his wife, Ann Elizabeth Fitzgerald. On the reverse of the page listing births of their children are the death dates of the two children that died young. Middle names of these children are recorded here that are difficult to find in other records. The second (torn) page lists slaves' births. It is interesting to note that the word "borne" is spelled with an "e" on births recorded through 1858. The births recorded in 1861, 1862 and 1863 use the spelling "born." This is an indication that two different persons recorded entries in this record. In addition, the middle name of Dr. Charles Mann appears to be scratched over and the name "Reuben" written above it. Dr. Charles Mann used the middle name Regulus as a student studying medicine at Thomas Jefferson University in Philadelphia, PA. His name is also recorded as Dr. Charles Regulus Mann in the Directory of Deceased American Physicians.

Joel and Elizabeth Mann were prominent citizens of Perry, Georgia where they lived their entire adult lives. They, along with several of their children, are buried in the Evergreen Cemetery in Perry. A detailed biographical sketch prepared by Lionel Brown can be found in the Heritage Book of Houston County, GA 1821-2001, published in 2001 by the Houston County Historical Book Committee and County Heritage, Inc. Many thanks to the Brown and Baldwin families for granting us permission to publish this important record of an early Houston County family.

For more information on this record, contact Sherrie Mixon Nelson, [redacted].

May Reed Averilly Letter

Contributed by Donna S. Gurr
[redacted]

The following letter was found in papers belonging to Madge Elizabeth Cook Kimbrough who was Donna Gurr's grandmother. The letter, written by Miss May Reed Averilly, asks for financial assistance for Mrs. Ella King Newson Trader of Washington D.C. Mrs. Trader contributed greatly of her time and energy to hospital service during the Civil War as detailed in this letter. The letter and Mrs. Trader's story are poignant reminders of the sacrifices and contributions that history sometimes forgets.

New Orleans, May 1911

Cochran Chapter, N.D.C.
Cochran, Ga.

Dear Friends:

Passing through the beautiful city of Washington, en route to my home in New Orleans, during October of last year, I met and learned to love an old lady, whose fortune, beauty, talents and energy had been sacrificed on the alter of the Civil War. Her championship of this cause was an all absorbing theme to her then, as now, and was prompted by her unselfish desire to alleviate the suffering of the soldiers. She has been referred to as the "Florence Nightingale of the Confederacy", but it was something of a shock to learn that very few of the U.D.C.'s have recognized her work, as England did the Florence Nightingale of the Crimean War. Compare England's tribute with what we have done for this woman. Can we feel satisfied with our work?

For the benefit of those who do not know this lady, it gives me pleasure to introduce her-Mrs. Ella King Newson (now Trader), 1112 13th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Trader is a native of Brandon, Miss., daughter of the late Rev. T.S.N. King, a Baptist minister of prominence and ability, and sister of Major Stanhope King.

When the Civil War began in 1861, Mrs. Trader was just twenty-three, wealthy, beautiful, and accomplished. Taking her servants and collecting hospital supplies, she went to Memphis, where her work in the army hospitals commenced. Later she became Chief Matron of the Hospital Department in that part of the army commanded by Generals Bragg, Johnston and others; here she remained until the close of our memorable, heroic Confederate struggle. Through Belmont, Bowling Green, Nashville, Corinth, Chattanooga, and Atlanta, down to the capitulation of Gen. Jos. E. Johnston, in North Carolina, she was identified with the field and general hospital of the Western Army. To this hospital service, she gave order and system, value and efficiency, much above any similar effort in that direction. Prominent in the history of her charities and labors may be mentioned signal and valuable services done by her in the cause of suffering humanity, while located at Marietta and Atlanta, during the eventful months covered by the remarkable campaign from Dalton to Jonesboro. The Army of Tennessee especially can testify to her work.

Shortly before the fall of Ft. Donelson, at the Confederate Hospital in Bowling Green, there were perhaps 4,000 sick and wounded. It is said the scenes of distress beggar description. The Confederates were being hard pressed for troops and provisions, and the sick and dying needed immediate attention. Mrs. Trader entered this vast Hospital Barracks (under the auspices of Gen. Floyd) and ministered to the sick, and comforted the dying. She actually superintended the shipment of carloads of stores from Memphis and other places, with heroic self-sacrifice, working day and night to relieve the suffering of these men.

The "Asheville Advance" in 1885 published an article, in which was stated "the name of Mrs. Newson will challenge the admiration of the world and kindle a flame of devotion in all true Southern hearts", but this "flame" has never been kindled. The South has not shown any gratitude to Mrs. Trader. She is today, at the age of 73, daily earning her own living, with only an apparently ungrateful South as a reminiscence of her loving service during the war. I was ashamed to admit that I was one of the many who had never heard of her work, nor the part she played in the annals of our history. I feel that many of the Chapters are in the same state of ignorance regarding this wonderful old lady, and although I am not a U.D.C., yet I feel it is my duty to tell you about her, that you might yet 'render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's'.

She married again shortly after the war, but in a few years was widowed a second time, with the support and care of a little girl to face. Her life since then has been one desperate struggle for a living, and now that she is fast reaching a time in her life, when she will be absolutely forced to "give up", I have induced her to allow me to make this plea in her behalf, feeling sure that now the chance is given the Chapters to show their deep appreciation of Mrs. Trader's work, they will come forward to erect, this, a living monument, to what a woman did for the South during '61-65. I might add here that Mrs. Trader's impoverished financial condition was caused by the destruction of her property, upwards of $14,000.00, by the federal army, and the burning by the Confederate Authorities of 200 bales of her cotton, to prevent its seizure by the enemy.

Mrs. Trader is unfortunate in not having the use of one eye, and is almost totally deaf-so you, my readers, can see how much she stands in need of your loving thoughts and deeds. Although the years are going by quickly, it is not too late to do for her. There is yet time to make her name stand out just as prominently in history as are those of the famous men handed down from generation to generation.

The object of this letter is to create a life annuity for Mrs. Trader, by the subscription pledge of $5.00 per year from the different Chapters of the U.D. C., as a slight recognition of her distinguished services. A copy of this letter is today being sent to every U.D.C. Chapter, and it is hoped the responses will be quickly forthcoming.

The pledge attached is to be signed and mailed to the Commercial-Germania Trust and Savings Bank, of New Orleans, La., the amount ($5.00) to be remitted on June 1st, of every year, until not needed by Mrs. Trader. The Commercial-Germania Trust and Savings Bank will receive the remittances for account and subject to the order of Mrs. Ella King Trader. After sending the signed pledge to the Bank, to be listed, an acknowledgement of the receipt of this letter is to be sent to the writer.

This sum will insure Mrs. Trader an amount sufficient to keep her home from the work she now performs, and at the same time will enable her to devote that time to the writing of her personal experiences during the war, which will be interesting history for the U.D.C. Chapters in years to come. The pledge will mean but a small tax to the individual member- truly a trifle compared with its result to Mrs. Trader.

I refer you to Mrs. Trader for verification of what I have written herein. She can fully establish her identity, and will be glad to prove the truth of all I have tried to explain in this message.

I trust you will pardon the length of this letter, but there is much one could write, and then but half tell of Mrs. Trader and her work. It is my earnest prayer that each Chapter become acquainted with her, so that she may be glad to unfold from the life of reticency she has lived all these years. The motives that prompt this appeal are the writer's love of justice and truth, and the desire that the last years of this dear old lady's life be made happy in the knowledge that she may be free of care and worry, and that the daughters of those to whom she ministered years ago are happy in ministering "unto her."

I thank you kindly for any consideration you may give this appeal, and hope to hear from you favorably.

(signed) Miss May Reed Averilly
318 Delaronde St., New Orleans, La.

For the sincerity of the motives prompting the above, I refer you to:

Crawford Superior Court February Term 1832

We the Grand Jurors chosen and sworn for the County of Crawford at the present term in the discharge of our respective duties are happy to congratulate our fellow citizens on the very propitious nature of our public affairs. We are gratified to see that our country abounds with all the material necessities and comforts of life in great abundance made cheap and acceptable by every class of our community while we enjoy in a very great degree the desirable blessings of peace, health, prosperity and a good state of Society. We are pleased to find that there are no serious violations or infractions of the laws of our county that have come to our knowledge worthy of presentment, and but one bill of indictment submitted to our consideration the present time. We are happy to find that litigation has so much diminished in our courts as to admit of our discharge at this early —. We have had under our examination the books of the clerk of the Inferior Court and Court of Ordinary and find them entirely satisfactory and evencing (sic) much neatness and credit to the respective clerks. We find in examination of the Books of the County treasurer a small balance of Cash in favor of the County. His books seem to have been fairly kept. We recommend to the Inferior Court that no commission be allowed to the County treasurer for monies that does not actually come into his hand as County Treasurer. We deprecate the practice that has prevailed in our Inferior Courts of meeting in Chambers - or in vacations and passing orders for the payment of money. We would recommend that no order should be passed for the payment of money only at the regular term of the court and then not by bare majority of the court. We also recommend that no order be passed in the credit of the county when there is no avails on the treasury of the county to meet that order. We further recommend that due regard be paid to the age of orders in the payment of monies. On taking leave of his honor INDIGO STRONG, we tender him our undivided thanks for the impartial, prompt, and efficient discharge of his official duties at the present time. We also tender our thanks to the Solicitor General, W. POE, for his polite & respectful attention to this body during the service of the present term and for the vigilant discharge of his official duties as Solicitor General.

We request that these our presentments be published in the Macon Telegraph.

SOLDIERS OF THE GREAT WAR

During a recent browse in the Genealogy/History Room at the Perry-Houston County (Georgia) Library I found a set of SOLDIERS OF THE GREAT WAR in Three Volumes on the shelves. The copyright date is 1920. It was a Memorial Edition and was published by Soldiers Record Publishing Association. This set contains all the soldiers from each state of the United States that died as a result of WWI. It also has pictures of many of them. The pictures are small bust shots, some in military uniform, but many in civilian clothing. The soldiers from Georgia that are pictured are listed by name and home. Some of the home towns listed under the pictures are different from those in the typed list. Some of the towns are spelled differently from today, they are listed the way they appear in the book. If your family member appears and you would like a copy of this picture, contact me and I will send you one. The pictures do not reproduce well as many of the ones in the book are of poor quality. If you find your family member and he is not pictured, check with Washington Memorial Library in Macon, Georgia. The state of Georgia published a book with pictures of the Georgia soldiers who died as a result of the war and there are pictures in it that do not appear in this book. (The only picture that I have of my great-uncle came from the Georgia book but his picture does not appear in this set of books.) The "INTRODUCTION" is the beginning of the information from this set of books. (Helen Shirah Hudson [redacted])

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this work is to present a record, complete and accurate, of the American soldiers who lost their lives in Europe in the World War.

Before the Armistice was signed, which ended hostilities, the writer, then in training camp, was impressed with the importance and value of such a record as would permanently embody the sacrifices of the men who gave all for the cause of freedom on the battlefields of France and other fronts of the great conflict. The plan of the work was outlined and details for assembling the photographs and collecting other data for these volumes were worked out. The plan was made known to Mr. F. G. Howe, then engaged in war work in Washington, and to Mr. A.C. Doyle, who was in training camp. An association was formed to assemble the data, compile and publish the work. Mr. Howe immediately began the collecting of materials and was later joined by Mr. Doyle. To them is due in large measure the success of launching the undertaking.

We soon learned that it would be impossible to obtain the photographs of all the soldiers who died in the great war. Many left no photographs, the relatives of many others were reluctant to part with the picture they had, and in some cases conditions were met most unfavorable to the enterprise, but with an abiding faith in the value of this record to the relatives and friends of the departed soldiers, and to the public as a historical record, the association continued its labors with an increasing degree of success. The collection of materials continued for a period of over one year, during which time they were made ready for publication.

In all cases the best photograph available, in many instances the only one in existence, was procured. Some were not clear, while others were printed on photographic paper badly suited to reproduction, but despite these difficulties the record is measurably complete, and the results beyond expectations. A few photographs of wounded men were included, where convenient in assembling the pages.

As a supplement to the photographic record the official list of the men who lost their lives in the war is included. It has been accurately compiled from the Official Bulletin and its successor. While the list of names is based wholly upon the official records of the Government as shown in its official bulletin, the information accompanying the photographs is that given by the relatives of soldiers. A strict alphabetical arrangement has been followed in the list of names, but owing to the manner in which the photographs had to be placed, an alphabetical arrangement of them was not practicable. It was also found necessary to place a supplement at the end of Vol. III, containing a few photographs from the different states, following which will appear an index giving the page on which all photographs not alphabetically arranged will be found.

We are much indebted to the relatives and friends of the soldiers, to individual members of the American Red Cross and to numerous educational institutions of the country for cooperation in collecting photographs. Acknowledgment is also made of services and advice given by the officers of the Standard Engraving Company, and the Andrew B. Graham Company, both of Washington, engraver and printer, respectively, of this work, in planning and outlining the contents of the volumes and the quality of workmanship and materials composing their mechanical make up.

Throughout our labors in the preparation of these volumes it has seemed especially proper that a record such as this be made of the Nation's soldier dead. By their acts their names are indelibly inscribed upon the annals of American History; their glory is immortal–part of the glorious history of America and of the world. We cannot add luster to their memory. We have only sought to keep bright in this permanent form the memory of their noble sacrifice. It is our earnest desire that these volumes shall be a constant reminder of the precious price paid by brave men in a national crisis for liberty. May the citizenship of this Republic be inspired with as lofty ideals in the perpetuation of American institutions as were these men in defending them!

The following Georgia soldiers who died during WW I have their pictures in this book. As a whole they are not clear, however if one of these men is a member of your family contact me and I will send you a copy of the photograph. They are oval in shape with their name, home and death status listed below the picture, twenty per page (small and due to the quality don't think they would enlarge very well). The page number is the one from the book. All are not in alphabetical order. Some of the home "names" are rather strange and I do not recognize them but they are listed here as they are in the book. Check all the lists, I found some soldiers listed as one rank in the listings but another under the picture. The way they died may also be incorrectly listed so be sure to check for that also.

At Washington Memorial Library in Macon, there is a book that only contains information and photos of Georgia soldiers who died as a result of this war. It contains pictures that may not be listed here. For instance, my great uncle's picture is in the Georgia publication but not in this one.

Many of these soldiers died of disease as is noted. This would have probably been the flu epidemic that took so many lives during that time frame

Research Tip

Two CGGS members who use Ancestry.com's census images online had ancestors that could not be located in Ancestry.com's index by the usual surname search (including every conceivable spelling variation). When a search by first name was done, the missing ancestor was found. For example, an extensive search was conducted for Wesley Speights in the 1920 census. This researcher already knew that Wesley Speights was in Texas in 1918 and after 1920. When the search turned up no one of that name or anything close, a search was done using only Wesley in the first name field. The researcher then found a young man with a first name of Wesley, of the right age in the expected county of Blanco, Texas and with a wife of the right age. This particular page of the census was extremely light and it was impossible to read the surname of not only this person but also anyone on that page. While it is not certain that this Wesley is without a doubt the correct one, this process at least gave the researcher a place to start. Other similar searches have been successful using first name only in earlier indexed census years on Ancestry.com. These two members caution that this would not be feasible for a very common first name.

Jonathan Hobbs of North Carolina, and Some Descendants

By: Ralph Hobbs

Jonathan Hobbs lived in East central North Carolina in the mid 1700s in what was old Dobbs county. Dobbs county was divided up, to form several counties, so it no longer exists. He lived near what is now the border between Halifax and Hertford Counties. He had one son of record; Benjamin Hobbs who also lived in Dobbs County.

Benjamin Hobbs had the following children: Jonathan (sometimes called John), William, Henry, Drury, Joseph, daughter Leddy. Benjamin kept a journal, which is now in the Georgia dept. of History and Archives, and is available for research. Benjamin wrote in a flowering hand, and used words that cause me to think he was an educated man. Benjamin died in 1784. After that, John continued the entries in the journal until he migrated to Georgia, and settled in the Buckeye Community of Laurens County, about 5 miles Northeast of Dublin. Daughter Leddy married a ballard, and the journal came down in the Ballard family. The ballards had lived in North Carolina, and we believe they lived near the Hobbs there. They also settled in the Buckeye community in what they called Rose Hill Plantation.

Most of the material here deals with the descendants of Drury, Benjamin's youngest son When he was about twelve years old, he wrote in his father's journal " Billy Mc Corkle is my best friend". His father did not erase it. Drury married Sarah (Sally) Sills in Halifax County in 1790. In the 1790 census, they are listed in Halifax County with no children, and no slaves. They also migrated to Georgia in the late 1790s and settled in the Buckeye community. Drury and Sarah had the following children:

1- Bolling, born in N. C. in 1796, died in Laurens County in 1856. He was a farmer and ordained Baptist minister, living in the Marie Community, five miles North of Dublin. He and two other men organized the First Baptist church of Dublin, and he was it's second minister. He married Sarah Clements, July 27, 1820.

2- J. Larry Hobbs, born March 18, 1798 in N. C. He married Mary (Polly) Keen, Sept. 7, 1820. Mary's father served in the Continental army in the Revolutionary War. This means that any female descendant of this Marriage is eligible to join the Daughters of the Revolution. Larry died Sept. 7, 1868 at his home near Dexter, Ga. His home is still standing, and Is in near mint condition. The family cemetery is located about 50 yards Behind the house, and is well kept. He was noted for the eloquence of his Sermons. In the minutes of the Ebenezer Baptist Assn. In 1856, there is a Comment about his eloquence.1802/1867.

Berry Hobbs, 1802/1867. He married Elizabeth---. They had a son named Berry. We don't know if he is the same Berry Hobbs that Hobbs New Mexico is named for, but we do know that Berry, Jr. went to Alabama, then out west somewhere. All they know in Hobbs, New Mexico is that a Berry Hobbs came from Alabama and set up a grocery store. He later applied to the government to have mail delivery. When it started, they called it Hobbs, New Mexico.

4- John Love Hobbs, born in Georgia Sept. 5, 1805, died Sept. 17, 1888. He married M. Eliza baker, the daughter of a Baptist minister for whom Baker Church, just South of Rentz, Ga. Is named. John was not a Baptist Minister, but each year in the minutes of the Ebenezer Baptist convention He was listed as a delegate. First from Poplar Springs, North, then he Moved into the Dexter area, and was a delegate from there.

Bolling, Berry, and J. Larry were ordained Baptist ministers at a time when most were "licensed". They were students and followers of Jesse mercer. Whenever Jesse Mercer made his rounds, he would always spend the night with Bolling in Dublin. When each brother was ordained, Jesse Mercer gave them an inscribed bible. The last bible was destroyed in 1915 when a fire burned Morgan Hobbs' home. This was Bolling's bible.

"Drama and scandal" in an Equity File
James and Martha Hammock of Houston Co. Georgia

by Helen S. Hudson

[redacted]

The following documents were transcribed from original records found in the Probate Court of Houston Co., Ga. They are from the Proceedings in Equity, Superior Court of the Macon circuit. They are not county records although some of the same information was later found in the Houston Co. Superior Court records. These are Chancery records and are appeals to the court for financial division or distribution of funds or possessions. Many of the records in this court deal with business debt but occasionally something different is found like the Hammock family drama in this case. Genealogical details like those contained in this particular file can sometimes be found in court records.

James M. Hammock/Hammack (b. ca. 1828) and Martha Emerson/Emmerson (b. ca. 1829) are my gggrandparents. Their daughter, Mary Thomas Hammock married Wiley Leverett as his third wife. Mary Thomas (called Tommie or Mary Tom) and Wiley were the parents of two children, Homer and Alma Pauline (b. 1890). Alma married Clayton C. Leverett, a distant cousin. Their eight children included my mother Bessie.

In 1850 James and Martha Hammock are living in Jones Co., Ga. where they had married in 1848. They are listed with their oldest child, John L. and three other Hammocks, Isaac W., 14, Benjamin, 13 and Henry J., 24. These young men may have been James' brothers. By 1860 they had moved to the 9th district of Houston Co. with their 6 children. After the proceedings and incidents described in the following documents, James and Martha reunited. They had another child, Laura, born in Dec. 1858. James may have died while serving in the Civil War. In Sept. 1863 Thomas Stripling petitioned on behalf of his niece, Martha Hammock, for support from James' estate.

The "other woman" in this case, Henrietta Parker is later found living in Macon, Ga. in what appears to be a boarding house. Parker may have been her married name as a "Mrs. Henrietta Parker" married Calvin Moore in Houston Co. in Aug. 1864. I would like to know more about Henrietta and her "adventures". Have fun reading these records and imagine what really went on in the "olden" days.

Hammock, she has been an obedient, true & affectionate wife and has endeavered to discharge faithfully her duties to her said husband. That they have had born to them since their union five children who are still living. The youngest is now an infant under ten months of age, and the oldest is not quite Eight years of age, their names are as follows. John T. Hammock, Sarah T. Hammock, Martha R. Hammock, Mary T. Hammock & James Buchanan Hammock. That the said James M. for a good many years after their marriage treated your oratrix & her children kindly, & your oratrix had no reason to regret her union with him, But some time in February of the present year, he became acquainted with Henrietta Parker, then of said county, a female of easy virture & soon contracted an intimacy with her & from that time to the present, the said James M. Hammock has been in the habit of having carnal & sexual intercourse with the said Henrietta Parker. That he is in the habit of visiting & cohabiting with the said Henrietta, continously from about the first of February to the latter part of May of the present year, when the said Henrietta was removed by the said James M. Hammock, to the city of Macon, county of Bibb, in said State, where she has since continued to reside. That since her removal to the city of Macon the said James M. Hammock has visited her, the said Henrietta, at least once a week & sometimes oftener, and that he generally stayed as long as a day & night at each visit. And your oratrix charges that during the time aforesaid the said James M. Hammock was in the habit of having adulterous intercourse, with the said Henrietta Parker, your oratrix also charges that after his intimacy with the said Henrietta began, he became neglectful of your oratrix & their children. He was morose, having little to say to your oratrix. Excepting when abusing her. That on or about the last of April or the first of May last, he not only abused your oratrix but seized her by the throat & choked her severly & at the same time slapped her on the cheek several times, prehaps a dozen times, in all at that time. He at the same time threatened to kill your oratrix. That your oratrix gave him no provocation for this treatment. That the reason why he was so outrageous was that some one unknown to your oratrix, had burned some outhouses, near the house where

Henrietta Parker & her mother then lived. That the said James M. Hammock, on the third day of this Month, on returning from a visit to Henrietta Parker having been absent from Sunday morning till Monday morning commenced abusing your oratrix & soon began striking her with his hand. After slapping or striking her several times he told her to get out of the house or he would kill her. Your oratrix with her infant in her arms then left the house and while standing at the gate waiting for one of her larger children, he again attacked her with a medium sized wagon whip & struck her several times across the back with the whip. Your oratrix feeling that it was no longer safe or proper to remain in the house, in which they had been living left there & is now dependent upon friends & relatives, for a home maintenance, for herself & her five small children, all of whom are with her. Your oratrix further shewd unto your Honor, that the said James M. Has frequently during the time of his intimacy with the said Henrietta Parker, admitted to your oratrix his intimacy with her & avowed that he loved her better than any other woman.

And your oratrix has given up all hope of reclaiming. Your oratrix has therefore filed her petition for a divorce in the Clerk's office of the Superior Court of said county of Houston, a copy of which is hereto annexed, marked Exhibit A. And which your oratrix prays may be taken as a part of this her Bill. And your oratrix further sheweth that the said James M. Hammock is worth about six thousand dollars as will appear by the Schedule of his property annexed to your oratrix'es petition for a Divorce. And your oratrix further states that the said James M. Hammock has several times since February last threatened to leave this state & leave your oratrix: & more than once he has said that he would take the said Henrietta Parker with him. That recently since the third day of August instant, he has also threatened to leave the state and sell everything he had & turn it into money. Your oratrix therefore has reason to fear & does fear that the said James M. Hammock will leave the State, with his personal property or having sold the whole of his property will leave with the money & leave your oratrix & their children without the means of support.

In tender consideration whereof & inasmuch as your oratrix is without a remedy at common law, your oratrix prays your Honor to grant her the State's Writ of Exeat. Issuing out of & under the seal of this Honorable court to restrain the said James M. Hammock from departing out of the jurisdiction of this Honorable court. And also the State's Writ of Injunction to be directed to the said James M. Hammock restraining him from selling or conveying away his property for the purpose of defeating your oratrixes' claim for a support. And also the writ of Subpoeno Commanding him under a certain penalty therein to be named, personally to be & appear at the next Superior Court of said county, to answer the previous & to stand to & abide such order & decree therein as to your Honor shall seem meet. And your oratrix will ever pray & etc.

David and Francis Stephenton

Contributed by Georgette Lipford

[redacted]

David and Francis Stephenton made their home in Hancock Co., just south of Sparta. As young adults they both worked in cotton mills. After acquiring land, David became a farmer. David Wiley Stephenton's true surname is not known. According to several of his descendants, he was first a Stephens and changed his name to Stephenton. He was using this name as early as 1850 when the census taker found him living with John and Jane Reynolds in the 106th district of Hancock Co., Ga. In each census he reported Georgia as his birth place.

Francis' maiden name was Parr. Her parents are not known, nor are the names of any siblings. Her grandson, Frank Long, reported that she came to Georgia from Tennessee with her family at about age 12 the "night the stars fell". Many of her descendants claim Francis was related to Davy Crockett but that remains unproven. Francis may have been sister to Zachariah Parr who was in Greene Co., Ga. in 1860 and later lived in Russell Co. and Macon Co. Alabama. She also had a nephew named William/Willie Parr who lived outside Atlanta near Stone Mt. in the 1920's.

On Feb. 1, 1862, David and Francis married in Hancock Co. They had 6 known children but only 2 daughters, Carrie Belle and Fannie Lou, would live beyond the age of 23. In 1887 measles took the lives of Mary Stephenton Reece, her baby Duffee, Andrew Stephenton and Wiley Stephenton.

Although not listed in this Bible, Carrie Belle Stephenton married Albert Sidney Johnson in Hancock Co. on Oct. 4, 1896. They had children 8 children and many of their descendants live today in the middle Ga. area.

David and Francis were members of Knowles Chapel Methodist Church near their home. In those church records and other documents the Stephenton name sometimes appears as Stephenson. Francis survived David by 42 years, dying on July 22, 1927. She was called "Po Granny" by grandchildren and great grandchildren. David and Francis are buried at Zebulon Church in Hancock Co.

Surnames of some descendants of this couple include Johnson, Long, Epps, Kinney, Ramey, Lipford and Roberts.

The Bible from which the following entries are taken was published in 1886. On the transcription page the entries are spaced to denote what appears to be different handwriting or different entry dates. The Bible was copied in 1990 while in the possession of a great grandson to Francis and David Stephenton.

ALLEN – HORN

I am researching my direct line and am currently at a dead end. My GGGGGrandfather is Gideon Allen who md. Mary Ann Horn 1828 in Twiggs Co. Ga. They were members of Richland Bapt. Church and relocated to Louisiana 1844. I am seeking Gideon Allen's ancestors. Was John Allen, also in Twiggs Co. by 1821 Gideon's father? The Allens came from S.C. or N.C. early 1820s. Other Allens in the same area of Twiggs Co. as Gideon include Green, William and John W. Allen. Green and Gideon Allen were brothers and left Twiggs about the same time. If anyone has information on any of these families, I would appreciate hearing from you to share information.

Shiloh Methodist Cemetery of Peach Co.

Published by permission of Millie Stewart

This cemetery is located at the end of a road to the west of Hwy. 41, just north of the old location of Miami Valley peach packing shed. It can also be entered from White Rd. Numerous "sinks" can be seen, possibly as many as 150. At the time of the survey there was evidence of vandalism, broken crypts and pieces of stones scattered through the woods. The inscriptions were recorded on 12 May 1993 and 5 March 1994 by Guelda L. Hay, Millie C. Stewart, Davine V. Campbell and Alice Giblin. This cemetery survey also appears on the usgenweb Peach Co. site. (* denotes additional information from Cemeteries & Obituaries of Houston County by Addie P. Howell)

Preservation of Shiloh Cemetery

CGGS members, Addie Howell and Joyce Green, have planned a "clean-up" project for Shiloh Cemetery. Addie and Joyce are both committed to the preservation of any cemetery, large or small. The clean-up is planned to begin soon. Several donations have been made to help purchase Roundup and other supplies. For more information on this project contact Addie Howell at [redacted] or by email: [redacted]

EDWARDS

Seeking death date and place, as well as burial location for: Winnifred Blow Edwards, b. NC 1806, d. Taylor Co., GA or TX ca. 1875, and her sons, Dr. Augustus L. Edwards, b. GA 1826 (reported in Mexico ca. 1887), John Heath Edwards, b. GA 1846 and Asbury Coke Edwards, b. GA ca. 1848 (in Chatfield, TX early 1880s).

82-242 Georgette Lipford, [redacted]

PARR

Seeking information on any descendants of a Parr family living in Greene Co., Ga. in 1859-1860, Winny, age 28, Eliza, age 25, James J., age 26, Frances, age 20 and Zachariah, age 13. Frances married David Stephenton in Hancock Co., Ga. Zachariah married Mary Culverson in Muscogee Co., Ga. and moved to Alabama. Frances and Zachariah were born in Tennessee.

LIPFORD

Cornelius H. Lipford left his wife, Josephine and children, Edward, Ernest, Thomas, Vaden, Joseph, and Cora in Macon, Ga. about 1887. Family stories report that he "ran off" with a niece. Where did he go? Where and when did he die? Josephine and the younger children returned to Virginia. Edward and Ernest remained in Macon. Ernest married Fannie Avant in Bibb Co. in 1898. If the Lipford relatives of 1890 knew anything about what became of Cornelius, they kept that information from their children. Any clue that might help solve this old family mystery would be appreciated.

96-1336 Sherrie M. Nelson, [redacted]

NELSON – SCOTT-SUMMERFORD

Seeking information on WILLIAM NELSON that was married first to JANE SCOTT Sep 23, 1852 and second to HENRIETTA A. SUMMERFORD Aug 29, 1857. Both marriages took place in Houston County GA. William Nelson was born about 1830 in Twiggs Cty GA to Alfred and Mary Pauline Jenkins Nelson. A bibliographical sketch in the Pulaski County History in the 1930s states that "William moved to South Georgia and later to Louisiana where he died. His son Jim became a Baptist minister and was pastor of Mount Pleasant and Friendship churches in this (Pulaski) county." William died just prior to Aug 1863 so the move occurred after the 1850 census and prior to his death in 1863. William had at least three children: William, Eliza Mary and Jim (James). After their father's death, Alfred Nelson, grandfather of William and Eliza was granted guardianship in Houston Cty GA. Later, Alfred's son, George W. Nelson became their guardian. Eliza Mary resided with her grandparents, Alfred and Mary Nelson, on the 1870 Houston Cty GA census. Would like to know where William's family resided between 1850 and 1863. Would like to know where William died as well as what happened to Jane and Henrietta.

SMITH – MIXON-JACKSON-NOLES

Seeking information on the family of David and Rosana Smith shown on the 1850 Twiggs Cty GA census with children George, Thomas, Elizabeth, Caty, and Amanda. Believe Amanda Smith (b. 1842) was later married to Michael Mixon and resided in Lowndes Cty GA. Amanda Smith's brother, George W. Smith (b. 1832) married Amanda Jackson Noles (b. 1831). Amanda Jackson had previously been married to Daniel Noles and had children: Martha J. (b. 1846) and Mary E. (b. 1850). George and Amanda had children Benjamin (b. 1852), Green A. (b. 1855) and Rosalea Ann (b. 1860). The 1860 Twiggs Cty Census shows Precilla Jackson, age 74 (b. 1786), b. SC, in the home of George W. and Amanda Smith. In 1870, George and Amanda Smith and family resided in Berrien Cty GA, a neighboring county to Lowndes Cty GA. Would like to exchange information with descendants of this family.

C.G.G.S. QUARTERLY SURNAME INDEX VOL. 24, FOR THE YEAR 2002

Note: This surname index covers Quarterlies No. 1 through No. 4 for the year 2002. Pages 1-64 are in No. 1, Pages 65-124 are in No. 2, Pages 125-185 are in No. 3 and Pages 186-236 are in No. 4. A dash between page numbers means that the name also appears on each page between such numbers. For example, 5-10 means that the name appears on pages 5,6,7, 8,9, and 10. Check very carefully for a name may appear more than one time per designated page. Surnames are spelled in many forms. Look for all imaginable spellings. Feagan is spelled at least four different ways, including Faygan. There are times when the same document will have a surname spelled two different ways. A surname may be spelled the way the recorder heard it and be very different from the spelling that your family uses today. I suggest that you run down the complete index listing and see if any strange spellings show up for your surname.

MUSCOGEE TILLER vs FRANCIS BACON & JEFFERSONIA, his wife Bill for discovery, account ...
Dismissed on appeal. The court having decided that act of the Legislature of the State of Georgia p... in the year 1816 to prevent the estate of illegitimacy from inheriting did not provide for cases where there was a legitimate child & the estate of a bastard brother or sister was to be distributed & that in such a case the common law was not altered by our statutes. In this case it was proven by the testimony of THOMAS M. ELLIS that the said JEFFERSONIA was the only legitimate child & that all the other children were bastards provided for in the will of COL. HAWKINS. The defendants by their answers and exhibits shows that two of said Bastards provided for in the will ... GEORGIA & CAROLINA HAWKINS, dec'd. & that their estate which had been willed them by their father was divided between the defendants & the other surviving illegitimates. The complainants contended that this was illegal that the defendants could not be heirs to the said deceased & that the said complainants is therefore entitled to her portion or distribution share of the estate of the said GEORGIA & CAROLINA. She with them being illegitimates & thereof entitled as heirs under the Statute of Georgia to the exclusion of the said legitimate sister, JEFFERSONIA, which position having been over-ruled by the court. Whereby the said JEFFERSONIA is permitted to receive & inherit an equal part of the estate of her sisters, GEORGIA & CAROLINA with her illegitimate brother & sisters...

Eubank's Spring, Hancock Co.

In trying to locate the home place of the John and Jane Reynolds family of Hancock Co., GA, I have encountered Eubank's Spring mentioned in several deeds from the 1830's and 1840's. These deeds refer to land on the waters of Beaverdam Creek near Powelton. Colbert's mill and Irwin's mill are named in deeds of this same area. Early tax digests refer to lands on Lick Creek in northeast Hancock Co. that I believe may be near this same area. Would like to hear from anyone who knows the location of these ANY of the above named landmarks.

(Compiler Note: This was William H. Nobles. Elizabeth's maiden name was Scarborough. She died 6 February 1916 at the State Prison in Milledgeville. As no one claimed her body she was buried at the Prison Cemetery. Before she died she was said to be a model prisoner. My understanding was that she was in charge of the sewing division where she worked. William Nobles was my great-great uncle and for years he laid at Cool Springs with only a foot marker. His grave now has a slab and is marked with a Confederate Marker. Peace to his ashes.)

Allen G. Simmons Bible

Contributed by Deborah Lynch
[redacted]

This is believed to be the family Bible of Allen G. Simmons & Mary "Polly" Simmons. The Bible is not completely intact and there are some pages missing. The Bible is a King James version, published by Summer & Goodman in 1846. Entries have been made by several generations of the family. This Simmons family lived in Crawford Co., Ga. for many years. The Bible was rescued by Martha Augustus "Gussie" Long McManus when it was found in an old barn and was about to be thrown away. Since her death in 1959, it has been in a trunk of her belongings in the attic of her son, James Green McManus, Jr. of [redacted]. In addition to the Bible entry pages, there was inserted into the Bible a piece of paper with family information written by Gussie. Allen G. Simmons was the son of Annie King and William Simmons. William was born in Virginia in 1745, came to Georgia and was a resident of this state at the time of the American Revolution in which he fought. Mary "Polly" Cleveland Simmons was the daughter of William Cleveland. The Bible of William Cleveland Simmons, Allen's son, was published in the CGGS quarterly of 2001, Vol. 23, no. 4.

Before CHRIST cir. 161.

by arms, but even as it seemeth good to him, he giveth it to such as are worthy:

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this manner; O Lord, thou didst send thine Angel in the time of Ezekias king of Judea, and didst slay in the host of Sennacherib a hundred fourscore and five thousand:

23 Wherefore now also, O Lord of heaven, send a good angel before us for a fear and dread unto them;

24 And through the might of thine arm let those be stricken with terror, that come against thy holy people to blaspheme. And he ended thus.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him came forward with trumpets and songs.

26 But Judas and his company encountered the enemies with invocation and prayer.

27 So that fighting with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men: for through the appearance of God they were greatly cheered.

28 Now when the battle was done, returning again with joy, they knew that Nicanor lay dead in his harness.

29 Then they made a great shout and a noise, praising the Almighty in their own language.

30 And Judas, who was ever the chief defender of the citizens both in body and mind, and who continued his love toward his countrymen all his life, commanded to strike off Nicanor's head, and his hand with his shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem.

31 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were of the tower,

32 And shewed them vile Nicanor's head, and the hand of that blasphemer, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy temple of the Almighty.

33 And when he had cut out the tongue of that ungodly Nicanor, he commanded that they should give it by pieces unto the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple.

34 So every man praised toward the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanor's head upon the tower, an evident and manifest sign unto all of the help of the Lord.

36 And they ordained all with a common decree in no case to let that day pass without solemnity, but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which in the Syrian tongue is called Adar, the day before Mardocheus' day.

37 Thus went it with Nicanor: and from that time forth the Hebrews had the city in their power. And here will I make an end.

38 And if I have done well, and as is fitting the story, it is that which I desired: but if slenderly and meanly, it is that which I could attain unto.

39 For as it is hurtful to drink wine or water alone; and as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: even so speech finely framed delighteth the ears of them that read the story. And here shall be an end.

Who were the parents of Elijah Etheridge, b. 1810 NC and md. Arrany ?, b. 1812 GA. He died 1850-1860. They were in Houston Co., GA. What was the maiden name of Arrany? There are two Elijah Etheridges is Crawford Co., GA. that left wills. One married a Hardison. Neither is my husband's great-great grandfather, Elijah.

GIBSON

Who were the parents of Cornelius Gibson, b. 1805 in NC, d. after 1880? He married Permelia "Millie" Lamb, d/o Richard. They were in Henry Co., GA, and went to Chambers Co., AL. Their son was James Monroe Gibson, a CSA soldier who is buried in LaGrange, Ga.

I am missing names of some of their 17 children and the name of an adopted child. In 1850 James Douglass, b. 1767 in GA.,is listed first in Bibb Co., GA census with this family. Seeking proof that this James is indeed the father of George. Or is James the s/o Mary Ann and George Douglass (b. 1801) of Hancock Co., Ga. Is this George the son of immigrant David Douglass, the Tory?

AVERITT – THOMPSON

Delila Averitt, b. 1810 md. Matthew Thompson in Thomas Co., Ga. He was b. 1808 in NC. This couple moved to Russell Co., AL. I have a glass photo of one of the Thompson sons with one of his grandfathers. The grandfather appears to be the same man who is identified in a Russell Co., AL photo as Matthew Averitt. Both Matthews were in Putnam Co., GA earlier. Does anyone have further proof that Matthew is Delilah's father? A daughter was so desperate to carry on the name Matthew that she named the third daughter Matthew but she was called Martha or Mattie.

JACKSON – HARRISON

Joel Jackson, b. 1790 and d. 1841 in Taliaferro or Greene Co. Joel m. Mary Ann Harrison who was b. 1791 and d. after 1840. The couple married in 1812 in Oglethorpe Co., GA. I am unable to find Joel's parents after years of searching. Mary Ann was the daughter of Mary H. Harrison, widow of a Revolutionary soldier. Her will left daughter Mary Ann Jackson $5.00 and everything else to son John Harrison. He was b. 1788 in Va. and d. 1875 in Taliaferro Co.. Family tradition says they were from Virginia. This Joel was in Franklin Co., GA, 1818 – 1835. I believe that the Joel Jacksons listed in Wilkinson Co. 1820 and Screven Co., are entirely different men. Seeking information to sort out this family.

MEMBERSHIP OF POPLAR SPRINGS NORTH BAPTIST CHURCH, LAURENS COUNTY, GA, DURING THE FIRST 100 YEARS

Compiled by R. M. Johnson

Poplar Springs North Baptist Church was constituted on Saturday, August 1, 1807 (under the name Poplar Spring Baptist Church), by 32 pioneers in the wilderness of newly formed Wilkinson County, GA. Laurens County was formed a few months later and the church became a part of that new county. It has the distinction of being the first church of any denomination in both counties, and perhaps the first west of the Oconee River in Georgia.

The Church is located on GA Highway 336, between U.S. Highways 80 and 441. The address is 289 Highway 338, Dublin, GA 31021.

The following is a list of members received in the church during the first 100 years, August 1807 through December 1907, as taken from HISTORY OF POPLAR SPRINGS NORTH BAPTIST CHURCH, by R. M. Johnson.

Symbols with the first date (the date the person was received), or where the first day should be, indicate: (2x) - denotes the number of times the person was a member of the church. For these cases the original joining date and the final disposition date are given; ? - date of affiliation never given in the records; CM - Charter Member on 1 August 1807; E -received by experience and was baptized; L - received by letter from another church.

Symbols with the second date (date of disposition), or where the second date should be, indicate: ? - no record of disposition (the person either died or the Clerk failed to record other disposition); L - dismissed by letter to another church; D - died; DR - dropped from the rolls (joined a non-Baptist church); Exc - excommunicated.

Meeks Family Bible

Transcribed by Nancy Hattaway Miller

This transcription was made from LDS microfilm (FHL US/CAN 329,976, Item 7). The Bible was filmed as part of a project of the Washington County Historical Society in the 1960s to microfilm all available Washington County Family Bibles. At the time of microfilming (1963) the Bible was in the possession of Fronie Franks May (Mrs. J. R.), of [redacted]. The copy is very hard to read, with much bleed through of ink and handwriting that is difficult to decipher. Several different handwriting styles are evident. Text in square brackets is the transcriber's comments. Difficult to read items are indicated with question marks [?].

CARR - JOHNSON - LOVETT

Samuel Carr m. 2nd Mary Ann Lovett in Houston Co., Mar. 1833 and moved to Wilkinson Co. ca 1835 with daughter Elizabeth b. 1834 (m. Samuel Merideth). Mary Ann & Samuel had twins b. 1838, Sarah Ann (m. James Cross) & Saphronia (m. Wm Cross). Samuel died in 1843 and his estate was shared by his wife, Mary Ann & Hiram Carr, his son by previous marriage. Mary Ann married 2nd Robert B. Johnson who had sons, James H. & Isaac F. Johnson. Mary Ann & Robert had sons Green B. (b. 1845) & Wm. J. (b. 1847). All were on 1850 census in Wilkinson Co. but none on Ga. census in 1860 or later. I need help on what would be the most practical first step in search for what happened to any or all listed here. Would appreciate any help.

(Editor's Note: The following is a response to Mrs. Beale Denton's query in the last issue of the quarterly. She had asked for help in locating a Matilda family cemetery.)

Dear Mrs. Denton: The Jones County cemeteries have been surveyed and are all on a web site: www.oldcapitol.gcsu.edu
This website is a listing of graves in Memory Hill Cemetery, Milledgeville, GA, and the Jones county website is one of the links to it. Hancock County is also being surveyed and is another link. The last few times I've used the website I haven't been able to get it by typing in the address above. For some reason it won't work, at least on my computer. But I did get it by typing in "Milledgeville, Georgia" in the "Search" window, and getting all the websites about Milledgeville, then clicking on "Memory Hill Cemetery" . Try this, and when you get the Memory Hill website, click on 'related links". I just looked at the Jones County website and couldn't find any of the names you mentioned, but you might recognize the cemetery by another name. And there are a number of cemeteries listed as "unnamed cemetery". I used the information on the website just last weekend to find the grave of a relative buried in Jones Co. in 1828, which I had looked for previously and failed to find. The website gave exact directions to the cemetery, and this time I found it.
Good luck, Stephen Johnson, [redacted]

DANIEL - JONES

James Daniel was born 16 May 1808, md. Jane Jones 11 May 1830 in Jasper Co., GA. and died 20 July 1864 in Clayton Co., Ga. Can anyone provide the names of his parents? Is he related to Wilson Daniel? The two men married half sisters.

FORT - BECKHAM

Zachariah Cox Fort was born in Ga. 12 Feb. 1795. He was s/o Arthur Fort and Susannah Tomlinson Whitehead Fort. He married Amanda Beckham probably in Twiggs Co., Ga. Who are her parents? I am also seeking the death dates for this family.

Indexes for CGGS Quarterly

The CGGS quarterly has been published every year since 1978 and is a rich source of history and genealogical information for the central Georgia area. Many CGGS members and nonmembers contributed articles, cemetery records, Bible records, pedigree charts, deeds, wills, queries, photographs, family histories and obituaries. Unfortunately, there is not a comprehensive index to the set. Listed below are the indexes that do exist. Hopefully, this finding aid will be helpful in your research.

A subject index covering 1978 to 1992 can be found in Vol. 15, issue #1 (1993).
Issues from 1993, 1994 and 1995 are surname indexed for the year in issue #4 of that year. (Vols. 15, 16, 17)
The surname index for Vol. 18 (1996) is in issue #2 of Vol. 19 (1997).
The surname index for Vol. 19 (1997) is in issue #2 of Vol. 20 (1998).
Beginning with Vol. 20 (1998) the surname index for the year is found in issue #1 of the following year.

Many back issues of the quarterly are available. The cost is $2.50 each for members and $4.00 each for nonmembers plus postage, handling and tax. Copies may be ordered from the society, P.O. Box 2024, Warner Robins, Ga. 31099-2024.

Old Georgia county maps

If you like to use maps in your research check this site for old county maps of Georgia. Although the maps are not very large or detailed, many show communities and towns that do not appear on present day maps. Most counties have maps from many different time periods on this site.

I Elijah Stevens being of advanced age but with sound mind, make this my Last Will and Testament.
I give to my wife all my estate, real and personal, to dispose of 2/8 of the whole as she pleases, the other 6/8 to be disposed of at her death as follows:
One-eight share to the children of my deceased son West W. Stevens.
One-eighth share to my son Miles Stevens now living in Texas. If he is deceased, the shares go to his children.

One-eighth share to daughter Eliza R. Oslen.

I appoint my wife Executrix and authorize and empower her to give off a part or whole of the above shares, or keep all as long as she pleases. I recommend her to take care of herself and keep enough to live on comfortable in her old age.

SHILOH METHODIST CHURCH CEMETERY
PRESENT DAY PEACH COUNTY, GEORGIA

Helen S. Hudson

SHILOH CEMETERY
EST. 1831

The land for Shiloh Methodist Church was deeded May 27, 1831 with Henry Wimberly and his wife Nancy as Grantors and Thomas Doles, J.M. John, John Jones, Henry Wimberly, David Jamison (all of Houston County) being listed as Grantees. The deed states that the Grantees listed are acting as Trustees for the Methodist Episcopal Church at Shiloh. A "physical" description of the land is a meets and bounds description with a few clear descriptive phrases to help with the location. Following is a brief summary of this description: Starting near the center of lot 61, the east line running north and south at a certain Hickory tree near the line and running south 2 acres thence due west, 1 acre thence due north 2 acres and thence east to Hickory tree so as to make 2 acres. The deed states that it was "for as long as the Methodist Episcopal Church may wish to continue the same as church or place of preaching". It was witnesses by D. Jamison and James Netherland and was signed by Henry and Nancy Wimberly. Matthew Sikes was the Justice of Peace at the time of the filing of the deed. This deed is on file at the Houston County Courthouse in Perry, Georgia. The church building is gone. The land is no longer owned by the Trust. It was a part of the Dan Gunn estate at the time of his death.

This piece of property is now located in a wooded area at the edge of a field just inside Peach County. On the East side of it there is a large ditch, then a wood fence that borders a mobile home park. On the south and side it is all wooded at the present time. There is a field that curves around the north side with woods the field to the west of the area. The only way into the cemetery is a dirt field road that is presently impassible if it has rained. A new subdivision is being built on the west side of the dirt road which may help with access or may prove to be another problem. It appears that some type of development is being planned for the east side of the road too. Directions to the cemetery are as follows: From the intersection of Watson Blvd./247 Connector and Highway 41, head north on Highway 41 turn onto the first paved road (White Road) on the left past Eagle Springs Elementary School. The field road is the first on the left off of White Road. Gravel has been put down for a few yards then it is all dirt. Take this road straight south and it will lead you to the cemetery. The "front" part of it has been maintained but once you get beyond that portion it is very grown up. If you visit during the warmer months be careful of snakes. We turned over one headstone and found a small snake curled up beside his hole. It never moved but it did serve as a reminder that care needs to be taken in moving anything that is on the ground.

If you have a free day, a few hours even, and would like to help clear off the graves of some of the settlers of this area, take your heavy duty clippers, saws, rakes, weed cutters (a heavy duty blade is needed, the string type just will not do too much), gloves and join in this project. There are veterans from the Civil War, WWI and WWII buried in this historical cemetery. Their wives and families lie with them. Dates of the burials range from 1855 to 1957. A few graves have had new markers added. We also found what appeared to be a foot marker made of wood. I think that when we get more cleared, we will find more markers since some appear to have been buried under leaves, etc for a number of years. (The "snake" grave was apparent only because of the foot marker being upright.) The pins that held some of these grave markers together have deteriorated and the upright part of them had fallen over. Several years of leaves and they are invisible. The hickory trees mentioned in the deed have spread and so have other species. It would be an extreme fire hazard to burn anything at the site.

Surnames that are known to have grave sites in this cemetery are: Kemper, White, O'Neal, Akin, Tucker, Newell, Doles, Patterson, Bartlett, Thompson, Thomson, Bassett, Bagby, Clark, Ezell, Pattishall, Johnson, Northern, Warren, Holleman, Etheridge, Slocumb, Dinkins, Fretwell, Walker, Gunn, Statham, Brown, Burnam, Babb and John. There probably are others but they have not been found yet. If your family has had members buried there, please let us know. We are trying to collect information on all the burials. We have also been told that there may be slave burials in the southwestern part of the cemetery but have nothing other than a story to go on. There are many sinks of the correct size to be a grave located in the area.

People who have participated in this project so far are: Sherrie and Hugh Nelson, Rudy Dennis, Glenn Heck, Millard Simmons, Don and Addie Howell, Helen Hudson, Jon Belcher, Marsha and Bill Meyer, Joyce and Sandy Green, and Haley Flanders.

This is the G.P. Doles lot before we cleared any of the brush, vines, etc. The second photo shows Rudy Dennis and Jon Belcher hard at work clearing this lot.

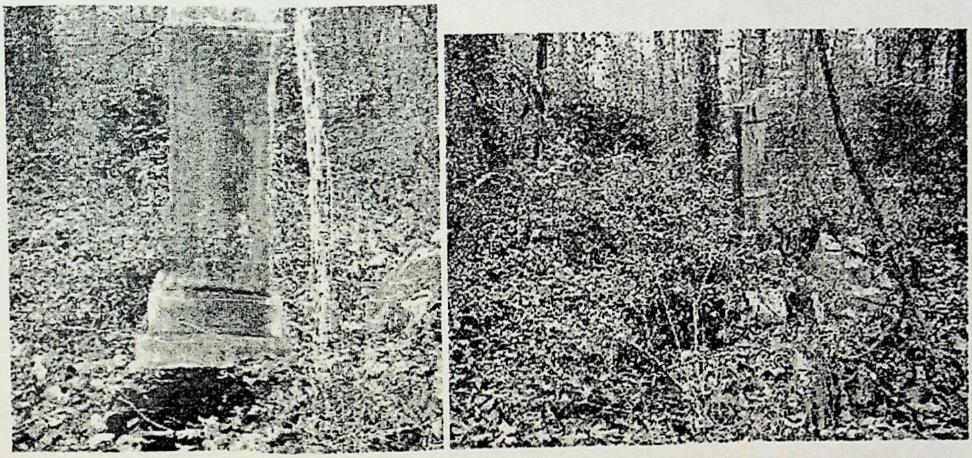
The foot marker was spotted and there was Sol Patterson who had never been listed in any of the other surveys of this cemetery.



Close view of the marker for Eliza Babb. The second photo shows the state of this grave site. This burial did not appear on any of the surveys in spite of having such a large marker.

An obvious grave, no marker only a sink with an iron fence around it. Room for one grave only.

Addie has contacted the Peach County Commissioners and we hope to get some assistance from them in hauling the brush that has been cut off of the site. Small trash (bottles, cans, etc.) is being taken out each work day and larger trash has been piled up for later removal.

For more information contact any of the officers of CGGS. The Houston County, Georgia rootsweb site http://www.rootsweb.com/~gahousto/shiloh.htm has some pictures taken during cleanups and in addition to the few published here will give you an idea of the job that needs to be done.

CLARK - BROWN

My ggg-grandmother, Lucretia Cross Clark (widow of David Clark) married Williams Brown in 1854. Her daughter, Mary Lucretia Clark married RDW (Richard) Brown 8 Ap 1860. I am trying to determine whether this Richard Brown was the son of Williams Brown (there was a Richard in the Williams Brown family listed in the 1850 census). Mary Lucretia and Richard Brown had the following children listed in the Houston Co. Census, 1870: David H. (? W), 9 yr; Lyllie(s?), 7 yr.; Amory, 5 yr.; Laura, 2 yr. and Mary, 2 mo. Also listed in the household were: Caroline Marchman, 30 yr (w), and Sallie Calhoun, 10 yr (w) domestic servant.

TILL - JONES

According to a quote from Kate Coleman Hodge in A Land so Dedicated, by Bobbe Hickson Nelson, my ggg-grandfather, Henry Till and his wife Becky were early settlers in Houston Co., and when he died (1865) Henry "...owned a large number of slaves (38) and his lands (1600 acres) extended for more than two miles along the National Highway." Henry and Becky moved to Georgia from S.C. after the birth of their first child, about 1833. I have the CGGS Land Records publications for Houston Co. through 1839, but I cannot find evidence of the described Till land holdings; in the 1850 census, the Till family lived in the Henderson District. Are there published land records for the period: 1840 – 1865? Henry Till died intestate (1865), and the disposition of his estate, described in the Court Minutes, is quite sketchy. Becky and Henry's daughter, Rebecca, married (12/07/1848) my gg-grandfather, Rev. John David Clark (son of David Clark) who was ordained at the Henderson Methodist church.

The Till's youngest daughter, Amanda, married Andrew Penuel Jones, 26 July, 1866. Does anyone have information about Andrew P. Jones' family?

CLARK

My ggg-grandfather, David Clark, b. 1779 'somewhere' in N.C., migrated to Houston Co.(probably via Washington Co, Ga) about 1825. He is linked with James Clark as early pioneers in Houston Co. by Bobbe Hickson Nelson. Some of their land holdings were in close proximity. Larry (Leary) Manning married a daughter (Louisa) of James Clark, and is listed with Henry Till and Dr. Edward T. McGehee as "trusty friends" in David Clark's will. In his will (1844), James left a portion of Land Lot #290 to his son, James David Clark; this is separated by 1 land lot (#299) from land lot #332, owned by David Clark. One of James' orphans, Henry Clark, was in the household of Dr. E.T McGehee (appointed guardian, 1849) in the 1850 census. Irwin Walden (husband of Martha Cross Walden – sister of David Clark's wife, Lucretia) was appointed guardian (1846) of person and property of Augustus Howard Clark, another orphan of James Clark. The Walden family moved to Dooly Co. abt 1850.
Does anyone have information about James Clark's migration to Houston Co.?
Is it possible that James and David Clark were related?

C.G.G.S. QUARTERLY SURNAME INDEX VOL. 25, FOR THE YEAR 2003

Note: This surname index covers Quarterlies No. 1 through No. 4 for the year 2003. Pages 1-56 are in No. 1, Pages 57-108 are in No. 2, Pages 109-160 are in No. 3 and Pages 186-212 are in No. 4. A dash between page numbers means that the name also appears on each page between such numbers. For example, 5-10 means that the name appears on pages 5,6,7, 8,9, and 10. Check very carefully for a name may appear more than one time per designated page. Surnames are spelled in many forms. Look for all imaginable spellings. There are times when the same document will have a surname spelled two different ways. A surname may be spelled the way the recorder heard it and be very different from the spelling that your family uses today. I suggest that you run down the complete index listing and see if any strange spellings show up for your surname. I may have misspelled it, the abstractor may have misread it or the original recorder may have written it differently from what you are used to seeing today.

A couple of entries in the Poplar Springs Church listings had the word "colored" listed along with the persons surname. Since this is not the way other listing that were obviously for slaves appeared, I have placed them in this index under their surname with (colored) by it to help anyone who may be searching for these ancestors who may have been "free persons of color".

New clues in old records: The Axwell and Bustin families of Virginia

Contributed by Hunt Sanders

The Axwell and Bustin families of Norfolk Co, Va. have been studied and researched by genealogists (amateur and professional) for a number of years. There has been an accepted theory that Thomas Axwell in his will dated 1 December 1678 was naming his grandchildren when he left "Xtopher Bustians Sonne and daughter one Cow calve apeese". Thomas Axwell's daughter, Elizabeth, married Christopher Bustin, Sr., and the couple had three known children: Christopher, John and Mary. It has been accepted that Thomas Axwell's will contained a transcription error since Christopher Bustin was known to have had two sons (not "Sonne") and one daughter.

However, research in the court Records of Norfolk Co. has revealed details that provide a more complete understanding of the relationships of the principals named in the will. The calf that Thomas Axwell bequeathed to 'Christopher Bustin's son and daughter', is again referred to in Norfolk Co. court records of 16 Feb 1679/80:

"Wm Bustians mark Croopt on both ears and outr heales on boath Ears and a slitt in the right being a Cow Calve given him by Tho Axolls will...Eliz Bustian her mark Cropt on boath Ears, Slitt in the left and hole in the Right being also a Cow Calfe given her by Thomas Axwells will..."(LDS microfilm # 0032825, Norfolk Co, Va. Deeds and Wills, Book 4, p71a.)

Christopher Bustin, Jr., the grandson of the above Thomas Axwell had three known children: William, Christopher and Thomas. From the reference quoted above, the conclusion can be made that in his will Thomas Axwell was referring to his great-grandchildren, William and Elizabeth Bustin (children of Christopher Bustin, Jr.), and not to his grandchildren. The new and valuable information also obtained from this reference to the cows is that Christopher Bustin, Jr. had a daughter Elizabeth (not previously known) and that William and Elizabeth were born before 1 December 1678, the date of Thomas Axwell's will.

Note: Book 4 of Norfolk Co. Deeds and Wills also contains court records.

Mr Lionel Brown authored the following interesting facts about the Fitzgerald children:

- Ann Elizabeth and Sophia Fitzgerald married brothers Joel Wyatt and Ephraim Shinfield Mann. Ann Elizabeth and Joel were prominent citizens of Perry, Houston County, GA and had a large family. Ann Elizabeth and Joel Mann are buried at Evergreen Cemetery in Perry GA. Read more about this family in the Houston County Georgia Heritage Book published in 2001.
- Eliza Fitzgerald Miller appears on the 1880 Pulaski County, Georgia Census in the household of Ephraim and Sophia Mann.
- Dr. Edmund Fitzgerald married first Louisa M. Weed. She died in Feb 1865. He married second Eugenia Tucker Cochran (a widow of Judge Arthur E. Cochran). Eugenia Tucker Fitzgerald founded the Adelphean Society at Wesleyan Female College in Macon GA in 1851. This organization was the forerunner of today's college sororities. Dr. Fitzgerald along with Louisa and Eugenia Fitzgerald are buried in the Fitzgerald family plot in Rose Hill Cemetery in Macon, Georgia. Read more about Eugenia Tucker Fitzgerald on these websites www.adpiucf.com/id35.htm or www.ashland.edu/~adpi/eugenia.html or www.geocities.com/adpi1983/history2.html
- Mary Jane Fitzgerald married Reverend John Moore Bright, a Methodist preacher and circuit rider in Georgia. He was a brother of Reverend George Bright, another well-known Methodist circuit rider in Georgia at this time.
- Samuel H. Fitzgerald served in the 11th Georgia Regiment, Co. K in the Confederate Army. S. H. Fitzgerald died in Hawkinsville, Pulaski County, Georgia in Aug 1888.

MALONE

Looking for Malone family information of Fayette County, Georgia. William Malone was born 1820 and was in the Civil War. One of his sons was Hugh Preston (H.P.) Malone born 1873. Hugh seems to have gotten in to trouble with the law in March of 1893 as reported by the Atlanta Constitution newspaper. Somehow he came to Southwest Louisiana in 1897 and married my Great Grandmother just across the river in Orange, Texas. He vanished before the 1900 census there. The next record I have on him is a 1920 Louisiana Census where he is living with his new wife and family in New Orleans. Looking for any info on this family in the late 1890's.
Also, would like to add that the Hugh Preston "Jack" Malone family finally settles in the town of Kentwood, Louisiana, early in the 1920's. Hugh Preston Malone dies there in 1945. His wife was Pinie Ester (Newman) Malone. Their children were: Myrtra b. 1906, William John b. 1907, Myrtle b. 1909, Houston Raymond b. 1912, Roy b. 1918, Preston R. b. 1919, Steve Benjamin b. 1921, George Ellis b. 1924.

GILSTRAP

My ancestor, John M. Gilstrap, died during the Civil War on December 3, 1863, of disease and I have heard he died at the Forsyth Courthouse in Monroe County. He was from White County and in Co. G of the 24th Georgia. Does anyone know of records of the CW hospitals in Forsyth that would document the patients?

Editor's Note: The Confederacy: A Guide to the Archives of the Government of the Confederate States of America by Henry P. Beers has information on records that survived, including those from the Medical Department, and the present location of those records. Established hospitals kept a number of records on patients, including registers, morning reports, prescription books, diet books, case books and sometimes registers of deaths. Information on individual soldiers was abstracted onto index cards that became part of the compiled service records. The Confederacy lists 17 hospitals in Georgia during the war, including four in Atlanta, two in Macon and three in Dalton, but Forsyth is not among the cities listed.

PARR - FERRELL - HEALEY

Searching for any information on Lucinda Parr of Greene Co., Ga. Lucinda was age 51 when she died of typhoid fever in Dec. 1859. She may have been mother to Frances and Zachariah Parr. Other possible children include: Winny, Eliza and James. This family was in Greene Co., Ga. ca. 1855-1860 working in the cotton mill at Scull Shoals. By 1862, Winny and James (and probably the others) are in Hancock Co., Ga. Frances Parr remained in Hancock Co. and married David Stephenton. Eliza and Zachariah both married in Muscogee Co., Ga. and lived in Alabama (Elmore Co. and Macon Co.) Eliza married 1st Charles Ferrall/Ferrell and 2nd William Healey. This family is believed to have come to Ga. from Tennessee. Wish to hear from any descendants of this family.

Correction to Bibb Co. Wills, CGGS quarterly no. 4, 2003

In the installment of the Bibb Co. Wills that appeared in the last issue of the quarterly, two lines of text were inadvertently omitted. The will of John B. Wiley begins on page 172 of the quarterly and continues on to page 173. With the omitted lines the will should read: "My negroes on Ala. Plantation to be brought and placed on my Houston Plantation. To beloved wife Ann G. Wiley, my house and lot in the city of Macon where I now reside, my household furniture and kitchen furniture, a due bill of Bowdre and Anderson for $838.00 which I have endorsed to her and $9,836.40 which I have had deposited to her credit in the Bank of Savannah in Macon." Thank you to Joyce Green for this correction and her continued work on this source.
